FIRST EXPLORERS — PEREZ IN 'SANTIAGO' SEEN BY HAIDAS OFF QUEEN CHARLOTTES (1774)

In the 18th century when the first explorations were being made of the northwest coast of this continent there were four nations actively interested in this region—Russia, Spain, Great Britain and the United States. The first to send explorers was Russia.

In 1741, with two ships he had built on the Siberian coast, Vitus Bering, a Dane serving with the Russian Navy, set off to cross the Pacific. Both ships sighted the mainland coast and mountains of Alaska but did not explore the coast.

From Spain's colony in Mexico, came the next explorers of our coast. Spanish colonists and missionaries had been moving northward from Mexico up the California coast establishing a string of settlements—San Diego, Monterey and finally San Francisco in 1776. In 1774 the Spanish authorities in Mexico sent a ship, the Santiago, under the command of Juan Perez (Pay Race) with instructions to explore the coast as far north as the 65th parallel of latitude and to note in particular where the Russians were settled. In the winter of 1774 Perez sailed as far north as the Queen Charlotte Islands which he sighted. He did not land, although (as in this picture) he met parties of Haida Indians in their great dugout canoes.

The next year (1775) Don Bruno Heceta (He Say-Ta) and Lieutenant Quadra took the Santiago and another ship, the Sonora, north again. They landed on the coast of Washington and formally took possession of the whole north west coast in the name of the King of Spain. In a fight with the Indians some of the Spaniards on the Sonora were killed but Quadra continued north as far as Alaska. None of the Spanish explorers so far had made a continuous exploration of the British Columbian coast. They had only sighted it at certain points.

FOR SCRAPBOOK CONTEST

Times Centennial Feature Tells Historic Moments

The pictorial panel on this page launches a special Times feature for the B.C. Centennial year.

For the next 38 weeks a panel depicting an event from the province's past will appear each Thursday.

The art work has been done by a Vancouver artist, Robert Banks, in co-operation with the B.C. Centennial Committee. The text is by Dr. F. H. Johnson and Prof. W. H. Auld of the UBC College of Education.

As a special attraction for children The Times is holding a scrapbook and coloring contest of the drawings.

The idea is to clip out the picture and text each week, paste it in a scrapbook and then color it the way you think it should be done.

Next November when the series is finished scrapbooks will be judged and a total of $100 in prizes will be paid in silver centennial dollars.

Here are the rules for the contest.

Judging will be done under two categories: Under 10 years of age, and 10 to 14 years. You are eligible if your 15th birthday does not occur before Dec. 1, 1958.

Prize list for each category will be the same.

First prize, $25; second, $10; third, $6; fourth, $4; two honorable mention prizes of $2 each and one of $1.

The Times will appoint a panel of judges whose decision will be final.

This is what to do:

1. Clip out each of the 38 drawings as they appear every Thursday in this newspaper. Color them and mount or paste them in any type scrapbook of your choice.
2. Pencils, crayons, water colors or any other coloring medium may be used.
3. Work should be the contestant's own, unassisted effort.
4. Do not submit any entry until the series is complete. Last date of entry will be announced later.
5. Judging will be on the basis of skill in handling coloring medium according to category of the entrant; taste, suitability and imagination. Originality and neatness will be main factors in judging the scrapbook presentation.
6. Each entry must be accompanied by name, address, telephone number and age of the contestant and birth date.
7. All boys and girls up to and including the age of 14 may enter, except Times employees and their relatives.

Orbit Doubtful, Satellite Hunted

CAPE CARNAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — "Moonwatch" teams stood by today for a sky search for the newly launched and mysteriously missing American satellite Explorer II.

At the same time the conviction grew that the six-inch metal cylinder, 80 inches long and weighing about 32 pounds, never achieved an orbit.

There were persistent reports that signals from the Jupiter-C launching rocket convinced some army missile experts, within the first hour after Wednesday's firing at 10.28 p.m. PST, that the final stage of the four-stage vehicle had failed to fire.

At Pasadena, Calif., the Jet Propulsion Laboratory which built the high-speed upper stages, issued this statement:

"The preliminary evidence is that the last stage did not produce any thrust. This means that it did not get up to velocity. And there is a great probability that it is not in orbit."

Experts said that failure of the final stage to fire on cue would have meant that the satellite, even though it was at orbital altitude of 200 or more miles, would achieve a velocity of only about three miles a second as against the five miles a second needed to maintain an orbit—10,800 miles an hour instead of 18,000.

This in turn could mean that the satellite would tumble into the South Atlantic, or into Africa or the Indian Ocean beyond.

In Washington Wednesday night Dr. Richard Porter, chairman of the earth satellite panel of the United States National Committee for the International Geophysical Year, said there were indications that the fourth stage did not function.

"There is other information, however, that it probably did and that the difficulty is more probably in the radio transmission equipment," Porter added.

YOUTH NABBED

Residence Of Princess Gate-Crashed

LONDON (AP) — A young man fought his way past a police guard and burst into the home of Princess Margaret today.

Policemen pounded through the house on the intruder's heels and caught him on the roof.

The princess was at home at the time in Clarence House, where she lives with the Queen Mother, who now is on tour in Australia.

Officials at Buckingham Palace said the princess didn't get a glimpse of the chase.

The man, about 30, had walked up to the policeman on the door mumbling warnings about a religious body. Suddenly he attacked the officer.

Other police came dashing out and the man brushed past them into the house.

After his capture he was taken to a police station and then sent to hospital for examination.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our gracious heavenly Father, Whose mercy knows no bounds or season, we pray today for men and women who are confined in the prisons of our land. Have mercy upon them in the harsh loneliness of their isolation from the encouragement and the inspiration of home and community. Bless the chaplains who seek to bring into their drab lives the consciousness of Thy redeeming love, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Schultz, Sommers 3 Firms Committed

Bribery Case To Go Before Assize Court

C. D. SCHULTZ

ROBERT SOMMERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two lumber companies and a forestry engineering executive were committed today to stand trial on bribery-conspiracy charges the Crown says involves large payments to former forests minister Robert Sommers.

Magistrate Oscar Orr in the 16th day of the police court preliminary hearing formally committed C. D. Schultz, Pacific Coast Services Ltd., and Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd.

They will stand trial — probably at the spring Assizes next month — along with Sommers and the C. D. Schultz Company Limited, who were committed Wednesday.

At the request of defence councel, J. R. Nicholson, the magistrate, withheld until Friday the formal committal of two more of the accused, the brothers John and H. W. Gray, who were executives of the Pacific and Evergreen Companies.

The magistrate agreed to hear defence argument next Wednesday in the case of B.C. Forests Products Limited, fourth company involved in the case in which the Crown charges that some $15,000 flowed to Sommers for his ministerial sanction of certain valuable timber licences.

The adjournment of this case was requested by the defence because of the absence of the company's chief counsel Walter Owen.

As in the case of Sommers, bail for Schultz and H. W. Gray, who have been at liberty on $5,000, was set at $10,000. Bail for John Gray who Magistrate Orr said appeared to have a "small part in a big undertaking" was left at $5,000.

Sommers, 47-year-old MLA for Rossland-Trail who resigned his portfolio in 1956 as a police investigation of the case began, spent a short time at police headquarters late Wednesday while his additional bail was raised and then returned to Victoria Wednesday night.

'Machinations on Bank Account'

Nicholson made a strong plea on behalf of John Gray saying there was no evidence of any intent on his part or evidence that he knew or even suspected that money and bonds were allegedly going to Sommers.

Prosecutor Stewart McMorran contested this saying that without John Gray and "his machinations on his bank account, this thing couldn't have been done the way it was."

The prosecutor said that John Gray was "an active participant in the whole affair—a small cog perhaps but a vital one."

The prosecutor traced various sums which flowed from John Gray's account to Evergreen and out again and said that the lumber company was used "only as a storehouse for illicit money to go to the minister."

B.C. Forests Products counsel D. McK. Brown remarked in asking for adjournment that under the law in any case no fine could be imposed on a company after two years of the alleged offence, though a conviction could take place.

Magistrate Orr remarked there was still doubt in his mind as to whether a limited company could commit the offence charged in the case.

The Crown charges that between October, 1953, and September, 1956, B.C. Forests products paid more than $100,000 to the Pacific and Schultz firms and that these companies split some of the funds with Sommers.

Ontario Shares Curling Lead With Alberta

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Saskatchewan, an alternately hot-and-cold rink skipped by young Gordon Grimes of Eston, today became the giant-killers in the Canadian curling championships.

The Grimes' rink turned on Matt Baldwin's Alberta rink to hand the defending champions their first loss in this 29th renewal of Brier Tankard competition.

The score, in doubt until Grimes' last rock, was 10-8.

The result, combined with Ontario's 10-10 victory over Nova Scotia in another game on this morning's round, suddenly put new life into the winter classic after Alberta, skipped by the 31-year-old Baldwin, appeared headed for a runaway victory in the 11-round playoffs.

MANITOBA CLOSE

Moving into this afternoon's round, Ontario and Alberta each showed 5-1 records, with Manitoba's teen-agers close behind. Skipped by Winnipeg's 18-year-old Terry Braunstein, Manitoba moved into contention with a 4-2 record as a result of their 10-8 victory over Quebec.

In other games this morning, New Brunswick posted its first victory in seven tries by trimming Northern Ontario's Ron Redding 10-6. Prince Edward Island rallied to defeat Newfoundland 12-10 on an extra end.

British Columbia, with Tony Gutoski flying a hometown standard in the event, had a bye this morning.

But the big story today was Saskatchewan's great comeback against Baldwin. Alberta appeared on their way to another victory after four ends, taking a 5-1 lead.

Saskatchewan, with all four members curling extremely well and taking full advantage of many Alberta mistakes, then statred hitting back. The 25-year-old Grimes came away with a three-ender on the fifth and, after giving Baldwin a single on the next end, tied the game in the seventh with a count of two.

TURNING POINT

They traded singles on the next two ends and then the game's turning point came on the 10th end. Grimes, who completely outclassed his highly-regarded rival, came through with a great double takeout to kill two Alberta shot rocks. Baldwin missed both of his shots and Grimes "stole" two points on the all-important 10th end.

Baldwin picked up one on the 11th, missing his try for two when he was light with his last rock.

Saskatchewan missed only one of their eight shots on the last end, giving Baldwin no chance to score, although the Edmonton skip did partially bury his last rock for shot stone. Grimes got a piece of that. However, with his last rock and Baldwin went down to his first defeat.

Canadians Smother Sweden

Tempers Flare, Officiating Scored

OSLO, Norway (CP) — Unbeaten Canada took a giant step toward the world hockey championship today by handing defending champion Sweden a 10-2 defeat before 7,000 fans—biggest crowd of the tournament.

Canada has won four straight and this was Sweden's first defeat in four games.

The brawling, hard-hitting match gave the favored Canadians an undisputed lead in the round-robin tournament. They now have eight points, one more than the Russians, who had held an edge in the standings briefly by virtue of a 10-1 victory over Poland earlier today.

Canada and Sweden were the only undefeated, untied teams before today's match.

The Russians, regarded as Canada's chief rivals, are undefeated in four games but they were held to a 4-4 tie by Czechoslovakia Tuesday.

BIG GOAL SPREAD

Besides its point lead, Canada has a whopping margin in goal spread, having scored 60 goals to only three against in four games. In case of a tie in points at the end of the eight-team, 10-day tournament, the championship will be decided by goal spread.

Finland defeated Norway 2-1 earlier today.

TERRIBLE OFFICIATING

Altogether, 13 two-minute penalties were handed out in the final period.

Afterwards, Canadian manager Wren Blair said "the officiating was terrible. I'm going to complain to the president of the International Federation. The referees are not giving the Canadians the protection they are entitled to."

Newport Wins

LONDON (Reuters) — Newport County beat Torquay United 3-2 at Newport today in a Third Division South soccer game. It was the only English Soccer League match scheduled.

Personality For Canada Near—Pearson

MONTREAL (CP) — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson said today Canada is heading toward a distinctive national personality "superior to that of the country to the south of us."

Addressing a luncheon meeting here, he said Canada must "go forward as a bi-cultural, bi-national and bi-lingual people."

"If you want to prove our superiority to an American," he said, "just answer his questions in French."

He spoke before an audience of about 700 party supporters including 14 Liberal candidates in Montreal ridings. He stressed a need for basing Canada's future on national unity—"on absolute equality of the two founding races, French and English."

U.S., Russia Closer—Envoy

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — Mikhail Menshikov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, said today the positions of both sides with regard to the convening of a summit conference "are closer than before."

Speaking at a luncheon at the National Press Club, he said: "We are sure that if the desire exists, it will be possible to reach agreement on the area of questions to be discussed at the conference.

"We are equally convinced that with goodwill it will be possible now to find joint decisions, if not on all, then at least on some of the international problems requiring immediate decisions."

Island Woman Dies After Highway Crash

A 62-year-old Vancouver Island woman died early this morning 15 hours after she was critically injured in a head-on highway collision that sent her husband and two Victoria men to hospital with serious injuries.

Mrs. William Wallace of Fanny Bay, died shortly after midnight in King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan, despite an emergency operating removing a sliver of glass from her brain.

Mrs. Wallace suffered head injuries, a crushed chest and fractures of both legs and an arm in the car-truck collision four miles south of Duncan at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Still in "fairly serious" condition are her 60-year-old husband and John Caird, 1905 Richardson. Mr. Wallace suffered a fractured skull. Mr. Caird, about 35, was said to be suffering partial paralysis from either a broken neck or back.

Listed in "less serious" condition is Milton Essihos, 1120 Burdett, who suffered head injuries.

All three survivors were reported "resting comfortably" today.

The accident occurred on the Island Highway when a car occupied by the two Victoria men was attempting to cut back into the traffic lane after failing to pass another vehicle, it was reported.

The elderly couple were riding in a small panel truck.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Wallace will be made by Hirst Funeral Directors here. No inquest has been scheduled so far.

New Tension in Korea As U.S. Jet Shot Down

PANMUNJOM, Korea (CP) —The North Koreans finally released today 26 passengers and crew members, including two American pilots, kidnapped by the Communists in flight, but simultaneously the shooting down of an American jet fighter produced new Korean tension.

The release of all but eight aboard the South Korean airliner which landed in the Communist north Feb. 16 was held up for hours because of bickering over the release receipts the Communists wanted signed. The other eight elected to stay in North Korea, and some of them were accused by the South Koreans of having hijacked the plane to take them to the Communist side.

One of the South Korean passengers, Maj. Chung Moo Yung, said the plane was seized by Communist agents, one armed with a .45-calibre pistol and another with a rifle. The major said he was wounded in the head during the struggle.

As the freed group crossed the demarcation line, however, came word of the shooting down of a United States Air Force F-86 Sabre jet by what the U.S. called "Communist ground fire" near the demilitarized zone.

The pilot was seen parachuting "just over the Communist side of the line," the air force said.

The brief announcement did not say whether the pilot hit the ground safely. Nor did it make clear whether "just over the Communist side of the line" meant in the Communist half of the 2½-mile-wide demilitarized truce zone, or in the North Korean side of the zone.

The Sabre was one of two on a low-level simulated ground support training mission. The other pilot returned safely.

The air force withheld the names of both pilots and began an investigation together with the United Nations command.

The air force said further information would have to come from the UN command, indicating that delicate armistice questions were involved.

NORMAN CRIBBENS

IN THE LEGISLATURE

Our Social Credit government has the biggest and best of everything, according to Leo Nimsick, the lively CCF member for Cranbrook.

Mr. Nimsick told the house he was so used to superlatives from the government he would not be surprised if it claimed to have the biggest teacher shortage.

Everyone laughed, of course, but Mr. Nimsick continued merrily along his theme. He said the teacher shortage in British Columbia would continue indefinitely unless the government adopted a long-term policy on teacher training.

Both Britain and New Zealand had subsidized the training of teachers and Canada took advantage of this by luring their trained teachers over here.

"The least we can do is to adopt a similar system ourselves," he declared.

Leslie Peterson—probably the youngest education minister the province has ever seen—had a ready reply for Mr. Nimsick.

"It is true," he said, "that everyone likes to come to B.C. and that includes teachers from Britain, New Zealand, the United States and other parts of Canada.

"But I would point out that we do not lure teachers away from their homelands. We only interview teachers who have already expressed a desire to come to this province."

Mr. Peterson said English teachers wishing to come here usually addressed their inquiries to British Columbia House in London or direct to the government.

And then, fixing Mr. Nimsick with a challenging eye, he added that the CCF government in Saskatchewan had adopted an "even more vigorous recruitment of teachers from England.

"The only drawback to this program is that after a while in Saskatchewan the teachers are usually glad to come out to British Columbia."

Whether the young minister was referring to Saskatchewan's politics or its climate was not revealed. You could take it either way.

Randolph Harding, another provocative CCFer, said the famous Russian Sputniks pointed to a new concept of education.

"They have shown us that because we have been living in a very progressive civilization does not mean we shall always be in the lead. Unless we have a highly-trained and equipped army of people we cannot hope to keep our place in a technological world."

Mr. Harding urged the government to provide more substantial grants to encourage students in the "higher" fields of education.

Throughout this debate on estimates for the ministry of education, Premier Bennett displayed an almost extraordinary agility.

At one moment we saw him in the Premier's time-honored chair. At another he had vaulted into the seat vacated by Robert Sommers—the most controversial figure in the House—next to Mrs. Buda Brown, the kindly Socred member for Point Grey.

Then, almost before you could turn a page in your notebook, he suddenly manifested on the other side in the chair normally filled by Alex Matthew, the benevolent member for Vancouver Centre, who was doing duty as committee chairman.

In a House of tired people, the Premier insists on looking blithe and carefree. Whether he really feels that way or is striving to keep up morale is a matter for conjecture.

Back in his rightful place, the premier rose at least a dozen times to close off debate, but before he could separate himself from his chair by more than three inches, another speaker would add the "one word more, brethren."

"There is still room for speculation," began Gordon Dowding, the CCF member for Burnaby.

"It's too late for speculation," interrupted a government member . . .

Gordon Wismer, former attorney general and a pioneer of the Borstal system in B.C., returned to the House as a guest and sat on the government side.

He was welcomed by Premier Bennett and Arthur Turner (CCF-Vancouver East) as an attorney-general of eight years' standing—probably the longest term ever served by any attorney-general in the province.

. . . SOMMERS

The magistrate's action came after conclusion of the Crown's case with witnesses to testify about alleged falsification of Schultz record books and removal of some of them for a time from the company's offices.

A former private secretary to C. D. Schultz, Thora Peterson, testified that on his instructions she took certain records home for a few days in February, 1955, to "remove them from circulation." She said they concerned minutes of private meetings about forest management licences and that later another employee removed from them letters pertaining to the licences.

The Crown's case is that Sommers while minister—he resigned in 1956 when the government ordered a police investigation—ook some $15,000 in bribes in return for ministerial sanction of certain forest management licences permitting the cutting of timber on Crown land.

The Crown also charges that all the accused were involved in the conspiracy and that there was an arrangement for a "three-way split" of certain funds among the Pacific and Schultz firms and Sommers. It has produced witnesses to testify the minister got cash, bonds and even rugs for his Victoria home.

Magistrate Orr denied a defence request that a substantial bond be posted to ensure the appearance in higher court of key Crown witness Charles Eversfield who now lives in Los Angeles. The magistrate said it was the prerogative of the Crown to ensure appearance of its own chief witness.

Eversfield was bookkeeper for the Pacific company between 1951 and 1955. When he left he took some 300 documents from Pacific files in photostatic and original form and these now form the basis of the Crown's case.

Eversfield, during six days on the witness stand denied defence suggestions that he attempted a $10,000 bribe of Pacific officials to keep quiet about the documents.

New Russ Summit Note Sent to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin sent President Eisenhower a new message today. It is reported to deal with negotiations for a summit conference and Eisenhower's bid to leading Russian citizens to visit the United States.

The message was delivered to State Secretary Dulles by Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov at 11 a.m. Dulles asked Menshikov to return to the state department later in the day to receive a U.S. note to Moscow on Russia's proposal for a pre-summit foreign ministers' meeting.

The U.S. note is expected to welcome Russia's agreement last week to hold a meeting of foreign ministers but to reject as totally unacceptable Soviet terms for such a meeting.

The United States objects particularly to an advance commitment to hold a summit conference. It also finds unacceptable Russia's insistence that the foreign ministers should be limited to talking about mechanical arrangements.

Menshikov told reporters he brought in a reply to Eisenhower's February 15 letter to Bulganin. He said the Bulganin reply "deals with the questions" in Eisenhower's February 15 letter. He declined to give any other details.

Victoria Day Parade Entry Forms Readied

Entry forms for the "greatest parade in Victoria's history" are now available at City Hall.

Greater Victoria Celebrations Association official, Mrs. Ethel Bishop, said today she has already mailed out 100 forms and expects requests for many more.

A big problem facing the association, she said, was billeting many of the youthful bandsmen who will come here for the May 19, Victoria Day parade.

With deadline for parade entries still months away (May 12), the GVCA office in City Hall is being swamped with entries from points throughout Vancouver Island, B.C. mainland and Pacific North Western states.

Local participation of bands, marching units, drill teams and floats, including a block-long entry by district firemen and greater-than-ever participation by the armed forces, is expected to break all records.

Arrangements have been made to ensure celebrations at Nanaimo will not detract from local parade entries. This year the Nanaimo parade will be held on May 17. Many local units will travel north and many units taking part in the Nanaimo event are expected to come here for the 19th.

Victoria Elks will again be in charge of the parade. Here are some of the attractions already booked:

The New Westminster May Queen entourage and float, the Seattle Police drill team, a group of 50 from Portland's Royal Rosarians, the 150-member Bellingham schools' band, the Mount Baker band from Deming, Wash., Cleveland High School Band from Seattle, Band (tentative), Anacortes High School Band, Nooksack Valley, Wash., schools' band, Vancouver Junior Band (tentative), Duncan Majorettes, Sidney Girls' Drill Team, a float from Kelowna.

All local drill teams and all Greater Victoria school bands, units, RCMP and numerous commercial organizations, are also signed up.

Persons able to provide billets and those wishing entry forms, should contact Mrs. Bishop at 2-3912.

All-Candidate Nanaimo Meet

DUNCAN—The Junior Chamber of Commerce here has arranged for a joint meeting of all four federal candidates in the Nanaimo riding to be held in Cowichan High School auditorium March 24.

Each candidate will be given time to present his party's election platform, followed by a question and answer period.

City Observatory Needs Advance Word on Satellite

The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here is seeking advance information on launchings of satellites so the observatory can co-operate in assembling data for the Dominion Observatory in Ottawa.

"We have to know beforehand when satellites are going to be launched in order to try and keep track of them," said DAO director Dr. R. M. Petrie today.

He said it was likely that Ottawa had some knowledge beforehand of launchings, but this would have to be made known here before the Little Saanich Mountain observatory could compile photographs.

"There has been no sign of the recently launched U.S. satellite Explorer II, as it was launched too far south for us to see favorably in this latitude," said Dr. Petrie, even if it made orbit.

When Sputnik was launched in October it was photographed by the observatory staff here.

ELECTION ROUNDUP

Pearson Woos 'Sacred Union'; PM Picketed

By The Canadian Press

Pipelines . . . protection . . . unemployment . . . Quebec's love affair with the Liberals . . . political realignments topics filled the air like snowflakes in Wednesday's campaign for the March 31 federal election.

At Chatham, Ont., Prime Minister Diefenbaker promised Canadian farmers protection against "the dumping proclivities of the Americans." Earlier at Windsor he was picketed.

Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson in Montreal said Quebec for the last 60 years has always sent a majority of Liberals to the House of Commons. He found this "sacred union" of his party with that province "evidence that the Liberals always recognized that a truly national government cannot exist without a sufficient number of French-speaking ministers."

Deputy CCF Leader Stanley Knowles, meantime, said at Moncton, N.B., that Canadians are recasting their political thinking.

"They realize that what we need is not two old parties, between whom there are no real differences, dominating Parliament while the CCF fights the battles of our workers and farmers from a third party corner in the House of Commons."

Saying his party could become the government or official opposition, he added:

"This election belongs to the CCF. We will emerge as a major party. The Liberals will go down still further. The CCF will come up."

Social Credit Leader Solon Low continued his labors in northern Alberta.

'Fantastic Exploitation of People'

CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell told a Vancouver audience private ownership of natural gas and oil pipeline companies has brought "the most fantastic exploitation of the Canadian people and insidious undermining of Canadian industry."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker spent a vigorous day shaking hundreds of hands in the Windsor area of Ontario. But he also found time to toss verbal snowballs at the Liberals.

"The Liberals have plans," he told an afternoon reception audience in a plush night club. "They say taxation should be cut. Why didn't they act when they had the power to do so?"

LABOR PICKETS

While he spoke, about 30 persons marched outside bearing placards with such inscriptions as: "Twice as many unemloyed since your last visit. What now John?" The picketing was sponsored by the Windsor Labor Council, which is backing the CCF.

At Chatham, Ont., Wednesday night Mr. Diefenbaker told an audience of 2,300 in that farming area his government "will not allow the Canadian farmer to be sacrificed by the dumping of agricultural products by the United States."

Mr. Pearson suggested to his Montreal audience that the Progressive Conservatives are not really a national party because they have no strong cabinet representation from Quebec and have never had a national party leader from that province.

Answering students' questions earlier in the day, he said shipments of Alberta oil into the Montreal district could be made economical.

But opening the Montreal market to Western Canada's oil would be only a "last resort" if the U.S. continued to restrict imports of oil from Canada. Doing so would not require any "great protection or subsidy of any kind."

At Vancouver, Mr. Coldwell said the Conservatives and Liberals won't do anything about the quick fortunes made by pipeline promoters at the public's expense.

THREE DAYS TO GO

Cleveland Drowning Near Holiday's End

Death while swimming at Hawaii came for Ernest Cleveland, 681 Transit Road, Victoria, only three days before he and Mrs. Cleveland were to return to Victoria after a four-week holiday.

Mr. Cleveland, who was 36, drowned Tuesday. He is believed to have suffered a heart attack in the water.

Mrs. Cleveland told relatives in Vancouver by phone Wednesday that her husband had been feeling much better after his three-week rest. He was in Hawaii recuperating from a heart condition.

Mrs. Cleveland said he felt so much stronger he decided to go for a swim, and apparently overdid it.

Cremation is taking place in Hawaii, and the ashes will be returned to Vancouver.

Funeral arrangements there have not been completed.

Mrs. Cleveland is expected in Vancouver Saturday. The three children, Mary, 8; Heather, 6, and Wendy, 4½, are in the care of a housekeeper at the family residence.

Cathedral Site For Courthouse

The Cathedral Hill site has been unanimously recommended as the most suitable for Victoria's new courthouse, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant announced Wednesday night.

He said both the Capital District Improvement Commission and the Capital Region Planning Board were agreed that the city's new courthouse should be built on this site.

"We have no reason to disagree with them," said Mr. Chant on behalf of the B.C. cabinet.

He added that the late John Hart, a former premier of British Columbia, had purchased the land for use by the city.

CREDIT TO HART

"Mr. Hart showed great foresight in doing this and I think we should give him the credit," Mr. Chant said.

The minister added that details of construction of the new courthouse would have to be worked out by the Capital District Improvement Commission.

"There is still no definite starting date," he said.

Mr. Chant added that it is hoped to "have the lieutenant-governor in residence" at the new Government House next fall."

'Capitalists' Vow Allegiance to Reds

HONG KONG (AP) — More than 9,000 self-styled capitalists in Peiping have vowed to turn themselves in two years into laborers and wage earners, Peiping radio reported today.

A resolution passed at a mass meeting Tuesday said they were determined to change their political standpoint, accept leadership of the Communist party, work for socialist construction and learn from the workers.

Retreat From a Blunder

MR. DIEFENBAKER HAS WISELY retreated from an outright attack on the powers of Parliament and flatly repudiated a policy announced by his ministers some weeks ago.

When Parliament was hastily dissolved the Government was compelled to spend money without parliamentary approval. Between the dissolution of the old and the beginning of the new Parliament the Government will spend about a billion dollars by what are called Governor's warrants, money granted by the Crown without the prior consent of Parliament.

There is nothing wrong about this. The same method has been used whenever the nation was without a Parliament. But since Confederation every Government, on meeting the next Parliament, has submitted its Governor's warrants to Parliament's inspection along with its new estimates of expenditure.

It seems incredible, but when the Diefenbaker Government was asked, in the closing hours of the last Parliament, whether it would submit its warrants to the next Parliament it replied that it would not. This official announcement was made on February 1 by Mr. Davie Fulton, minister of justice, and Mr. Donald Fleming, minister of finance.

They said the Government would adhere strictly and narrowly to the letter of the law. The law does not require the Government to do more than publish its warrants in the Canada Gazette and this the present Government intended to do.

As a result, there could be no serious inspection of the Government's expenditures between Parliaments. There could be no debate on any expenditure unless a private member moved for it, and private members' motions are invariably "talked out" if the Government is opposed to them.

Clearly the announcement by Messrs. Fulton and Fleming meant that Parliament, for the first time in history, would have no opportunity to consider the Governor's warrants, that the power of the purse in this case was to be transferred from the legislature to the executive, that Parliament's most sacred prerogative was to be overridden.

The public protest against this intended affront was so immediate and so strong that Mr. Diefenbaker had second thoughts. Recently, in Winnipeg, he announced that the warrants would receive the new Parliament's "full consideration and examination" as a first order of business.

The Prime Minister has corrected a grave blunder, at the expense of repudiating his two senior colleagues, who unquestionably had spoken with his approval. But the fact that such a blunder should have been considered at all, much less announced formally, indicates on Mr. Diefenbaker's part a disturbing attitude toward Parliament.

His gesture of respect for Parliament was not voluntary. It was wrung from him by the force of public opinion in the middle of a doubtful election campaign.

B.C. in Perspective

LAST WEEK INDUSTRY, UNIVERSITY and government called upon British Columbians to look at their resources in perspective.

The advice is timely. British Columbia is wealthy. It has superlative natural riches. But it depends for prosperity on world markets which it cannot control and it has no monopoly on those resources in which it is rich.

That, in substance, is what experts at the B.C. Resources Conference were saying in the course of their penetrating examination of this province's position in the world.

There is no suggestion here that British Columbia is headed for the rocks, that its potential is a myth, or that it is over the peak and going downhill.

Such is not the case.

On the other hand, if the conference had any direct message to give to the people of British Columbia, it was a warning that the post-war sellers' market has changed. The buyer is now the important element in trade, and the buyer does not have to come here to satisfy his needs.

An analysis of forest industries points up the situation. British Columbia bases 40 per cent of its production on wood.

Yet timber crops can grow more quickly in Washington and Oregon. Power costs for conversion are lower in important parts of the United States than in British Columbia, which must export four-fifths of its wood and pulp products. Beyond that, Scandinavia, closer to concentrated markets, has as large commercial stands as British Columbia, and Russian stands are 20 times as great.

The perspective applied to timber can be applied to others of our resources. We are not alone in producing salmon and other fish. We are not the only region rich in minerals. The outlook for our petroleum industry does not place us in a position of pre-eminence.

The Resources Conference does well to remind us of these facts.

Ernest Cleveland

A LARGE SECTION OF THIS community has been shocked by the news of Mr. Ernest Cleveland's death by drowning in the surf off the island of Kauai in the Hawaiian group.

His intimates had known that Mr. Cleveland had gone to the Islands to recuperate from a heart attack. The sudden end brought to his convalescence makes his passing all the more poignant.

Ernie Cleveland was a young man. Yet at 36 he had made distinct contributions to Victoria, his home. As an energetic worker for the Community Chest and, at different times, an active official of other groups engaged in programs of benefit to the city he had shown his merit as a citizen. The death of such men is a loss any community can ill afford.

The Victoria Times joins countless friends in expressions of sympathy to the bereaved family.

British Safety-Valve

LONDON'S FAMOUS PARK Lane will be widened, but the development will not remove one of the world's greatest emotional safety-valves. Speakers Corner in Hyde Park will be preserved.

This is good and rational news to lovers of free speech. The world might accept the demise of Park Lane. It most certainly would lose an irreplaceable monument if the region reserved for soap-box oratory were eliminated from Hyde Park.

It matters little what the speakers say there. More often than not they are cranks and crackpots dispensing their nostrums perhaps as much to hear their own voices as to convince anyone. It matters greatly that they have this location in which to say it.

Speakers may not be obscene, blasphemous or incite hearers to a breach of the peace. If they observe those restrictions, they may say virtually what they like. The way in which they exercise their freedom of speech is legend. They may preach against monarchy, religion, republicanism, atheism — virtually anything. When they have something on their chest, Speakers Corner gives them a chance to get it off.

A pity there are not more such locations throughout the world. Democracy needs them, or their equivalent, to flourish.

Complete With Eye-Dropper

TOKYO HAS SENSATIONAL news for the economy-minded motorist.

In a month or two, says a dispatch from the Japanese capital, production will start on a small car capable of travelling 250 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

There is one point on which we'd like information. What will it sell for on the local market, complete with eye-dropper for the fuel tank?

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Heather and Whisky

AT this time of year the gardener is overcome by premature blossom, weeds and a certain dissatisfaction. Even though he has toiled and suffered, dug and delved, fertilized and composted, still he finds that his neighbor has better plants than his. Spring is always a rude awakening after a winter's complacency (a garden, in this respect, being very like a national economy or a Canadian government).

Hutchison

Thus depressed by certain discoveries in other men's gardens, I drove out the West Saanich Road last weekend ostensibly to purchase a few choice heather plants from a genial collector named Wilson but actually to contemplate at leisure the philosophy and the economics of gardening. These are formidable subjects, much deeper than the philosophy of any government, much larger than the economics of any nation.

TO be sure, we receive many philosophical utterances from our statesmen these days. Every candidate in the election is a perambulating philosopher. You can find a Socrates to button-hole you on every street corner. Every town in Canada is a new Athens. If you are interested in economics you can receive new and all-embracing theory from every platform.

But for economy, for productivity, for a maximum return on your money and labor you simply can't beat a garden. It is indeed the only perfect economic system and the only fair one.

IN the case of Mr. Wilson, for example, I wondered, like old Omar, how he could purchase, with my money, anything half so valuable as what he sold. For the price of a bottle of fairly good whisky (not the best, of course) I came home with enough heather plants to cover a large area in blossom, not just for this spring but for all the remaining springs before me. They may not be many but a bottle of whisky would hardly last a single spring, even with extreme moderation.

The Chinese (before they were enlightened by communism) used to say that if you had two loaves of bread you should trade one for a lily. Not being a philosopher, or a lily fancier, I would not go quite that far, since an extra loaf of bread has its uses, but I would contend that a bed of heather will give any man more sustained pleasure than a bottle of whisky or even a book, which costs about the same price.

The impact of the whisky admittedly will be quicker, the book may last several days, but the heather, or any other permanent shrub, will last a lifetime. There is no bargain like a plant at any price.

THUS when I am told by philosophers and economists that our society is going merrily to hell I cannot quite believe it, all signs to the contrary notwithstanding. Any man who has known this town for more than half a century must realize that in the essential processes of life it has been growing saner all the time, its sanity attested by its gardens.

You may not believe it, if you are a newcomer here, but half a century ago there were no flowering trees on our streets, practically no flowering shrubs in our gardens, only a few dismal holly bushes, some inferior lilacs and a few foreign curiosities called daffodils.

If the Victoria of 1908 could be miraculously reproduced today it would look like a wasteland, a neglected vacant lot.

DESPITE all the current symptoms, there has been some progress. If people have been buying rather too much whisky, they have also been planting trees, shrubs and bulbs. If they have failed to produce a statesman of importance they have produced the best gardens in the nation, possibly in the world. If they have produced no distinguished thinker they have unconsciously produced a general philosophy, since all gardeners are philosophers of a sort and cannot escape, however callous they may seem to be, the speechless wisdom of the vegetable world.

In my brief time here, hardly a full century yet, a physical revolution has transformed the whole landscape. But the spiritual revolution, I suspect, has been much deeper. It, of course, cannot be measured.

YOU can count the daffodils in a man's garden; you cannot count the ideas in his head. You can see his flowers and photograph them in color; you cannot see or photograph his mind. You can judge the quality of his shrub, you cannot judge the quality of his character. You can be pretty sure, however, that any man who likes to grow things, who will tend the earth when he might be sitting at ease, who would rather have some choice plants than the choicest whisky is a man of reasonably good character. He is unlikely to cheat you and probably will send you home with an armful of roots and cuttings.

THE economic system of the garden differs from all other economic systems in its passion to avoid profits, to give everything away for nothing, to make the buyer richer than the seller. Nevertheless, though the character of Victoria has been made almost perfect by gardening, a tincture of envy and old Adam remains in it. At this season we are all a little envious of someone else's plants. Many of us are wishing we had bought less whisky and more heathers. Happily, though, plants are not sold by the government or no one could afford them.

As Our Readers See It

Back on the Rails

An unexpected announcement says that the owners of the Britannia Copper Mines have decided, that in spite of the grants from the Federal and Provincial Governments aggregating $20,000 per month, the mines would be closed down at the end of February, whereas this bonus was supposed to enable them to operate until the end of April next.

It shows quite clearly, that business has to be conducted on a sound basis to continue reasonably prosperous. The same trouble compelled dissolution of our mercantile fleet. So, as I see the picture facing us, now we are convinced that we have steadily advanced along the wrong trail and the wise move now is to retrace our footsteps or actions to get on to the right trail if we want to achieve prosperity.

In plain language, that means we have to make some efforts to lower costs, not one class, but all of us, and, furthermore, we should not be too long deciding how fast and how soon we get started.

I notice in last night's (Feb. 17) issue of the Times that a good place to really start, as an example for others to emulate would be to allow the provincial government to rescind that approval of salary increases of civil servants retroactive to last July 1 which totals $2,025,000.

I could address this "open" letter to the mouthpiece or leader of the schoolteachers' organization or the electrical workers who appear to be agitating for too much of an increase to ascertain just what re-action they might have to this new complication.

That Islands' Seat

From time to time I read in the columns of your paper, and with much interest, letters from my good friend of many years, Bob Harvey. On the subject of redistribution he has written quite often, but a recent letter published in your issue of last Thursday calls for some comment. After all, the matter of the advantages or otherwise of being included in the same constituency as the City of Nanaimo is surely one for the residents of the Islands concerned to discuss and pass upon.

While I appreciate his anxiety for us, I must point out that the Gulf Islands forming part of the provincial constituency of Nanaimo and the Islands take in a large area, extending from James Island in the south to Gabriola Island at the north, the latter being only five miles from Nanaimo. Galiano and Mayne Islands lie on the east, on the Gulf of Georgia, and the residents of those islands could with reason wish to be attached to one of the Mainland ridings!

Increasingly on Salt Spring Island we are aware of the growth and development across from us on Vancouver Island, and it might be just as logical for us to tie up with Cowichan-Newcastle, rather than again be joined provincially with a part of the Saanich Peninsula. As one who strenuously opposed doing away with the Islands District in 1938, I must say that I found very little support in North Saanich, where the feeling seemed to be one of apathy and acceptance of being included in Saanich district, a community of common interests and outlook.

If there are to be any changes in the status of this area under a redistribution plan in the future, I would suggest that a new and separate electoral district be set up for the Gulf Islands, although having in mind the difficulty of getting together on many of our vital outstanding needs and problems, that could be unwise at present. Perhaps meanwhile, and until we have acquired more stature, leaving well alone is the best course.

In connection with the Redistribution Bill of 1938, Mr. Harvey severely censures the Liberal Government of the day for alleged "gerrymandering" resulting in the loss of a safe seat for the Tories. My impression is that the action taken was to redress a situation far more serious, and affecting a very large district, with a population three or four times that of the Gulf Islands, which have not suffered.

Having in mind the old axiom that "they who live in glass houses should not throw stones," I would remind him that from 1928 until 1933 there was a Tory Government at Victoria, possibly among the weakest this Province ever had, which after hanging on to office as long as possible, literally fell apart and was ignominiously kicked out.

Before the end of their term, helpless and hopeless, in desperation they attempted to bolster their rapidly waning fortunes by eliminating two Liberals from the next Legislature. Accordingly a Redistribution Act was passed, the effect of which was to delete two constituencies represented by Liberals, by merging, in widely separated parts of B.C., adjacent districts which had elected four Liberals in 1928.

Uprooted

It would seem by his letter that Mr. Victor Williams has not had to deal (or try and cure) the loneliness, boredom or insecurity of older people from other parts of Canada who come to B.C.

If he had, he would not ask that Dr. Grant ponder any Arab phrase upon humbleness. No amount of humbleness on the part of Dr. Grant will make up to these people for the uprooting, loss of friendships of a lifetime and all the rest that they are so apt to have to suffer when told, by their doctors, they must go to a milder climate.

ICE COLD CANDIDATES

By VIC MACKIE

On the Trail of '58

PRIME MINISTER DIEFENBAKER called this election. It is only fitting therefore that he has been experiencing some of the bone-chilling consequences of campaigning in midwinter. As he toured Ontario and Quebec and flew into the Atlantic provinces the weatherman staged a series of snowstorms that dumped great piles of the sticky white stuff in mounds across highways, over railway tracks and inches deep on the runways of airfields. Temperatures dropped to the sub-zeros in some areas. It was earmuff weather with a vengeance.

Mackie

Cold Reception

The coldest reception was accorded the Prime Minister in Hull, just across the Ottawa River from Canada's capital. There he arrived to find that Conservative organizers had set up a meeting in th cavernous arena rink with the ice still very much in evidence. The platform was erected at one end of the rink on the ice and the press sat on metal chairs in front of the platform, on the sheet of ice.

There was a thin wood plank laid under the press chairs but it did not prevent the icy chill creeping through the bones of the shivering newsmen. Despite strenuous efforts by a bugle band and the organizers to generate some warmth in the meeting, the ice did not soften.

Surprise

A surprised man was Prime Minister Diefenbaker when he swung into the arena behind the band to march to the platform. He found himself sliding on the ice and Mrs. Diefenbaker hurriedly grasped his arm.

Gingerly the two steadied each other as they crossed the slippery surface. Mr. Diefenbaker had removed his overcoat. Once on the platform and subjected to the cold of the arena he quickly put it on again. This handicapped his speaking style. He could not get his hands on his hips. At one point he unbuttoned the coat to adopt that stance.

Ice-Cold

"Welcome Mr. Unemployment" one banner at the back of the arena read in French. It was quickly removed. Another banner read "Bravo John!" and still another "On to Victory." They were not removed.

Billed for 7.30, the meeting did not get underway until 9 p.m. It was a cold, damp night. The arena has seats for 3,800. When the meeting began there were between 800 and 900 in th audience. Hull has been Liberal for years.

Said the Prime Minister, "I make no predictions, but I invite Hull to get on this bandwagon with us." There was applause, some boos.

The audience lost no time in vacating the premises once the speeches were over.

Keeping Up

The day before the deep-freeze of the Hull Arena the press had piled into three cars to drive the 75 miles to Cornwall, south of Ottawa. Prime Minister Diefenbaker had a speaking date in the Seaway Centre. The drive down was not too cold, the highway clear. Yet two hours later, after the meeting, the Prime Minister's party emerged to find the area experiencing one of the worst blizzards in years.

Two carloads of the press decided to risk the drive back during the blizzard. Another group holed up in the hotel to write their stories there, waiting for the blizzard to abate. One press car went into the ditch and had to be pushed back on the road after nearly colliding with a truck.

Another press car—a convertible with the canvas top up—raced through the night. The heater kept those in the front seat warm but those in the rear shivered and shook and prayed as the car slid across the ice-coated highway in the teeth of the storm.

The Prime Minister's heavier car passed at high speed, Mr. Diefenbaker dozing in the rear seat. Unlike his predecessor he seldom sits in the suicide seat beside the driver.

Style

Liberal Leader Pearson encountered real cold weather in his home riding of Algoma East. He opened his campaign there with his nomination convention. His constituents were accustomed to the sharp clear cold of northern Ontario, but not the members of his party touring with him.

Among the press was a variety of attire. Some wore toques, others earmuffs, while others wrapped scarves around their heads, turban style. One man came equipped with a parka. Another had some ski clothes which he donned for the occasion. Long woollen underwear was popular, but itchy.

Air Conditioning

The railway car reserved for the press when Mr. Pearson went to Espanola in northern Ontario was modern in all its appointments — but cold. The heating system failed to function properly on the overnight trip from Sudbury. When newsmen tumbled out of their bunks in the early hours, they found the car's temperature around 50 degrees and no hot water in the taps—but the air conditioning units were operating at full blast.

Snowdrifts

Hon. Sidney Smith, who has been finding political life full of many more difficulties than he had expected, encountered another of its hazards on the road from Toronto to Ottawa. Hastening back to Ottawa for a meeting on campaign plans he got himself stuck in a snowdrift. He had to telephone ahead explaining he would be delayed and did not make the meeting.

Difficult

Campaigning is hard enough at the best of times. But in mid-winter the difficulties are multiplied. Cars freeze up, trains are delayed, planes fail to take off, meetings have to be cancelled, schedules altered at the last minute.

The press, radio, television and the telephone are being used by many candidates to contact their constituents as drifting snow blocks the roads and makes personal contact impossible. But surprisingly, for the two main party leaders there have been good crowds turning out to hear their speeches despite the cold.

There is one advantage to a winter election—the electors have more time to sit down and assess the programs of the various parties.

A WOMAN'S OUTLOOK By RUTH ENKE

The Ivory Tower

Ruth

IF I could have a wish, I'd wish for an ivory tower; a dear little ivory tower kept clean and tidy by somebody else. (I don't want my mind troubled by guilty thoughts of "I must wash down the ivory this morning. This spring light does show the dirt up, doesn't it?")

My ivory tower wouldn't have a telephone. As I sat at my desk by the window with a lovely view, no phone would ring with silly voice offering me medical insurance, or a subscription to a magazine, or the exciting news that I was one of the lucky, lucky Victorians selected to participate in our telequiz program, and I am ready for the question. (A pox on those silly questions. I'm old enough to know that, faced with a sudden question, my mind is apt to go completely blank.)

My tower would be large enough to hold all my reference books. What's more, they'd be in their proper places. I'd never have to run around saying, "Who's had volume 12 of the Book of Knowledge?" or "Who took my dictionary and didn't put it back?"

Naturally, my eraser would be in place. It wouldn't be at one of the local high schools in somebody's high-priced zipper case. My little box of paper clips would be intact. Nobody would have borrowed them for holding tracing paper on to maps, or bent them out of shape in the agony of committing facts to memory.

No, everything would be in perfect order in my ivory tower.

There'd be food there, too. It would be food I hadn't cooked myself, and it would be served on dishes that I don't know and wouldn't have to wash. I don't quite know how it would come. Just rub my hands and call upon the genii, I suppose.

But the genii must be silent. I don't want to be disturbed by some garrulous turbaned type who's full of the troubles in the Middle East and wants to talk about Egypt and Syria and the Arab state.

My ivory tower would have a lovely view. Or, better still, it would have a magic button I could press to get any kind of view I wanted. (No, that's hopeless. Worse than television. I'd never get any work done at all.)

Well, it's nice to dream about, and I suppose there are people who write in peace and quiet, and must on no account be disturbed. ("No dear, Daddy's in the study, busy with his sermon".)

For, in my heart of hearts, I know the ivory tower would be a little too pure and peaceful for me after a time.

It's better this way. And this way means the kitchen table and a washer that's just howled to let me know its work is done, and it's up to me to hang the washing on the line. It means a husband who wants to know whether I remembered to get his tobacco at the store, and a dog who's waiting for her morning walk, and mail that must be fetched, and an errand that must be done. Not to mention a deadline that must be met.

The fault lies with me and with our early spring. For, instead of writing yesterday, I went off for a walk in the day, and to the Bolshoi Ballet in the evening.

No sense of duty or self-discipline. That's what always happens to me in the spring. You, I suppose, are made of sterner stuff. When there's work to be done, you do it. How very, very dull!

Vertigo Clinic

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Alvarez

A person with true vertigo feels that either his surroundings are spinning around him or else he is revolving. Countless people who say they are dizzy haven't a true vertigo, and this the doctor must make sure of. Often what these persons are suffering from is a loss of their old comfortable sense of balance, or a feeling that any minute they might fall. Perhaps they stagger a bit as they walk. Often it takes an expert examination to tell what sort of dizziness a man has. An expert wants to know where the disease is: in the ear or the nerve to the ear, or the brain. Young people and especially young people with destructive disease in their ears are likely to have true vertigo with a sense of spinning around, and often nausea and vomiting. When this comes in sudden episodes of vertigo associated with loss of hearing in at least one ear, the person probably has Meniere's disease—a disease due apparently to changes in the membranes lining the tiny cavities in the balancing mechanism of the ear.

Older persons who get a loss of their proper sense of balance, together, perhaps, with character changes, and ear noises, but no loss of hearing, are likely to be suffering from arteriosclerosis of the tiny arteries of the brain and from what I call little strokes.

VERTIGO CLINIC

I was just reading about the first Vertigo Clinic in the United States located in Temple University Medical School, in Philadelphia. In this clinic persons can come to have their hearing and balancing mechanisms tested. Neurologists will try to rule out brain tumors and tumors on the nerve that run from the ear to the brain. Some patients will be studied by allergists. Many will be twirled around in a special Barany chair to see how they respond to stimuli given to their balancing mechanism. Warm water will be injected against the ear drum to see if this produces special symptoms. In a few cases electroencephalograms will be made to rule out epilepsy and localized disease of the brain.

I welcome the setting up of this clinic. As every good nose and throat specialist knows, thousands of persons now being treated for Meniere's disease do not have it. This can be determined in a few minutes by finding that the ears are normal and the hearing is good.

Unfortunately, with all our tests, I fear there is a large percentage of cases of dizziness or poor sense of balance in which no exact diagnosis can be made. We doctors can only suspect that there are arteriosclerotic changes in the brain.

TREATMENT FOR HAY FEVER

I was just reading where Dr. C. F. Lake, G. B. Logan, and G. A. Peters, of the Mayo Clinic, report the treatment of ragweed hay fever with powdered hydrocortisone blown into the nose. This had been tried before by a number of physicians, some of whom said that the treatment had kept most of their patients comfortable during the hay fever season. The Mayo physicians treated 18 patients—three children and 15 adults. These persons used an inhalant type of powder dispenser three or four times a day. The children received a daily dose of 5 mgs. and the adults got 15 mgs. Six of the patients received marked relief, and had an excellent result; eight had a good result in that they didn't have much distress; and three had only a fair result, with their symptoms helped about 50 per cent. One patient said she was worse.

HANDLING MENTALLY DISTURBED

Mike Gorman of the National Committee Against Mental Illness points with approval to a number of new methods of handling the psychotic. First, he mentions the present-day efforts of mental hospitals to unlock most of their doors. This makes the patients so much happier. Mr. Gorman comments favorably, also, on the work of the Topeka State Hospital, the physicians of which spend part of their time seeing patients in their homes, or in boarding-houses. Mr. Gorman approves of the new way in which patients are now kept in a mental hospital only during the day or during the night. This often enables the person who is only slightly disturbed—as so many are—to keep at work, to earn his living, and to be often with his family. This type of care is of great help, also, to the patient who has recently been discharged from a mental hospital, but still feels a bit shaky and unsure of himself. Mr. Gorman speaks of the "half-way house" type of institution.

Another good move is the caring for more and more mildly psychotic patients in general hospitals. This keeps them under the care of their family doctors; it keeps them near their family and it takes away the old stigma the patient has good reason to dread when he has been in a mental hospital.

JUNG HAILS ACHIEVEMENT OF CHINESE

MONTREAL (CP) — Douglas Jung, Progressive Conservative member of the last Parliament for Vancouver Centre, said Wednesday night his election last June as the first Chinese member of Parliament was tangible evidence of the position members of his race had achieved as Canadian citizens.

He was addressing the Montreal Chinese Benevolent Society on behalf of Egan Chambers, Conservative candidate for the Montreal St. Lawrence-St. George riding in the March 31 federal election.

Lawnmowers Are No Monsters

JACK

The ability to control wild animals in a cage is said to stem from exhibiting no fear, and not trusting them for a second.

This could well be applied to the handling of gasoline-powered lawnmowers and small garden tractors.

Each season these ingenious little garden aids account for many rush trips to the emergency rooms of city hospitals.

In the first place, these little machines are small and reasonably easy for the tinkerer to repair and adjust. Secondly, they have lots of power to do heavy jobs, and when this power goes wild, fingers and legs go too.

All who have operated these machines know they are started by turning the crank with a rope. Few stop to think that turning the crank by turning the pulley or blades amounts to the same thing as pulling the starter rope.

There is usually a little gas in the carburetor, enough to turn over the engine a few times. This is the usual cause of lost or damaged fingers.

Before sharpening, adjusting, cleaning or removing any part connected to the engine be sure to disconnect the spark circuit by removing the high tension wire from the spark plug.

When the machine is working, the operator's place is between the handles, not in front pulling grass ends out of the cooling fins, nor picking up trash from the lawn.

Between the handles is the safest place, but even this position is not entirely safe. Rotary lawnmowers have a bad habit of discharging pieces of wire, stones and slivers of wood at high velocity. Eyes have been lost and legs and arms mutilated by these missiles. Clean the lawn first, mow it afterwards.

Keep your machines in good condition, use them wisely and they will serve faithfully for many years. Abuse them and they will retaliate.

VLC Repeats Request On Voters' Listing

Victoria Labor Council Wednesday decided to send a second letter to Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black asking for changes in regulations governing voters' lists.

A previous request to allow qualified voters to cast ballots after a declaration that they had been left off voters' lists by error was turned down by the minister on the grounds that voters' lists could not be changed, Jack MacKenzie, IWA delegate, told VLC.

"We should point out that the council is not asking that names be added to the voters' list but that in the event that the name of a qualified voter does not appear on the printed list through an error, he should not be penalized for another's mistake," he said.

Jail for Robbery

GRIMSBY, Eng. (AP)—Frederick Bootham, a city welfare officer, drew a four-month jail sentence Wednesday for stealing £30 from a blind and deaf widow who was under the care of his department.

BENNETT PLANS PGE CEREMONY

Arrival of the first PGE train at the Peace River district junction of Chetwynd will be marked by special ceremonies next Wednesday attended by Premier Bennett.

Chetwynd is the point where the northern PGE extension divides into two arms, one to Fort St. John and the other to Dawson Creek. They will be completed this summer.

The premier will fly to and from the ceremony so that he will miss only one day from the legislature.

Liberal, Socred Appeal Jointly For University

Two Victoria MLAs—one a Liberal and the other a Social Crediter—joined forces in the legislature Wednesday night to plead for a university in Victoria.

George Gregory and Donald Smith both asked Education Minister Peterson to give an indication when the government would start the project.

The minister replied that it wasn't up to him to decide, but the Victoria College Council and the University of B.C. governors.

UP TO COUNCIL

"We will co-operate in the growth and development, but it is up to the council," he said. "We will give consideration to any proposal the council wishes to make."

Mr. Peterson said he was "sympathetic" to the college extending its courses in include third and fourth years.

Mr. Gregory said the best argument for a university in Victoria is the size of the present campus at U.B.C.

On the basis of present growth, the university will have a student population of 28,000 in 10 years, which is too big, Mr. Gregory said.

The Victoria university should not be a part of U.B.C., he said. Mr. Gregory suggested the four-year arts course, because it does not require expensive laboratories, could be moved to Victoria.

He urged the minister to inquire into the possibility of purchasing the Gordon Head army camp land from the department of national defence for the future campus.

Mr. Smith said students from this area now are put to an extra expense in having to move to the mainland to attend university.

A university in Victoria would attract students from all over the continent, he said, and would be a great asset to the capital city.

CCFer Urges More Ottawa Education Aid

Increased federal aid to the provinces for education was urged in the legislature Wednesday night by Randolph Harding (CCF-Kaslo-Slocan).

"We shouldn't be backward about seeking more aid from Ottawa," Mr. Harding said.

"We've got to get more so that any child capable of higher education gets that opportunity."

His stand was supported by Leo Nimsick (CCF-Cranbrook) who said federal assistance could be given without interfering with provincial autonomy in the education field.

Mr. Nimsick said the provincial government should be particularly concerned about recruiting more students into the teaching profession.

Farmer Learns War Long Over

TOKYO (Reuters) — A Chinese farmer who escaped from a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp in Hokkaido, northern Japan, in 1945, was found hiding Tuesday in the hills of west Hokkaida, unaware that the war had ended.

Lieu Lien-Jen, 47, told the villagers who found him that he had lived in caves for the last 13 years, eating wild roots and berries.

Newman In Top Bout On Mat Card

Lou Newman, the former Victoria muscleman will again occupy the featured spot when professional wrestling returns to Memorial Arena, Thursday, March 13.

Newman, who tangled with Edmonton's Gene Kiniski in a no-contest brawl last month will tackle Japanese star Mitzu Arakawa in one half of a double main event.

In the second heavyweight headliner scheduled for one hour or best of three falls, Kinji Shibuya will match holds with Prince Maiava.

George Strickland and Buddy Knox are slated for a 30-minute special bout and Elmer Davis will grapple with Leo Karilenko in the opening bout at 8.30.

Jewellers Beat Sea-Fun Five

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Jewellers advanced to the finals of the B.C. Senior A basketball championship Wednesday night by defeating Vancouver Sea-Fun 72-61 in the fifth game of a best-of-five series.

Jewellers meet University of B.C. Thunderbirds in Vancouver Saturday for the provincial title.

Jewellers' John McLeod notched 26 points in the tight game. Bob Pickell, Sea-Fun's deadly centre, got 24 points.

Jewellers, playing a steady game, advanced to a 10-point lead in the second quarter and led 36-39 at the half.

Mount Doug Gains Final

Even losers can be winners at times and Mount Douglas High School senior girls' basketball team proved it Tuesday as they advanced into the finals of the Lower Island championship play.

Losing the second game of their two-game, total-point series with Esquimalt High girls 32-30, Mount Doug eked out a four-point total-point win on their week-old 16-10 first-game win.

The full score between the two teams was 46-42 for Mount Douglas as Esquimalt lost their bid in the final minutes of the second game.

Mt. Douglas—Casillo 13, Pearce 2, Sinclair, Slocumb, Caldwell, Neols 9, Walton 2, Woods, Cameron Worboys 4 Dunlop. Total 30.

MacKenzie Snubs Grant's Peace Bid

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — A "Bury the Hatchet" offer by Grant Warwick, of Kamloops Chiefs, was turned down by manager Kenny MacKenzie, on Wednesday night.

Warwick, who announced on Tuesday he was quitting hockey for the season, was not in uniform for Wednesday's Okanagan Senior League playoff game between the Chiefs and Vernon Canadians.

Kamloops won the deciding game of a best-of-seven series 4-3 in overtime

Tuesday, Grant said he was through for the season because of what he termed lack of team spirit. MacKenzie said he was "puzzled" over Warwick's decision.

The player's brother, Bill Warwick, also of the Chiefs, is in hospital here with a head jury he suffered last week when struck by a stick in a game against Vernon. Bill has been hemorrhaging from the nose and ears.

Grant's offer to "bury the hatchet" was made to MacKenzie following efforts by a mediator to bring them together. Mackenzie said he could not accept it.

Warwick said later he had been in great mental distress since Bill was admitted to hospital. He had gone to see his brother in hospital before Monday's game here, and had made his decision to quit during the game.

A fourth brother, Claude Warwick, was fatally injured in a traffic accident in Eastern Canada near the end of the Second World War and Grant was at his hospital bedside when he died.

Grant said that seeing Bill reminded him of Claude and he broke down.

Manchester U Gains Cup Semis

THOUSANDS TURNED AWAY

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Manchester United Wednesday night reached the semi-finals of the Football Association Cup, defeating West Bromwich Albion 1-0 with a goal scored in the last minute of play.

Right-winger Colin Webster, one of the youths brought into the team after eight Manchester stars died in the Feb. 6 Munich air crash, got the winner.

Manchester now meets second-division Fulham in the semi-final March 22.

Three survivors of the Munich crash played in the floodlit game Wednesday night—goalkeeper Harry Gregg, right back and captain Bill Foulkes and left winger Bobby Charlton.

In addition to the 60,000 inside the ground 30,000 persons tried to gain admission but the gates were closed an hour before kickoff.

Manchester is still unbeaten since the Munich crash. The record is two cup ties won, one cup match tied and a league match drawn.

The entire game was relayed by a special telephone link to Munich, where crash survivors including United manager Matt Busby heard the result in hospital.

Busby was jubilant when he spoke on the telephone to acting manager Jimmy Murphy.

As the minutes ticked away and extra time seemed inevitable centre half Ron Cope sent inside right Ernie Taylor away for Manchester. Taylor tricked his man and pushed the ball out to Charlton, who raced downfield toward the corner flag.

Webster was in the middle to receive Charlton's perfectly-placed low centre. Calmly and unhesitatingly, he sidefooted the ball into the net.

One minute later, the referee blew his whistle for time.

TEAM TO WATCH

One of teams to watch in Canadian Open badminton championships being played at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club is veteran Toronto duo of Bev Wescott (left) and Bill Purcell, who easily won opening men's doubles match Wednesday. Purcell waits at net for next shot by opponents as Wescott smashes shuttlecock across net. See story on page 9

Matt Races for Deadline But Chase Over for Tony

B.C., Saskatchewan Both Tripped By Two Setbacks

By ERNIE FEDORUK

The curling experts and the backroom skips who picked Matt Baldwin to retain his Canadian curling championship are growing bolder.

They stepped out today and placed a deadline on Baldwin with the prediction that the defending Brier champions from Alberta will wrap it all up for a second straight year, Friday morning. The 11th and final draw is scheduled for Friday afternoon, but the experts feel that round will be a mere formality.

Two contenders fell Wednesday, leaving only Ontario's Murray Roberts as the chief threat to prevent the ever-brilliant Baldwin from winning his third Dominion crown.

And falling the hardest, with a thud that rattled the plaster in several Douglas Street establishments, was Tony Gustoski's Victoria Curling Club quartet, representing British Columbia. Gutoski lost his second and third games Wednesday, including his all-important meeting with Baldwin, to move out of the picture. Baldwin beat British Columbia 13-8 and then Northern Ontario walloped Gutoski 14-9.

And disappointing Saskatchewan fell, too, losing 11-9 to Prince Edward Island on an extra end and 10-4 to Manitoba.

Thus, moving into today's three rounds, Baldwin stood alone, unbeaten and the best bet with a 5-0 won-lost record at the halfway mark. Ontario, recovering from Tuesday's upset at the hands of lightly-regarded Quebec, kept on the pace by winning once Wednesday to leave their record at 4-1. They downed Newfoundland 11-6 and then took the bye in the evening.

Outside chances still belong to Manitoba and Newfoundland, both with 3-2 records, but the rest of the 11-team field is "dead".

Competition Looks Easy, But . . .

Baldwin and Roberts both faced comparatively easy draws moving into the home stretch. Both were scheduled to play three games today before meeting Friday morning in what could be the Brier's most important game.

On today's draws, in order, Alberta was to meet Saskatchewan (3-3), Quebec (2-3) and Newfoundland (2-3). Ontario was to face Nova Scotia (2-4), Prince Edward Island (3-3) and Quebec.

Against Alberta on Wednesday's afternoon draw, Gutoski was the victim of a three-ender on the first end. And although he tied it up with a three on the fourth, the B.C. champions rarely appeared threats.

Baldwin and Gutoski both were even in their shot-making. In fact, according to individual point-scoring records, the 41-year-old Victoria icemaker made one more shot than his Edmonton rival. The difference was between the front ends, and there Baldwin's crew enjoyed a whopping advantage.

Only Gutoski's superlative shooting kept B.C. in contention until Baldwin wrapped up victory with another three-ender on the 11th. Time after time, Gutoski went to shoot his rocks and was greeted with three or four or five Baldwin rocks in the house.

There's Plenty of Power Up Front

Baldwin never missed a shot on the last five ends and third Dr. Jack Geddes kept pace with his skip. Second Gord Haynes of the Edmonton crew scored more points than any other member of either rink and lead Bill Price was credited with 33 out of a possible 48 points. Haynes had 37, Geddes 35 and Baldwin 34.

In contrast, Gutoski made 36 points while third Bill Dunstan picked up only 25. Second Gary Leibel and lead Dale Dalziel each were credited with 29 points.

It was also rather unfortunate that the rinks squared off on a sheet of ice that developed a tricky fall at either end.

The story was much the same in their evening game against Northern Ontario. Ron Redding's crew from Kenora "stole" (counted while Gutoski had last rock) eight points, including four on the 11th.

Surprising Newfoundland Wednesday proved they enjoy greater successes with only three men. Third Bill Howell was confined to sick bay once again and the rink from Blomedon ("Blow me down") Curling Club came up with one of the most amazing rallies in brier history to win their evening game 11-10 from Nova Scotia.

In the afternoon draw, playing with the regulation four men, Bud Fisher's foursome lost 11-6 to Ontario.

The evening game, however, was something to behold. Don Bauld's Halifax rink scored on all of the first six ends to take a 8-0 lead. But, the Blow-me-down boys counted four on the seventh, two each on the eighth and 10th ends, and three on the final frame to win.

Time Enough For Students

Move to Cut Northern Ontario Fails to Gain Curlers' Support

The ruling body of curling in Canada, despite approving a suggestion to ban schoolboys from the national playdowns, apparently is quite satisfied with its inner workings, rules and regulations.

Even so, however, Wednesday's annual meeting of the Dominion Curling Association was not without a brief flurry of fireworks. But while there was action, there were no rule changes.

Two Alberta delegates created a furore in the meeting at the Empress Hotel by proposing that Ontario be limited to only one entry in the Canadian finals for the Brier Tankard.

At present, both Northern Ontario and Ontario are represented at the Brier, making 11 entries from 10 provinces. The president of the Alberta Curling Association, Shim Laskin of Edmonton suggested Northern Ontario withdraw and that the Northwest Territories be invited instead.

When the resolution was presented, Senator John Haig of Winnipeg, senior Brier trustee, put on his coat and prepared to leave the meeting.

"If you boys are going to bring up these controversial issues," Mr. Haig said, "then I'm going to resign."

Government House Senate leader and Brier trustee since the Brier began in 1927, he was prevailed upon to remain.

The vote followed and all delegates opposed the resolution except Cliff Lee of Edmonton, Alberta vice-president and seconder of Caskin's motion.

The obvious solution — increasing the championships to a 12-rink affair—would be impractible since few clubs have more than five sheets of ice.

University Boys Allowed to Play

Although DCA officials didn't say it, the appearance of a teen-aged rink from Winnipeg, with three of the four boys still attending high school, helped spark adoption of a brief requesting the ban on schoolboys participating in the Brier.

The action was asked in a well-prepared report by Ken Watson, of Winnipeg, only three-time winner of the Tankard and chairman of the DCA's school curling committee.

Although provincial bodies govern their own playdowns, it is expected all provinces will accept the DCA's recommendation that boys attending school below the university level be excluded for Consols and Brier play.

There was no discussion on the report, a fact that took Watson by slight surprise. "I knew a ruling of this sort would be made sooner or later," he said, "but I didn't think it would occur as soon as it did."

"We had to put a stop on it," he added. "If we carried it too far, the educationalists, as well as public opinion, would go against us. Certainly, the Brier is a Canadian championship and anyone should be allowed to enter. But our answer to that is the fact the boys have their own Canadian championships and after they get through school, they have a lifetime ahead of them in which to try to win the Brier."

Academic qualifications for schoolboys was discussed and delegates later approved Watson's report which requested that a common entry from across Canada be used. It must be certified by the applicant's school principal. Boys must be of the proper age and they must have been successfully promoted in the year before the playoff.

Billy Finlay of Vancouver was named a life member, the first newspaper man to be given the association's highest honor.

Public relations officer for the Vancouver Sun and a former sports editor of the paper, Finlay began curling in Winnipeg in 1904 and has played in three Canadian curling championships with British Columbia rinks. He will be 70 next month.

Life memberships were also awarded to Ernie McMurtry of Toronto, perennial secretary of the Ontario Curling Association, and to Jack Dutton of Winnipeg, associated for many years with the Dominion association.

Dutton was also named honorary president. A. E. Wilson of Calgary was elected president, succeeding Sudbury's Sam Rothschild. W. B. Cowan, QC, of Winnipeg, and C. G. Keyes of Ottawa were chosen vice-presidents, while Cowan was also voted honorary treasurer. C. H. Scrymgeour, Winnipeg, was elected secretary.

Rothschild was the DCA's choice for nomination to the Royal Caledonian Curling Association.

Flyers Back in Top Spot; Canucks Lose to Royals

By The Canadian Press

Edmonton Flyers again have sole ownership of first place in the Western Hockey League's Prairie Division.

The Flyers shared the top spot for a day with Winnipeg after Warriors 11-4 victory over Victoria Tuesday night.

Wednesday night the Edmontonians broke the deadlock with a 3-1 victory over last-place Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals at Edmonton.

On the Coast, New Westminster Royals moved to within eight points of the division-leading Vancouver Canucks by downing them 4-3 in overtime at New Westminster.

In tonight's only game Victoria is at Saskatoon.

At Edmonton, Regals' goalie Lucien Dechene was tested 45 times.

Cummy Burton opened the scoring late in the first for Edmonton, taking a pass from Gerry Leonard and plugging it into an open corner.

KILBURN SCORES

There was no scoring in the second frame and only one penalty but Dechene kept the sparse crowd cheering as he kicked out 19 shots.

Midway through the third, Flyers broke loose with two goals to clinch the game. Leonard golfed a 15-foot shot over Dechene's shoulder and Colin Kilburn swooped in close to score in a shower of ice.

Bill Bucyk spoiled Edmonton goalie Dennis Riggin's shutout by whipping a high, screened shot from the blue line. Riggin made 33 saves.

RUSHES INTO GOAL

Sophomore Pat Hannigan's rink length dash that carried him right into the Vancouver goal produced the marker that gave Royals their 4-3 victory at New Westminster.

Hannigan's goal, which touched off a wild brawl, came at 2.49 of the overtime session.

Other New Westminster goal scorers were Hugh Barlow, Ron Matthews and Arnie Schmautz. Vancouver goals were scored by Elliott Chorley, Phil Maloney and Red Johansen.

Maloney and Johansen scored within a minute early in the third period to give Vancouver a 3-1 margin. Matthews made it 3-2 on a blistering shot from the point at 14.00.

One minute and five seconds later Schmautz tipped in a shot from defenceman Steve Hrymnak to tie things up.

Following the goal Vancouver's Bill Dobbyn and New Westminster's Garry Edmundson squared off. Minutes later Royals coach Hal Laycoe and Vancouver coach Art Chapman exchanged shoves.

Swansea Picks Up Half Ray Daniel

LONDON (CP) — Swansea Town Soccer Club Wednesday paid about £3,000 to Cardiff City for Welsh International centre half Ray Daniel.

It is Swansea's second buy within a week in an attempt to avoid demotion to the third division. Last week the South Wales club, second to last in the standings, paid £3,000 to Ipswich for Billy Reed.

Bs CONTINUE ON HOOP TRAIL

Victoria Bs will start on another lap of the trail that leads to the British Columbia senior "B" women's basketball title at Central Junior High School tonight.

The Victoria champions will tackle Nanaimo in the opening game of a two-game, total-point series for the lower Vancouver Island championship.

Final game of the series will be played at Nanaimo.

Game time tonight is 8.30.

LEAFS CLIP HAWKS

This Was To Be Chief's Big Year

By Canadian Press

In Toronto hockey circles this was supposed to be the year of the Big Chief.

George Armstrong, a full-blooded Indian, had his finest National Hockey League season last year. This season he was supposed to find his long looked-for potential and lead the Maple Leafs back into playoff competition.

The script hasn't worked that way. When George scored a goal and two assists Wednesday night to lead Toronto's 5-2 win against Chicago Black Hawks it brought his points total to 35, nine fewer than he had last season.

And while it moved Leafs to within six points of the fourth-place Boston Bruins, only nine games remain in Toronto's schedule. It was the only game played.

SEVENTH STRAIGHT LOSS

Hawks, who have now lost seven straight, fell six points behind Leafs.

Armstrong came to Leafs after a standout minor league career. He has looked good on the ice but he has never been able to score more than 18 goals, his total last season.

Opposition players call the 27-year-old Skead, Ont., native, one of the strongest in the league and rival goalies say he has one of the hardest shots. But his muscle hasn't been able to set up teammates and the goalies are stopping the shots.

He worked hard to put Toronto in position for the victory after Chicago jumped into a 2-0 lead within four minutes.

VASKO INJURED

Chicago defenceman Elmer (Moose) Vasko needed 30 stitches to close gashes in his left cheek and chin suffered in the third period.

The six-foot-three, 208-pounder, was injured as he attempted to squeeze Leaf centre Billy Harris out of a play. Harris, about to leap past Vasko, flipped over and his skate slashed Vasko.

Vasko left for Boston with the team and is expected to be back in action tonight when Chicago plays Bruins.

Quare Times Out

LONDON (AP) — Quare Times, winner of the 1955 Grand National Steeplechase, has been scratched from the 1958 race due to recurrence of an old leg injury.

WHIPS POLAND

Russia Keeps Hopes Alive

OSLO (CP)—Russia defeated Poland 10-1 in the opening game of a full schedule at the world hockey tournament today, holding on to their slim chance for the championship despite a tie with Czechoslovakia earlier this week.

The victory sent Russia to the top of the eight-team standing pending the result of the afternoon game between favored Canada and Sweden. The win gave the Russians seven points for four games, one more than the Canadians and the Swedes, who have six points for their three straight victories.

Russia's tie with Czechoslovakia, the only other strong contender, spoiled the chances of both.

This morning's game was played in a blinding snowstorm, which made for scrappy play.

In the second game of the day, between the two bottom teams, Finland defeated Norway, 2-1.

SLOW START

The Russians looked little better than the Poles in the early part of the game. Eleven minutes went by before they got their first goal, but from then on they took charge.

The Russians turned in some fine hockey in the second period and capitalized on breakaways. Several members of the Canadian squad also turned up for the match at the outdoor Jordal Amfi stadium, and Canadian player Alf Treen commented:

"The Russians look just as good now as they ever did."

The headline attraction today is the Canada-Sweden battle for first place. A victory would give Canada's Whitby team undisputed possession of the top rung and place it in the driver's seat for the dash to the world title that in all probability will be decided on the last day of the tournament, Sunday.

The Swedes, who had no North American opposition when they won the world championship from the Russians in Moscow a year ago Wednesday, looked sluggish in their early matches of the present tournament. But their stock rose sharply when they easily defeated the United States 8-3 Tuesday.

The Canadians have a wide edge in the scoring column with slightly more than twice as many goals as the Swedes. If the 10-day tournament should end in a tie, the team with the best goals average is the winner.

Cowichan Cup Rugby Slated

Semi-final playoffs for the Vancouver Island English rugby championship start Saturday at Macdonald Park with two sudden-death games. James Bay plays Victoria College and James Bay seconds meet Oak Bay Wanderers.

Play is for the Cowichan Cup, won last year by JBAA when they defeated Wanderers in the best-of-three final series.

Also on the rugby agenda are two exhibition games between Oak Bay seconds and HMCS Venture on the Colville Road pitch.

All games will start at 2.30

WHEN HE SHIFTS GEARS, WATCH OUT . . . . . . BLAZING FINISHES SCARE OWNERS

Meet Silky Sullivan 'Heart Attack Hoss'

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—High prices biting you? Are you behind in the rent, and tired of trying to match the fast pace?

There's a new personality in the news who could be a real inspiration to you. He's three years old, friendly, frisky but well behaved.

Sure, Silky Sullivan is a race horse. You've had tips on horses. Well, here's a horse who can give you a tip. He knows how to win when he's losing.

This has made him, suddenly, the sensational darling of those who have read about him, seen him run. Early in a race he falls so far behind you'd think he was setting the pace for the next feature.

As jockey Willie Harmatz, who rode Silky in several races, said: "It sure gets lonesome back there."

But then, when all seems absolutely lost, this colt appears to shift gears. Within a stride or two he flares from a jaunty gallop to a blaze of speed. From dead last, usually, he begins to catch up, then pass. Horse after horse is left behind. And, at the last moment, he's in front.

That's winning the hard way—the way most humans have to win.

These magnificent finishes, snatching victory from the jaws of defeat, have won Silky the nickname "Heart Attack Hoss." It's a thrilling spectacle, and one of Silky's owners has to go behind the clubhouse whenever the colt runs. It's doctor's orders. Wealthy Tom Ross of Oakland, Calif., simply can't stand the excitement.

"I'll admit it scares me," says Silky's co-owner, retired banker-rancher Phil Klipstein of Bakersfield, Calif.

Silky is beautiful—big, well formed, shiny gold in the sun, his tail long and blond. Racetrack men call him a chestnut in the shade. But the important facts about Silky are:

In his last two races he was officially measured trailing the lead horse by 31 lengths on Santa Anita's back stretch. A running length, in horse parlance, is about 10 feet. This means Silky was more than 300 feet behind the leader.

And yet he charged up the stretch like a fire engine, after shifting gears, and won.

That was in one race. In the other he did exactly the same thing, and got beat by only a neck. His trainer, Reggie Cornell, was so pleased that he actually beamed. Even if you've never seen a racetrack you know trainers seldom beam when their horses lose.

Cornell's instructions always are simple: He tells the rider to let the colt begin to run "when the horse tells you. And he'll tell you."

Silky may be a Kentucky Derby candidate this year. His best record time for the final quarter-mile is 22 2/5 seconds, or about 40 m.p.h. Normal racehorses average about 37½ m.p.h for the final quarter, and slower ones around 34½ m.p.h.

Not even Silky can win all the time, but he has won six of 11 races. The point to remember is that when he wins he always does it the same way: an inspired burst of power in the stretch.

The last time he rode Silky, jockey Willie Shoemaker said: "I didn't think he'd ever get there this time." But, with the whole field in front of him, Silky made it.

Yes, a minister might find a sermon in Silky: Don't worry about a slow start. You may be harried by high rent, the cost of living and income tax time, but getting home is what counts, and potentialities don't always show. You never know what you can do till you have to.

And if you want to see how Silky operates, he's entered in a race scheduled to be televised from Santa Anita Saturday afternoon.

SIDELINE SLANTS

Doug Peden

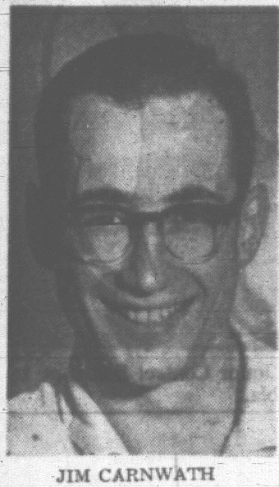
Patience is a virtue that appears to be working on the side of the Canadian Badminton Association.

The particular bit of patience we're talking about doesn't belong to the CBA. Amateur athletic officials are seldom noted for their willingness to wait.

It is the property of a young man by the name of Jim Carnwath, who looks at you seriously from behind a pair of specs then goes out and whacks shuttlecocks with the happy zeal of an orphan at a picnic.

His ability to operate with relaxed efficiency on the court should help the 23-year-old University of Toronto law student hit his two targets in the badminton world.

First, he wants to add a Canadian senior singles crown to the pair of Dominion junior coronets he captured back in 1952 and 53. He could hit that bull's eye in a hurry. Some time Saturday afternoon, when the current Canadian tournament winds up at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club, to be exact.



JIM CARNWATH

Carnwath also wants to be around when Canadian shuttlers revenge their trouncing by the U.S. in this year's international Thomas Cup matches.

If you remember back to last week, Carnwath and the rest of the Canadian squad went through a humiliating two days in California and failed to win any of the nine matches in zone finals of badminton's version of Davis Cup tennis competition. The thoroughness of the trouncing suggests it could be a long wait until the Canucks collect their pound of flesh.

"But I'm a patient man," says Carnwath. "I'm going to be around for quite a while and I can wait." And the knowledge that the lithe, 5-10 160-pounder expects to keep his racquet busy for several years should be happy tidings to the CBA since he appears the most likely candidate to lead Canada back up the badminton ladder.

Several mainstays of recent Canadian teams may be ready to drop out of the top echelon. Toronto's Don Smythe, returning from a two-year layoff at 31, may have been trying to prove to himself he can still run with the youngsters. He learned last night that he can't. Another Torontonian, Bev Wescott, although perhaps the best of them all when he has his shots under control is 30 and can't be expected to improve.

And Dave McTaggart, who got a real scare from Maritime junior John MacDougall last night, seems unable to get back into top condition.

Finally able to get enough time away from his law studies to follow a regular training schedule, Carnwath is having his best year. He has won the Toronto and Ontario district titles, the Montreal Invitational tourney and the Strathgowan Invitational at Toronto, in which he whipped McTaggart in the final.

His Opponents Aren't As Reticent

Jim doesn't like to discuss his chances in this week's tournament. "You've got to beat McTaggart, he's the champ," he said. "Me? I might have a chance."

The men who play against him aren't quite so reticent. Their collective assay of his talents goes something like this:

"He owns one of the best-balanced games you'll find on this continent, and he's still improving. Jim has terrific footwork, a powerful smash and exceptionally strong backhand shots."

To those you can add quick reflexes and the relaxed action of a confident craftsman.

Jim can't be quite that good. He has to have a few weaknesses. But he was an impressive performer while trimming Vancouver's Ken Noble yesterday. And from here he looks like he's a good bet to pick up that Canadian Open title this week.

And if youngsters like MacDougall and Ed Hreljac of Ontario continue to develop, Jim Carnwath may still enjoy revenge in a Thomas Cup match with our neighbors to the south.

Smythe Ousted in Shuttle Singles; McTaggart Gets Scare From Junior

By GRAHAM COX

There may have been some who didn't recognize Harold Moody when the Canadian Open badminton championships started at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club Wednesday.

But they all knew the soft-spoken Montreal youngster when today's matches got under way at the club's Amphion Street courts.

Moody, a three-time winner of the dominion junior crown who is playing his second season in senior ranks, provided the fireworks of what had been a relatively routine opening day when be blasted Toronto's Don Smythe out of the running for the men's singles title.

Smythe, only man to win four successive Canadian singles crowns, went down in a marathon struggle. Back in singles competition after a two-year layoff, Smythe was expected to be among the leading contenders for the title held by Vancouver's Dave McTaggart, but Moody apparently took no notice of his reputation.

Moody opened with his big guns and dropped Smythe 15-9 in their opening round before the former champ came driving back to take the second 15-8.

A long breather was taken here, as the two games so far played had taken nearly an hour and both men's shirts were black from the sweat of their intense exertion.

In the deciding game, Smythe opened strongly in a desperate bid to overpower his young opponent, but Moody wasn't being rattled.

With a long series of high lobbing shots and pin-point accuracy he wore the Thomas Cup player down and came thundering down the stretch to a 15-12 decision.

Defending titlist, Dave McTaggart also got a bit of a jolt in his third round match.

After a first-round bye, he took a pair of 15-8 games from 17-year-old junior John Bracken of Winnipeg. His trouble came in the third round when he had to face John Macdougall from Saint John, N.B.

Jane and Junior Champ May Meet Again

The Maritime junior showed unexpected power in the first game, hammering out a 15-12 decision, before McTaggart caught a second wind and slammed back with two 15-4 decisions.

A pair of mild upsets were recorded in other matches when junior Ed Hreljac, of Creighton Mines, Ont., came through with a win into the quarterfinals on a 12-15, 15-12, 15-2 defeat of seventh ranked Nick Johnson of Washington.

Herljac paired with Dennis Thompson of Winnipeg for the second setback when they took Harold Moody and Bill Bonney of Montreal, in the open doubles.

A hint of what may be expected Saturday in the junior girls' competitions came during the evening when Ann Murray, defending junior singles titlist, played Victoria's unrated Jane Lee.

The Winnipeg champion won the match, 11-7, 8-11, 12-9, but it wasn't easy having to be taken to points before the decision was reached.

Her determination was the only deciding factor in the match, Miss Lee having better shots all round.

In different halves of the junior draw, the two would have to wait, should they win all other matches, until the Saturday finals before meeting again.

Victoria's Harvey Hurd and Hreljec, rated one-two in the junior boys, have been given byes through the first round.

Women's open doubles and singles events progressed down to their quarterfinals almost without incident, favorites upholding their ratings in all cases and no upsets recorded.

SHUTTLES CAUSE COMPLAINTS

Mutterings of discontent and mutiny were heard all over the Amphion Street headquartders of the 1958 Canadian badminton championships Wednesday with the shuttlecocks being used the main target for complaint.

The brand, being used, for the first time in major competition, at the express instruction of the Canadian Badminton Association, are proving anything but satisfactory to the players.

The local tournament committee was opposed to the use of the "birds" and lobbying is being carried out to try and have a change made before the finals are played.

'Y' Swimmers' Pass Tests For BEG Trials

Qualifying times have been posted by five Victoria YM and YWCA swimmers enabling them to compete in the B.C. section swim trials March 15 in Vancouver.

In Vancouver they will attempt to qualify for the British Empire games trials in Montreal April 5 and 7.

Swimmers are: Sally Holland, 100-yard freestyle and 100-yard backstroke; Janie Wheaton and Sue Morgan, both doing the 100-yard breaststroke and the 220-yard breaststroke; Bruce Warburton, 100 freestyle and 100-yard breaststroke; and Bob Wheaton, 100-yard backstroke.

Oak Bay Clinches Playoff Berth

Oak Bay clinched the second senior high school playoff soccer berth Wednesday blanking Mount View 4-0 in a one-sided contest at Carnarvon Park.

Brian Cornell sparked Bays to their third league victory as he scored three times and set up many other plays, which went unfinished.

Bay goalie Bernie Johnson was helped to his second shutout of the season by a tight defence. Oak Bay forwards kept Mount View penned in their own half with only a few exceptions late in the first half.

Larry Brown scored the first Oak Bay marker, taking a Bob Turner pass early in the opening session.

First game of the best-of-three championships is slated for early next week against defending champion Victoria High School.

B of M Names New Manager Of City Branch

A. E. "Bert" Walters has been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal's main branch in Victoria, succeeding Dugald MacGregor, who retires on April 30, it was announced today.

Mr. Walters has been manager of the bank's Kelowna branch since 1953 and he expects to take over the management of the main Victoria branch on Douglas Street on May 1. Mr. MacGregor, who retires after a banking career of 48 years, plans to stay in Victoria during his retirement. He has been B of M manager here since 1951.

Mr. Walters was born in London, England, and joined the bank in Nanaimo. Since then has served in many communities in this province, including Prince Rupert, Prince George, New Westminster, Nelson and Vancouver.

Interested in community activities, Mr. Walters has been a director of the Kelowna Board of Trade and the City's Gyro Club, and for two years was city appointee to the Aviation Council. He has been president of the community chest and vice-president of the Kelowna Little Theatre.

Legislative Body To Meet Saturday On Municipal Act

A meeting of the legislative committee on municipal affairs, to deal with revisions to the Municipal Act, will be held next Saturday morning.

"We have called this meeting because there is so much to be done and so many representations have to be called," a member of the committee said Tuesday night.

The committee has met morning and evening, sometimes in camera, for the past week. It is concerned with the amendments to the Municipal Act to be presented to the legislature this week or next.

Some of these amendments affect store closing.

DELAYED A YEAR

Fountain Circle Action Demanded

Victoria alderman Hugh Ramsay called on city council today to live up to its resolution of last August and begin reconstruction of the Hillside-Douglas Roundabout.

"It is almost a year," he said, "since city council voted to tear out the present roundabout and replace it with the one-way street system recommended by traffic expert J. D. Faustman.

"The last decision, reached in August, was to suspend the project until the effect of the new Point Ellice Bridge, the new east-west crossing of Beacon Hill Park, and the changing of Bay Street to a thoroughfare, was known.

SITUATION WORSE

"Now we know. Traffic is increasing at the roundabout at the rate of 7 per cent a year. Let's get the job done," he added.

A report on the growing problem was submitted by city engineer J. C. Garnett to a public works committee Tuesday. He said recent traffic improvements elsewhere hadn't affected the roundabout. A committee majority, chairman Ald. G. I. Edgelow and Ald. E. D. McEwen favored a further year's delay.

Council moved forward and backward on the controversial project, five times last year.

The decision to try the Faustman plan was reached in May. In June the demolition order was withdrawn. In July council voted to go ahead on an experimental basis. In August council approved the one-way scheme for permanent installation.

Then at the end of August ~~council~~ decided to await the effect of the other new traffic improvements.

BUSINESS HURT

The project was fought last year by a committee of Douglas Street businessmen who felt one-way traffic would hinder their operations.

(Under the Faustman scheme, traffic would travel north on Douglas to the roundabout and south on Government, between Princess Street and Hillside).

Here's how aldermen lined up on the project last year:

Ald. Ramsay and Ald. M. H. Mooney favored an early start on the conversion. Ald. A. I. Curtis called for the delay while new traffic studies were made. Ald. E. D. McEwen said decision should await a referendum. Ald. G. I. Edgelow championed the merchants' group. Mayor Percy Scurrah supported a trial period of one-way traffic. Most discussions showed Ald. Arthur Dowell opposing the move and Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson, undecided.

New alderman, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot hasn't yet been called upon for an opinion.

Council earmarked $30,000 for the conversion and it is still set aside for the job. It is reported the work would take about one-and-a-half months to complete.

3 Weeklies Seized

PARIS (Reuters) — Editions of three left-wing weeklies — L'Express, France - Observateur and the Communist France Nouvelle — were seized Wednesday night on orders of the ministry of the interior. It was understood they contained articles on Algeria.

Mental Hospital Strike Hinted By CCF Member

Poor working conditions in provincial mental institutions were blamed by a CCF member of the legislature Wednesday for discontent among government workers in the mental health services.

"If this is not faced seriously you will have a strike vote at Essondale soon," Cedric Cox (CCF-Burnaby) warned the government.

Mr. Cox said it was up to the government to inquire into the situation and "find out what is wrong."

He was speaking in support of a resolution introduced by Gordon Dowding, the other Burnaby CCF member, recommending that the legislative social welfare and education committee hear briefs from the B.C. Medical Association, Canadian Mental Health Association and other organizations.

Debate on the resolution was adjourned by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black.

Mr. Dowding said such an inquiry would "clear the air" over disputed reports of staff cuts in mental institutions.

Randolph Harding (CCF-Kaslo-Slocan) said the committee should try to discover why there is a shortage of trained staff for the institutions. He suggested that salaries may be too low.

Dan Campbell (SC-Comox) opposed the inquiry because he said the opposition would make a "political football" of it.

Mr. Campbell suggested that interested organizations send their briefs directly to the provincial secretary.

ROYAL PORTRAIT HERE MARCH 24

Famed portrait of Queen Elizabeth, done in 1955 for the Fishmongers' Company by Italian painter Pietro Annigoni, will be exhibited in the rotunda of the legislative buildings from 8.30 a.m. March 24 to April 3.

The local branch of the English Speaking Union is sponsoring the showing.

Missionary Prayer Day Raised $341

Missionary work of the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada benefited by $341 from services held locally during the recent World Day of Prayer.

The money, which reached a nationwide total last year of $40,435, is donated to church missions including the International Missionary Council, Inter-Church Aid and Service to Refugees, and the Canadian Missions to Lepers.

Among the countries aided by this work are Africa, Latin America, India, Japan, Korea and Pakistan.

Anti-Inflation Parley Labor Group Proposal

Canadian Labor Congress should propose a top-level conference of labor, business and government to work out reduction of prices and wages, Victoria Labor Council was told Wednesday.

The anti-inflation conference was suggested in a letter from an Alberni District Labor Council committee as "food for thought." It was received and filed by VLC without discussion.

John A. Heineman, committee chairman, wrote VLC that the national conference should include representatives from the CLC, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and other employer groups — "the objective being to reduce prices and wages by collective agreement."

Mr. Heineman said it is generally conceded that "labor's yearly quest for wage increases to meet higher standards of living costs do result in higher prices, lowers our competitive position on world markets and certainly is a contributing factor in the unemployment situation."

He said employers continually snipe at labor for causing inflation and seek restrictive legislation against union demands. Labor replies that wage demands are made in self-defence against inflationary prices and lowering of living standards.

"It is time that Canadian labor through its congress . . . should assume the leading role in an effort to intelligently approach these problems and seek a solution which will aid the economy of the country and promote world trade," the letter said.

Rules—Important—Read Carefully

1. Place an X in pencil over the alphabetical letter to right of the number on your card, if the same number appears properly in the SUPER-VALU newspaper ad.
2. In each week's SUPER-VALU newspaper ad 30 numbers will each be enclosed in a square-circle-diamond, etc. You can match these numbers on any card.
3. If you have five consecutive numbers in a row—down, across or diagonally—you have a winning card. To receive your gift, return the card as instructed on the back of the card.
4. Numbers on your card are to be matched against numbers in the SUPER-VALU newspaper ad. Check the SUPER-VALU newspaper ads in Victoria newspapers.
5. Cards can be played at home on any of the newspaper ads during the 12 weeks, but cards are winners and redeemable only if played on an individual week's newspaper ad and all 30 numbers that week in the newspaper ad are surrounded by the same shape—circle-square-diamond, etc.
6. We reserve the right to correct any typographical or other error or errors which might appear in any published matter in connection with this game and to reject winning cards not obtained through legitimate channels.
7. "CROSS-OUT" cards are given away freely at all SUPER-VALU stores, no purchases are required.
8. Elimination contest will be held if cards are sent in for more than two automobiles, one mink stole, one refrigerator, and one range.

Ontario Motorists Happy As War Slashes Gas Prices

TORONTO (CP) — Motorists are gleefully jamming service stations in three Ontario cities to take advantage of gas prices up to 10 cents a gallon below regular price.

The cities are Toronto, Hamilton and Windsor. Five downtown Toronto stations are selling gas at 36 to 36.9 cents a gallon, Windsor stations are selling at 37.9 and Hamilton at 36.9 with one dealer going as low as 34.9. Only standard gas so far has been affected.

Prices are usually 44.9 cents a gallon in Hamilton, 43.9 in Toronto and 44 in Windsor.

All five Toronto stations reported booming sales. One operator said no one has been hurt yet but "if this continues it won't do any of us any good."

One Hamilton dealer said he has quadrupled business with his price of 34.9 cents a gallon.

Twenty British-American Oil Company dealers in Windsor were asking the company for subsidies similar to those given by Sun Oil, Shell Oil and Cities Service.

MONTREAL (CP)—The U.S. dollar was at a discount of 2 3/32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds today. Pound sterling $2.75 9/16.

NEW YORK (CP)—The Canadian dollar was at a premium of 2 5/32 per cent in terms of U.S. funds today. The pound sterling was at $2.81 21/32.

Auto Workers Win Fight With Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union has won its fight with Chrysler for a 40-hou. work week for high-seniority Detroit-area workers and layoffs with unemployment benefits for the rest.

With Chrysler employment in the U.S. currently down from 108,000 at this time last year to somewhere around 80,000, the union argued that a full work week for some and unemployment compensation for the others is a better deal than a short work week for all.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Toronto, New York Both Show Advances

Adding to earlier gains in the late afternoon the Toronto stock market was higher today in light trading.

Main feature in the industrial list was a seven-point jump by Premier Trust to lead financial institutions higher. Confederate Life was off a point at 127. Trans-Mountain Pipe Line paced pipelines to higher ground, ahead 2½ at 45½. Page Hersey added 1⅜ at 117⅞ among steels. Other gains were fractional.

Steels, oils and coppers were briskly traded as the New York market rose in active trading late in the afternoon. Key stocks advanced from fractions to around two points as prices reached their peaks for the day in late dealings.

AT TORONTO Geco Mines, ahead 60 cents at $8.60, led coppers higher. Senior base metals had small gains in Hudson Bay and International Nickel. Giant Yellowknife climbed 20 cents at $5.85 among golds with other gains ranging to 15 cents. Senior uraniums firmed but Stanleigh added 16 cents at $1.95 among juniors.

Western oils were higher in a wide range. Calgary and Edmonton, Pacific Pete and Home Oil were fractional winners. Juniors were paced by Security Freehold, up 15 cents at $4.65 but National Pete was off 15 cents at $2.02.

AT NEW YORK International Nickel and Aluminium Ltd., with a ⅞ boost, were favored Canadian stock. Hudson Bay Mining ran up a gain of 1¾. Canadian Pacific advanced ¼ as the rails climbed. Distillers-Seagrams was up ⅜, Dome Mines ⅛, Granby Mining ⅛ and Walker-Gooderham ¼. Another mining issue, McIntyre Porcupine, was unchanged.

Moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange also saw prices rise. Shawinigan made the biggest advance, ⅝, among Canadian shares. Preston East Dome and Fargo Oil improved slightly. Fractionally lower were Canadian Marconi, Molybdenite and Scurry-Rainbow Oil.

AT MONTREAL trading was active and prices were generally higher today on the stock exchange.

Almost all sections were stronger and the only noticeable weakness was in the newsprints. Fraser was off ¾ to 23¾ and Great Lakes dropped ½ to 31.

Utilities, pipelines, banks, steels and base metals were all firmer.

AT LONDON prices were firm on the stock market today, the first day of the stock exchange's new financial year.

Leading industrials were strong and dollar issues tended higher.

Gilt-edged securities were quiet but trading was at slightly improved prices.

South African gold shares were quiet and no trend developed.

AT VANCOUVER prices showed an upward trend on a moderate market during the forenoon. Basco sold 2,500 at 45. Bethlehem Copper traded 1,500 at 61. Skeena moved 5,000 at 10. Trojan traded 6,000 at 20.

Well-Known N.Y. Hotels Involved In Gigantic Swap

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of New York's best-known hotels have changed hands in a gigantic swap.

The Sheraton-Astor was turned over to Zeckendorf Hotels Corp. in exchange for the Ambassador, which went to the Sheraton Corp. of America.

Zeckendorf Hotels Corp. then sold the Sheraton-Astor to a syndicate headed by Joseph I. Lubin. The hotel then was leased back from the Lubin group under a long-term contract by Webb & Knapp Inc., the parent firm of Zeckendorf hotels.

William Zeckendorf Jr. of Webb & Knapp, promptly renamed the Sheraton-Astor the Astor, its original name when it was built in 1903 by William Waldorf Astor. It is located on Broadway at Times Square.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Most prices were irregularly easier in dull trade on the Winnipeg grain exchange. Declines reflected the easier tones on United States markets. There were no reports of export business in Canadian coarse grains.

Flax had moderately active trade. Offerings were liberal and met only by limited export house and processor demand. Prices were easier.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: the United Kingdom 100,000 bushels and small lots to Belgium and Denmark.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all down ⅛ cent except No. 5 Northern which was down 1⅛ cents.

SENSATIONAL NEW BUILDING METHOD!

Produces modern, low-profile buildings up to 120 ft. wide without interior posts or roof trusses

Heart of this new building method is a steel structural system for one-storey construction just developed by Butler, world's largest manufacturer of pre-engineered buildings. Structural system is so strong it can bridge floor areas up to 120 ft. wide without a single interior post or roof truss. The building interior is wide open — wall to wall. Makes layout planning easier, permits maximum use of space, gives more eye-appeal to retail store interiors. Roof of building looks almost flat — as modern as today's newest architecture. Costs no more than traditional construction, is weeks to months faster.

Solid Labor Vote Urged to Get Jobs

CCFer Charges Old-Line Parties Won't Help Employment Situation

Election of a Liberal or Conservative government will not eliminate the unemployment problem, Victoria CCF candidate Victor Williams said Wednesday.

Addressing the Victoria Labor Council, he called for a bloc vote by labor for the CCF to advance its own interests in Parliament.

"We have had only two kinds of government in Canada, the Liberals and Conservatives, or a combination of both sometimes called Social Credit," he said.

"Yet despite all their promises, despite all the money and richness of Canada, every year brings its ghost of unemployment."

Mr. Williams said only the CCF provided a solution by its determination to change the social system that creates unemployment.

He said all workers in Canada could put the CCF in power by "two strokes of the pen" on a ballot. It could be kicked out by the same means if it did not carry out its policies of improving conditions.

He said competing capitalist companies "gang up" at election time to support capitalist parties, while the labor movement is "disintegrated" by scattered votes.

Mr. Williams also claimed that "the CCF conscience has shamed, blackmailed if you will," the other parties into doing something for working men, whether organized in unions or not.

"For the last 25 years the CCF has put a big boot on the Liberals' rear to force them to legislate progressive measures," he said.

Mental Hospitals Protests Backed By Labor Council

Victoria Labor Council Wednesday voted to prepare a resolution supporting protests against "unsatisfactory conditions" in B.C. psychiatric institutions.

Action was taken at the request of Mrs. Edith Frankham, president of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Mental Association, B.C. division.

"Bell Ringers" of Oak Bay schools will take part in the program.

Earlier in the evening, as an Education Week feature, a demonstration arithmetic lesson will be telecast locally at 5.30 p.m. Taking part will be Willows School students and teacher William Chater.

MLAs Question Immigration Ads

Advertisements in British newspapers give the impression Canada is crying out for labor, C.C.F. leader Robert Strachan told the legislature Wednesday.

Mr. Strachan quoted from an advertisement in the Cumberland News of Jan. 25 last, which read:

> Canada urgently requires farm workers, skilled and semi-skilled tradesmen, nurses, school teachers, shorthand typists.

The advertisement invited would-be immigrants to meet a Canadian immigration specialist to talk over prospects of settling in Canada.

"We wonder why such advertisements should appear in British newspapers while we are debating unemployment in Canada," Mr. Strachan said.

"And we wonder if there is some liaison between this government and the Canadian Immigration Department."

The CCF leader supported a motion from George Gregory (Liberal-Victoria) that all correspondence since 1952 between the provincial government and the federal minister of citizenship and immigration dealing with British Columbia's policy of absorbing immigrants be tabled in the house.

The motion was carried unanimously by all sides.

T-BRICKS FOR KOREA

Victoria Paid Third Of Cost of TB Ward

More than one-third of a modern out-patients pavilion for tubercular children of Seoul, Korea, "belongs" to Victoria.

"Canada House," the new addition to a children's tuberculosis hospital, was dedicated Friday.

Through The Times "T-Bricks for Korea" fund, Victorians contributed $9,300 in the four weeks before Christmas toward construction of the $26,000 building.

A further $1,200 came from officers and men of the Army Command in London, Ont., making the Canadian contribution the largest among several foreign benefactors.

Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova of Ottawa, executive director of the Unitarian Services Committee, represented Canadian contributors at the ceremony.

Seoul Mayor Huh Chung presented a citation to Dr. Hitschmanova at an earlier ceremony "for exceptionally outstanding services to relieve the suffering of the people of Korea."

The Unitarian Services Committee was co-sponsor with The Times for the "T-Bricks" campaign here.

Canada House will be used extensively for home visits as well as out-patients.

WINDOW-CRASHING DEER JUST PANE IN THE NECK

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—Matt Erschen and two other workmen this week were holding a seven-by-10-foot plate-glass window ready for installation in a cigar store. Suddenly they saw a deer bounding up the sidewalk toward them.

The men frantically waved at the animal and tried to swing.

Apparently the deer took the cue because he circled the big glass—and crashed through a five-by-six-foot window on the other side of the building.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce will assume costs of altering wording of the Causeway welcome lights, secretary Arnold Webb said Tuesday.

City council public works committee had earlier asked investigation of allegations that the city was paying $100 each time the wording was altered, while the chamber was collecting a $10-a-word rental from officials hosting conventions.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Sandy Bates, aged 10, of Atlanta, Ga., for his question:

What Was a Moa?

The story of the moa birds is a tale of tragedy. A thousand years ago, when Leif Ericson visited the New World, the moas thrived on the islands of New Zealand. Then the big birds met disaster with which they could not cope. The last of them perished several hundred years ago. There are no moa birds in the world today, nor will there ever be moa birds again.

This is the tragedy when any creature becomes extinct. We know that its kind can never exist again. For every creature is the result of a long, long history. It developed its form and its habits by adapting to the changes around it. It is the product of ages of changes, accidents and events which the old earth can never repeat.

This is why we fight hard to preserve an animal threatened with extinction. We have saved the bison from disappearing forever from our land and we are trying hard to save the quaint whooping crane. We did not save the glossy passenger pigeon and we shall never see his likes again.

The big moa bird had at least 60 million years of history behind him. He had learned to cope with the climate and bring up his children in safety. He had a good life on the islands of New Zealand.

The moa looked like a monstrous ostrich. There were several kinds, the largest of which stood nine feet tall and weighed a quarter of a ton. Naturally, no bird this size and weight ever took to the air. The moa was a flightless bird.

The ancestors of the moa had been smaller, small enough to spread their wings and fly. But they gave up life in the air and grew larger and heavier through the ages.

About 1,000 years ago, New Zealand was settled by human beings. They were the Maoris, come all the way across the sea from the Polynesian Islands. The Maoris made themselves at home. They soon discovered that the big moa birds made fine food.

Natives Showed No Mercy

The big birds could not escape them. They were heavy and rather slow in their movements. At first they had no fear of man. Later, when they tried to escape, it was too late. It was no problem for men and even boys to run them down and club them to death.

The slaughter went on without mercy. The Maoris did not stop even when they noticed the big birds becoming scarce. They hunted and killed until the last of the moa birds was gone. The settlers from Polynesia were thereafter without moa meat. But far, far more sad was the fact that a creature was gone from the world in which it had lived for countless ages.

A New Zealand cousin of the moa is the little kiwi bird. This chicken-sized fellow is also flightless. Its feathers are soft and long like silken hair. A kiwi lives in the famous San Diego Zoo, though this is a very rare thing. The little fellow is exceedingly shy of human beings and does not usually thrive in captivity. Do you wonder?

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Al Rhetta Hart, age nine, of Boise, Idaho, for his question:

Why is it cooler at the top of mountains?

Surely the mountain tops are nearer the sun than is the seashore. Since this is so, we would expect them to get more heat. After all, the closer we stand to a fire, the more heat we feel from it. But this rule does not apply to the earth and the sun's heat.

This is because sunlight does not give up its heat to the air. On the way down to us it passes through several hundred miles of atmosphere. But little, if any, of its heat is lost. This heat is saved for the solid earth and the sea.

The air gets its heat from the warmed land and oceans. The bottom layer of air is heated only when it touches warm land and sea. This warm air may rise but, as it does so, it expands and cools. Hence, the higher we go, the cooler the air becomes.

Warm air from below cannot rise to the top of the tall mountains. Up there it is always cool. Even at the equator there are mountain tops cool enough to wear snow the year round.

Crane Attendant Crushed to Death

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A crane attendant was crushed to death Tuesday night while working in a General Electric plant here.

Herbert Dietz was killed when a 1,000-pound block supporting a rotor commutator on which he was working tumbled from its support and fell on him.

Stalin, Russia's Forgotten Ruler

By WHITMAN BASSOW

MOSCOW (UP) — Five years ago Wednesday Stalin died, mourned by Russian millions. Today he is practically a forgotten man.

True, he is enshrined in a red and black marble tomb in Red Square alongside Lenin, if only in recognition of his undoubted contribution to forging a powerful industrial state from a backward agricultural land.

But people seem genuinely desirous of forgetting Stalin and what are officially described as his "excesses."

BARED MISDEEDS

Stalin was toppled from his pedestal by Nikita Khrushchev in a historic speech to the party congress on Feb. 25, 1956. In it, he laid bare the incredible catalogue of Stalin's misdeeds.

A Russian friend, who was present at a meeting at which the speech was made known, told me:

"There was a minute of deathly silence while comrades stared at each other in surprise and dismay. Then there were excited murmurs and whispers of, 'I can't believe it.'"

WHAT NOW?

"What will we do now?" asked our Russian friend then.

"All our lives we were singing songs for Stalin. Every meeting was opened with quotations from Stalin and we read history books about him from childhood.

"All that will have to be changed. It means that we must rewrite history books and learn new songs. There is so much work to do."

Recently I asked the same Russian how he feels about it now. He laughed and said:

NOT SO BAD

"You know, it wasn't as bad as I thought it would be. After the first shock everybody accepted the new situation.

I asked him whether he had learned any new songs.

"Yes," he said. "We learned new love songs and jazz."

Other friends were asked how their lives had changed. They all agreed on the most important change: greater freedom to think, talk and criticize.

MORE TO BUY

A woman doctor said that life generally has become easier. She noted there is more to buy in stores — particularly more clothes. There are more apartments to be had, too, and most important of all, have fewer worries, fewer fears."

Scottish MPs Not Licked Yet On Burns Stamp

LONDON (Reuters) — Scots members of Parliament pressed the government Wednesday to reconsider its decision not to issue a special stamp to mark the bi-centenary of the birth of Robert Burns, the Scots poet.

They were supported by Herbert Morrison, former Labor foreign secretary who described himself as a Cockney "but nevertheless a great admirer and student of Robert Burns."

Kenneth Thompson, assistant postmaster-general, said the post office was "not called upon to decide what prominence to give to Burns in the calendar of the great."

It had to decide how it could take the suggestion into account in relation to post office stamp-issuing policy, which was "to issue only a limited number of special stamps and to maintain their very high quality."

Record Time Crossing For U.S. Atom Sub

PORTLAND, Eng. (AP)—The nuclear-powered American submarine Skate docked at this British naval base Wednesday, and its skipper claimed a record for the fastest trans-Atlantic crossing from the United States ever made by submarine.

The sleek, lead-colored sub crossed the Atlantic in eight days 11 hours—travelling under water all the way.

"That's the way to travel," said the skipper, Cmdr. James F. Calvert. "I've never been so enthusiastic about any ship in my life.

203 HOURS

"Our time of 203 hours beat anything ever done by a submarine coming from the United States to Europe."

Calvert said the Nautilus, first and biggest American atomic sub, may have clocked a similar time to the Skate's on a recent west-bound return trip from Europe.

He said he was not sure just what the previous best west-to-east time was but "a submarine is going pretty well usually if it makes the trip in around 14 days."

Calvert declined on security grounds to tell the speed at which the Skate travelled, how many miles she covered or at what depth the journey was made.

CONSERVATIVE

He described the sub's official 61,000-mile range as "a highly conservative figure."

The Skate carries nine officers and 86 men. Only 10 of them have had previous service in an atomic submarine. The sub is expected to stay in Portland five days before going on to visit other Europeon ports. She is due to return to the U.S. later this month.

The 265-foot Skate sailed from Groton, Conn., Feb. 24.

Ice Research By Canada Still Lagging

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is not pulling its weight in Arctic research, officials said Wednesday.

They were commenting on results of an international conference on Arctic Sea ice at Easton, Md., last week. Nations represented at the conference included Canada, the United States, Britain, Russia, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Germany and Japan.

One authority here said Canada has more icebound coastline than any other nation but is doing less on ice research than any other country represented at the conference.

Another official said this situation will tend to worsen instead of improve in light of transfer of the navy's Arctic patrol vessel Labrador to the transport department.

The Labrador carried out considerable oceanographic and hydrographic research in the last three years.

Officials disclosed Wednesday, however, that the Labrador will be confined this year to convoying supply ships into the Arctic.

Russ Still Hopeful Visa Will Find Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope, in quest of a visa to Moscow, flew in from London via New York Wednesday and was told by the Russian Embassy that a visa awaits him—in London.

Hope had spent several days in the British capital waiting in vain for credentials to fly to Moscow and do a television show.

Soviet diplomats here told him to go ahead to Moscow and film a TV program for North American audiences. They said they might even want to show it to Russian viewers.

Madame Tamara Mamedova, the Soviet Embassy's cultural attache, had this explanation for the appearance of Hope's visa in London after he had flown back to the United States.

"He moves so fast we couldn't catch up with him," she told reporters.

Doctors Won't Stop Social Welfare Work

VANCOUVER (CP) — Doctors will continue to treat social welfare recipients even if the provincial government contract is not renewed March 31.

"We will continue to supply adequate medical care to pensioners under any circumstances," said Dr. G. G. Ferguson, executive secretary of the Canadian Medical Association, B.C. division, Wednesday.

Dr. Ferguson said that at present almost half the cost of service to welfare patients is provided by the doctors themselves.

"The government has been getting credit for the program of which doctors actually are making a success," he said.

The doctors are seeking increased payments and a new contract. The government at present pays $22.50 a year for medical costs of each social welfare case. It is understood the medical association wants an increase of about $6.

Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin says the situation will be investigated by the legislative committee on health and welfare.

"The program, one of the finest there is for pensioners is not breaking down, it's just the ability of doctors to work with the government," said Dr. Ferguson in an interview.

"Socialized medicine under this government would certainly be impossible," he added.

Power Saw Issue Idles Loggers

COURTENAY — Fallers and buckers are idle in all Comox Logging Company operations in this district while a dispute over power-saw pay is negotiated.

Beginning March 1, all Crown Zellerbach fallers in B.C. were informed they would receive a flat $5 a day allowance for their power saws instead of the previous piece-work rates, Jake Epp, Courtenay IWA secretary, said.

Comox Logging is a subsidiary of Crown Zellerbach.

In the past, power saw allowances were paid at the rate of one-third of the labor cost, about 42 cents a thousand for timber fallen, amounting to as much as $15 or more a day.

The pay dispute will be the subject of a district IWA meeting with Crown Zellerbach officials today in Vancouver. Annual meeting of Courtenay IWA local at 2 p.m. Saturday also will discuss the issue.

Comox Logging booked the fallers off Monday after they turned down the flat $5 pay. About 24 sets of fallers and buckers are employed in the company's various operations in the district. Many of the fallers with high seniority "bumped" into tree-planting jobs until normal operations resume. Other crews are not affected yet by the cut-off in falling as a sufficient cut of timber is on hand to keep them working.

Courtenay IWA's annual meeting will have to deal with other financial issues Saturday. A proposed merger between Local 1-363 here and Local 180 at Duncan will be up for discussion.

Decreasing membership in the locals may force the merger move. Completion of the Buttle Lake project and effects of automation have led to shrinking membership rolls.

MORE OLD CARS ASKED FOR RUN FROM FERNIE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Twenty vintage cars will take part in a 700-mile centennial run from Fernie to Victoria starting May 19.

The run, sponsored by the B.C. centennial committee, is expected to take five days.

Co-ordinator Frank E. Applebe, West Vancouver, said Wednesday the committee is underwriting all general road expenses.

About half a dozen cars will be taken to Fernie for the start of the run and other cars are expected to join the procession as it makes its way through the B.C. interior. On reaching Vancouver the cars will go by ship to Nanaimo, then on to Victoria.

Mr. Applebe said he is looking especially for pre-first World War vehicles to take part.

WCB Will Conduct Course at Chemainus

CHEMAINUS — The Workmen's Compensation Board will hold a three-day oxygen therapy course in Legion Hall March 14, 15 and 16 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Primarily for the benefit of 20 MacMillan and Bloedel employees taking industrial first aid, the course will be open free to any who care to take it.

DUNCAN TOPS CONTRIBUTIONS TO UBC FUND

Duncan has the best record of all up-Island communities in contributions to the University of British Columbia Development Fund drive, Arthur Sager, the fund's assistant director, said in Victoria.

Duncan has contributed about $23,000, under chairmanship of David Williams.

Gorge Plywood Plant Awarded First Centennial Safety Prize

For being the safest plant of its type in British Columbia, the Forest Products Ltd. was awarded the first Centennial safety award of the year, Wednesday.

The award, a plaque, was presented to C. D. Dickey, president of the company, by Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, at a brief ceremony at the plant.

Jack Mackenzie, president of Local 1-118, IWA, received a similar plaque on behalf of the union.

The plant won the award for completing 116,640 man-days free of compensable lost time and injury for a period starting in January, 1957, to the present.

This represents 932,120 hours free of accidents — a phenomenal achievement, according to safety experts.

The plant suffered from only one accident during 1957. Its accident frequency rate was thus an all-time low of 1.13.

Two years ago the plant's frequency rate was 8.66. At that time this was considered a low accident rate.

How was the accident rate reduced?

According to President Dickey the achievement was due to the interest and co-operation between management and labour.

The plywood plant ranks high in the province for its safety measures. A safety committee composed of 24 members is constantly on the lookout for poor working habits. New employees are immediately trained to guard against accidents.

The committee's safety program has paid off over the years. In 1954, 1955 and 1956 it won the Workmen's Compensation Board award for safety in plywood plants in British Columbia.

Death Car Ran In Wrong Lane

COURTENAY—The death car in which three people died in a head-on collision near Oyster River Oct. 19 was travelling in the wrong lane as it rounded a curve, a coroner's jury found Wednesday.

The jury said, after hearing conflicting evidence, that it was unable to determine who was driving the car in which Mrs. Helga M. Trembley, 40, and Neil A. Creelman, 50, were killed. Another passenger in the car, Mrs. Inid M. Carney, 44, died early Oct. 20 in Comox Hospital.

It had been travelling toward Campbell River when it was in collision with another car carrying William Beardsworth and Stewart Henderson, both of Campbell River.

OTHERS INJURED

Two other persons were in the death car. They are owner H. J. Benson, still in Vancouver General Hospital with a broken back, and Henry Carney. Carney, husband of Inid Carney, has recovered after spending time in Comox and Vancouver hospitals.

A written statement obtained from Benson in Vancouver for Coroner Tom Menzies said that nine people had shared 12 bottles of beer and then the party of five went to the liquor store on the way back to Campbell River.

Benson's statement said he had felt sleepy and had asked Mrs. Carney to drive. He said he did not think there had been any drinking in the car after the party left Courtenay.

Socred Group Backs Mullett, Record Known

COURTENAY (CP) — The president of the Comox-Alberni Social Credit Association, Wednesday issued a statement reaffirming support for W. S. Mullett, party candidate in the riding, whose police record has been publicized in the press.

"We believe that a person who has successfully rehabilitated himself is to be encouraged, not condemned," the statement says. "This executive was fully aware of the record of our candidate at the time of his nomination.

"We feel that the people of British Columbia will agree with us on our standing since the people of British Columbia, by their efforts, proved that they were interested in the maintaining of the Borstal system. There is no use in maintaining such a system if we are to ruin the lives of those who do succeed in rehabilitating themselves."

Hospital Day May 12

CHEMAINUS — The hospital auxiliary will recognize Hospital Day on May 12 with a special program in the centennial year theme. Specialty sale stalls will be set up and the public will be invited to tour the hospital. A showing of films will entertain children who accompany their parents.

April 2 Set Post Office Tenders Date

SIDNEY — Closing date for tenders to construct an addition to the post office here which would double the lobby size will be April 2.

The job is expected to cost about $65,000, and will extend the present structure to the property line on Fourth Street on which another entrance will be built, allowing a free flow of traffic through the lobby.

Concrete will be laid at the building's rear, and new postal boxes added. More than 60 names have been on the waiting list for boxes.

Water System Voting Today

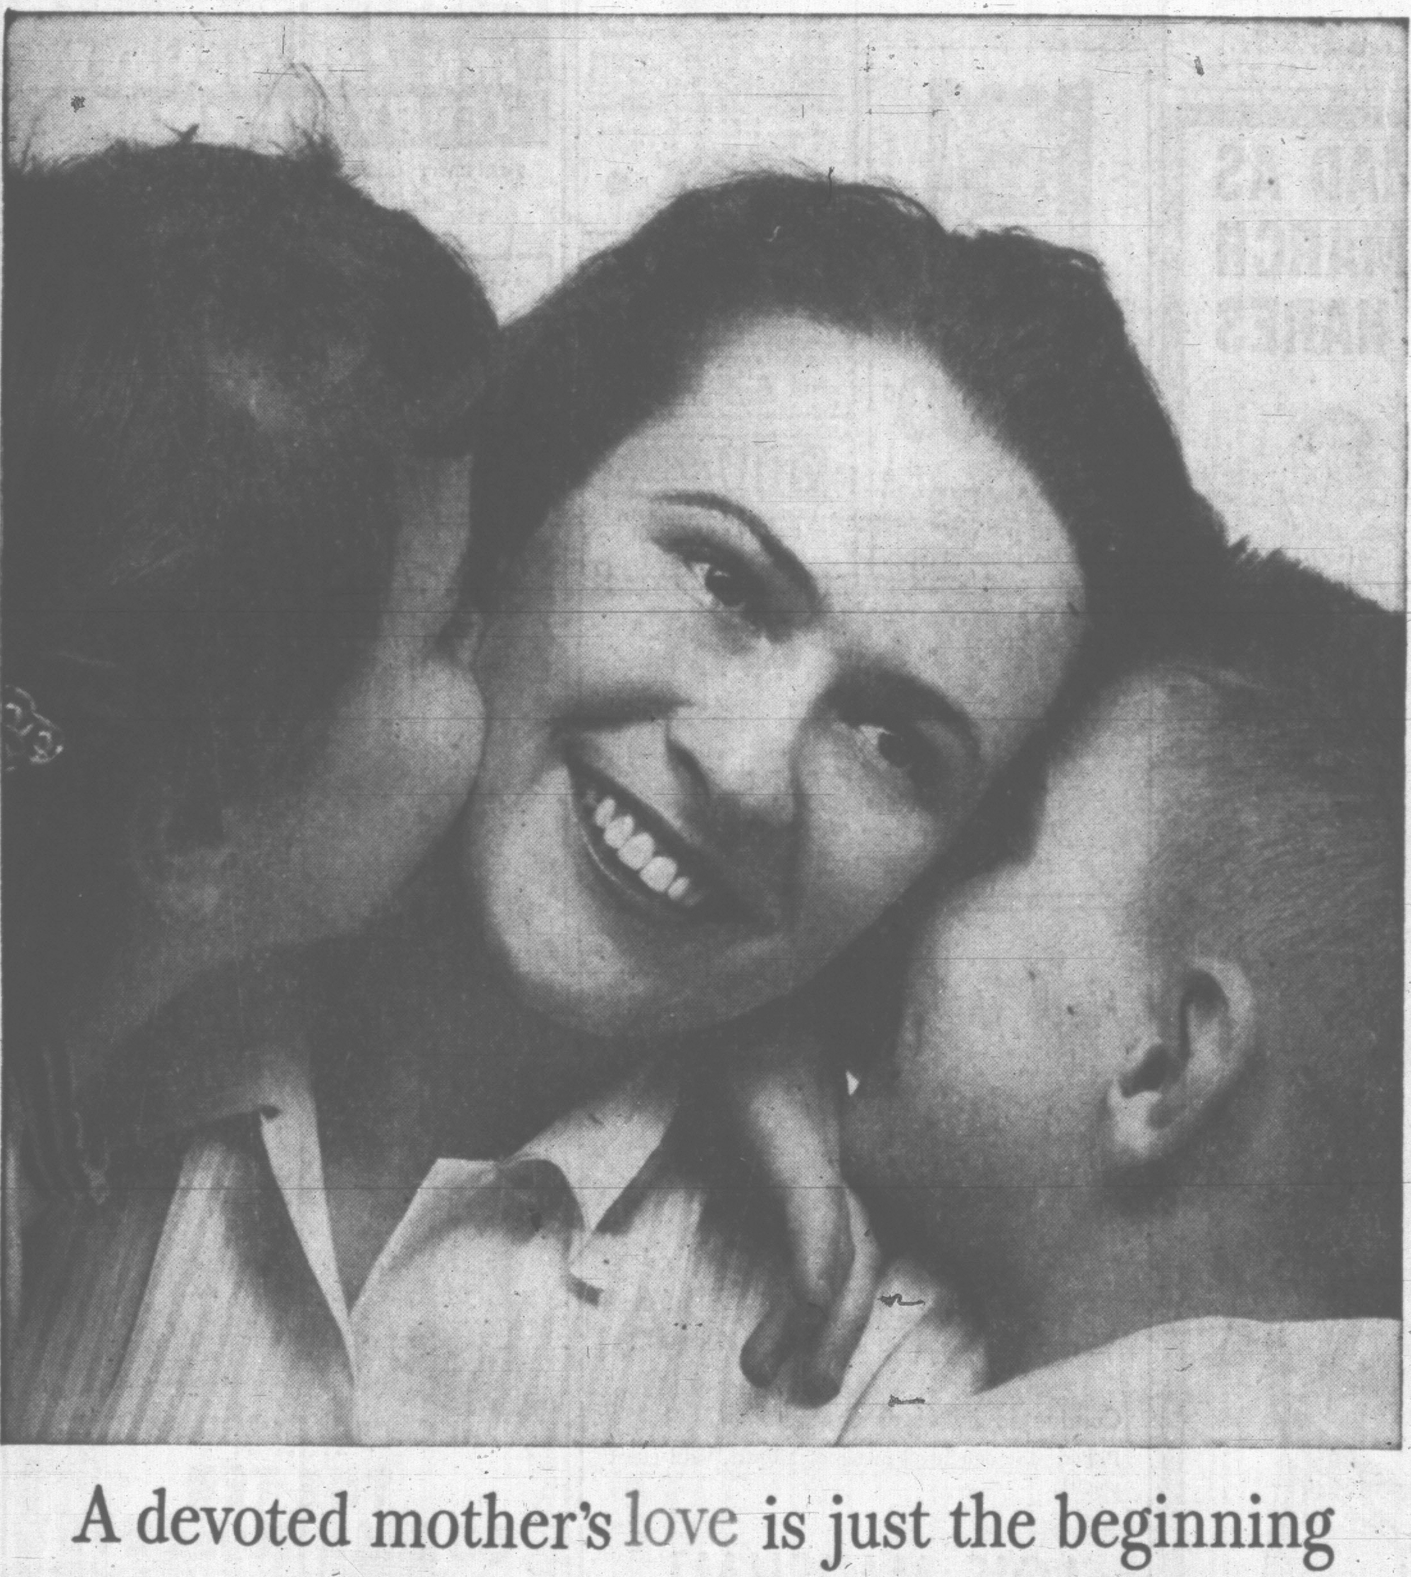
DUNCAN — Owner-electors of Duncan vote today on a bylaw to spend $65,000 on improving the city's water system.

Improvements would include a new pump house and a 14-inch steel line to replace the present 10-inch wooden mains.

The expenditure would be financed out of operational revenue and temporary bank loans, and not by increase of taxation on property.

BURNED CABIN REPLACED BY LEGION 'MIRACLE'

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY — Sam Larson, 80, and George Ness, 73, lost their cabin in a fire in this community in the Queen Charlotte Islands off B.C.'s north coast. Two days later they discovered a "miracle." A fully insulated home and well-stocked larder stood in place of the charred ruins, thanks to the Canadian Legion.



A devoted mother's love is just the beginning

Of course, all the love and attention you shower on your children is of the utmost importance. But there is one further step to take if you want to give your youngsters the extra energy they need. This simple step is seeing to it that your child gets the benefits of added nutritional values . . . so vital for the development of growing young minds and bodies. One of these success foods is Ovaltine, which contains many of the more important vitamins and minerals. Taken in one of the simplest forms of all—mixed with milk—Ovaltine can make a great difference to your children during their "growing-up" years. Start giving them the benefits of Ovaltine's added nutritional values today.

Teachers Ask Help of Labor In Wage Battle

'Beating Down' By Trustees Charged

B.C. Teachers' Federation Wednesday charged that Greater Victoria school trustees' main interest is "to beat the teachers down" instead of the welfare of students.

The charge was made in a letter to Victoria Labor Council asking it to "tell the Victoria school board that labor stands for good schools and expects the school board to establish proper relationships with teachers so that there will be a good school system."

VLC agreed to the request and invited teachers to re-affiliate with the labor organization. The teachers withdrew their affiliation with the old Trades and Labor Council here several years ago.

The federation letter thanked VLC for previous support in a bid for salary increases for Victoria teachers. It said the quarrel between teachers and school boards will inevitably hurt local school systems.

"Individual school trustees will not suffer but the school children will," wrote C. D. Ovans, general secretary of the BCTF.

The B.C. School Trustees Association has "deliberately set out to provoke the teachers," he said. "Some local school boards, like Victoria, are blindly following that policy.

"The main interests of the BCSTA at the moment seems to be to beat the teachers down and some school boards have become so interested in the game . . . that they have apparently forgotten that their main function is to provide good schools with good teachers for the school children."

Convention To Draw 150

Chartered TCA planes Sunday will bring some 150 delegates and their wives to Victoria for the Canadian Tilden Rent-a-Car System convention.

They will be met by local Tilden personnel garbed in tweedy English outfits and carrying crazy signs of welcome.

Each couple will ride to the city in a chauffeur-driven car.

The convention will be held at the Empress Hotel Monday to Wednesday, followed by a "post-convention" for the rest of the week, organizer Jack Hawthorne, general manager of Tilden Rent-a-Car here, said.

The post-convention will be devoted to tours of HMC Dockyard, Butchart Gardens, Canadian Services College at Royal Roads and bus trips up-Island.

LIVED TOO HIGHLY—Maj.-Gen. John B. Ackerman, top U.S. Air Force commander in the Philippines, has been relieved of his command for living too high at government expense. ### INCOME TAX TIPS

Return Right Form, Send It in Early

As a special service to Times readers, Gordon Holms, Victoria chartered accountant, has agreed to provide a series of articles dealing with income tax problems to help eliminate the trouble sometimes experienced in filing proper returns. Here is the second of the series.

By GORDON HOLMS
Member, Institute of Chartered Accountants

Join this year's trend and file your income tax returns early.

To date, there have been about 45 per cent more returns sent to the local taxation office than at the same time last year.

This office is in the Belmont Building, 614 Humboldt Street. Here income tax returns come from throughout Vancouver Island. Last year there were 94,000!

The Victoria tax officials point out that it is of great benefit to both the local income tax department and the taxpayer to have returns received at the Belmont Building well in advance of the April 30 deadline, in order to send in refund requisitions to Ottawa.

But, they point out, "be sure to use the correct form."

In most cases, there are just two choices: The T-1 Short form for the person whose income consists solely of wages or pension, and whose investment income is not over $2,500, and the T-1 General for all others.

These forms are available at the Belmont Building and the main Post Office, Government Street.

If incorrect forms are used, they go automatically to different departmental assesors, and must be re-routed again. This takes time.

Another slow-down is occasioned by incomplete provision of information.

This means the department must write the individual concerned, a time-consuming operation, all of which slows down the refund.

Aussies Customs Ban Book Sale

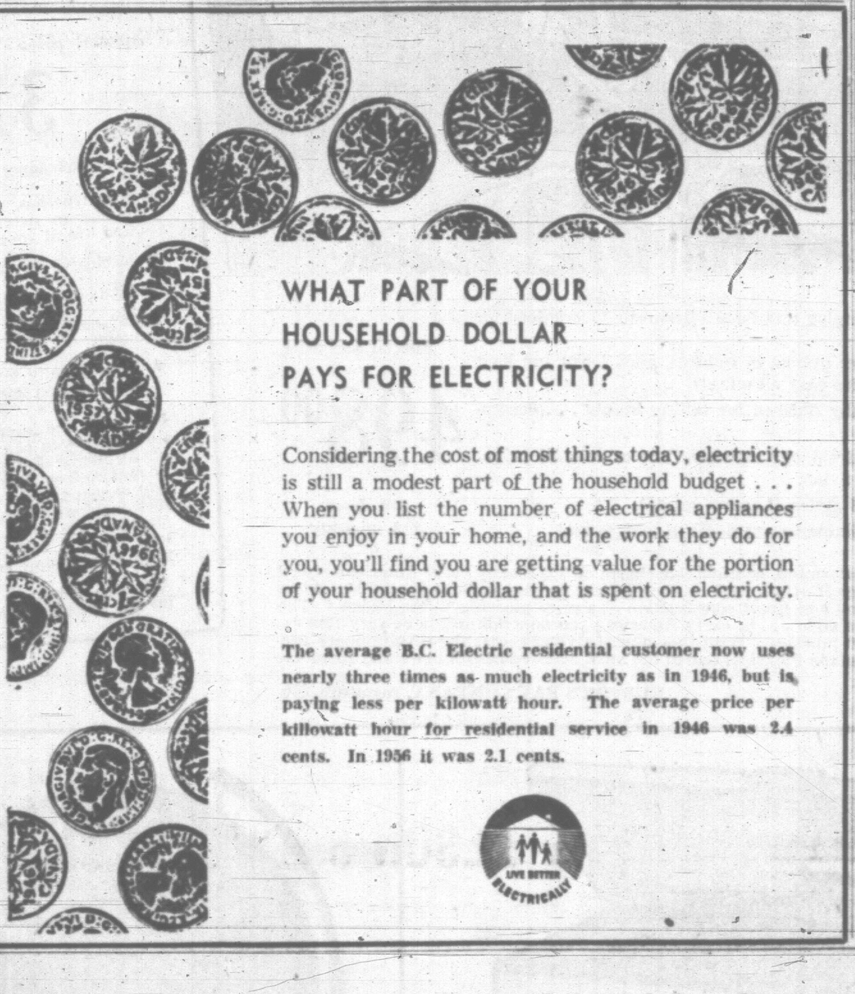
MELBOURNE (Reuters) — The Australian customs department has asked booksellers to stop selling the controversial novel, The Keys of St. Peter, by French author Roger Peyrefitte.

The novel, a story of Vatican society, pokes fun at certain aspects of the Holy See. Roman Catholics in many countries have objected to it.



WHAT PART OF YOUR HOUSEHOLD DOLLAR PAYS FOR ELECTRICITY?

Considering the cost of most things today, electricity is still a modest part of the household budget . . . When you list the number of electrical appliances you enjoy in your home, and the work they do for you, you'll find you are getting value for the portion of your household dollar that is spent on electricity.

The average B.C. Electric residential customer now uses nearly three times as much electricity as in 1946, but is paying less per kilowatt hour. The average price per kilowatt hour for residential service in 1946 was 2.4 cents. In 1956 it was 2.1 cents.

MAGAZINE GETS SPANKING

52, Not 15 Conventions Held Here

Arnold Webb, secretary-manager of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, today took issue with Maclean's magazine which stated that Victoria had only 15 conventions in 1957.

Vancouver had even less — a total of 11 conventions, according to the magazine.

The magazine noted that "the Nation's Convention Capital is a titled bandied around pretty loosely by several cities and resorts in Canada."

It said the title really belonged to Toronto which according to a list prepared by the CPR had a total of 143 conventions. Montreal had 75, Quebec City 37, Ottawa 21 and Victoria 15.

Mr. Webb said figures showed that Victoria had 52 conventions in 1957. This did not include those whose delegates came mainly from Victoria or Vancouver Island, he said.

"So far in 1958 we have 45 major conventions listed — all are booked by the Empress Hotel," he said.

"We will concede that Victoria is not the biggest convention city in Canada," added Mr. Webb, "but everybody says most emphatically that it is the best."

BENNETT PLANS CAMPAIGN TALK

Premier Bennett will make his first speech of the federal election campaign in Chilliwack Saturday night.

The premier will speak at a fund-raising dinner in support of the Social Credit candidate for Fraser Valley, Alex Patterson.

Hansard Waste of Time—Socred

Adoption of a Hansard for the provincial legislature would double the length of the sessions, a government backbencher said Wednesday.

Cyril Shelford (SC-Omineca) said if there were verbatim reports of House proceedings, government back-benchers would be expected by their constituents to speak on every resolution and bill.

These members now can have their say in the government caucus without taking up the time of the legislature, Mr. Shelford said.

Debate on a resolution introduced by CCF Leader Robert Strachan urging adoption of a tape-recorded Hansard system was adjourned.

Mr. Strachan said events at the current session had shown the need for verbatim reporting. Many members had claimed they were misquoted in the press, he said.

Policy speeches of cabinet ministers should be on a permanent record, the opposition leader said. He pointed out that historians working on centennial year projects had deplored the fact there was no Hansard in the past.

MONTE ROBERTS

One of the worst of the many perils attendant upon filling a space such as this is the peril of being misunderstood.

I am forever being misunderstood, causing people to take umbrage and threatening to strike me upon the head with a blunt instrument.

And once again I have been misunderstood. But good.

On Monday, I made some light-hearted comments about the curling rink which is representing Northern Ontario in the Dominion Brier Curling championship at Memorial Arena.

I pointed out that this rink is from Kenora, and I said Kenora isn't in northern Ontario.

I said Kenora is in eastern Manitoba and is actually a suburb of Winnipeg.

At the time, I thought this remark was mildly amusing, and perfectly innocent.

In the minds of many people, it was neither.

The comments have ranged from "what are you talking about?" to "Kenora is 30 miles inside the Ontario border," to "Please explain what you mean?"

And I have it on reliable authority that at least one curling fan from Kenora is looking for me with a broom, with which to sweep me under the rug.

Well, I cannot explain what I meant.

And I knew that Kenora is in Ontario.

As for the irate gentleman with the broom, I only hope I can run faster than he can sweep.

I apologize to Kenora, to curlers, to Winnipeg, and to anyone else within hearing distance.

Speaking of curlers—and who isn't—I like the little joke going around about the change from age to youth in Brier competition.

The joke says in the old days, to qualify for the Brier, a man had to be 85 years old and have a four quart daily capacity.

Today, all you need is a note from teacher and your own supply of pablum.

Teamsters May Send Pickets to Victoria

A Vancouver teamsters' local may send men to Victoria next week to picket two city construction projects in retaliation for Mainland lockouts.

E. M. Lawson, business agent for Local 213 of the Teamsters' Union, which is involved in a combined strike and lockout battle with the B.C. Heavy Construction Association, said Wednesday it plans to set up "lockout pickets" here.

Projects affected would be the $229,976 Government House construction and the $1,169,738 armament depot at HMC Dockyard.

No teamsters are employed at either project, representatives of the contractors said today.

One company representative said he believed the picketing would be illegal here. Immediate action through the building exchange would be taken if pickets were set up.

All told 18 men are employed at the armament depot construction and 85 men at the Government House project.

Robert Milliken, president of the Vancouver Island Building Trades Council, said a meeting has been arranged with the teamsters local to discuss the planned move.

"That's all I know about it at the moment," he said. Victoria teamsters are not involved.

The contratcing companies here are John Laing and Son (Canada) Ltd., at Government House, and Commonwealth Construction Co. Ltd. at the armament depot. Both are members of the heavy construction association.

On the Mainland the dispute has halted construction on Vancouver's new civic auditorium, the B.C. Electric thermal plant at Port Mann, another BCE power plant project at Bridge River and various smaller projects.

Fifteen members of the heavy construction association locked out the teamsters after the union went on strike at Bridge River. Construction workers at the projects refused to cross picket lines set up by teamsters.

The union seeks implementation of a 53-cent hourly wage increase recommended by a conciliation board.

Electrician Strike Draws Dual Charges

Strike of 175 electrical workers here against B.C. Electric and Hume & Rumble Ltd. continued quietly today while officials of the two sides accused each other of failing to negotiate.

Jack Driscoll, business agent for Local 230, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Wednesday charged at a Victoria Labor Council meeting that BCE was using "vicious and false propaganda" by inferring that the union had refused to negotiate the wage dispute after a strike vote was taken in January.

He said the only meeting between the two sides following the vote was held Feb. 13 at the union's request.

The company representatives told the union to "take or leave" a conciliation board recommendation of wage increases up to 19 per cent for skilled workers.

"They did say the door is closed," he said. "That's not negotiation in my book."

A company spokesman today said the company sent the union a letter following the meeting stating it was "anxious" to settle differences over working conditions although it would not go beyond the wage increase recommended by the board.

The company letter suggested further talks "but it wasn't even acknowledged by the union," the spokesman said.

The Victoria local, along with some 1,200 IBEW members on the lower mainland, struck Monday to back demands for wage increases up to 40 per cent for skilled workers.

Police said David Cooper, 1988 Ferndale, was driving his Rolls from a parked position on Langley when the car was in collision with a large truck at the curb south of Bastion.

The truck was forced into the rear of a parked car, then onto the sidewalk, where it knocked over a steel signpost.

Value of the Rolls is about $14,000.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—From time to time different organizations ask members to save used postage stamps. We have never been able to learn what ultimate use is made of these stamps. Can you enlighten us? M.R.

A.—Stamps collected by organizations usually find their way to stamp dealers who make up mixed packages, or sell them to collectors in bulk by the pound. Stamps are shipped abroad in 100-pound sacks to be made up into cheap packages for sale in other countries.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

STREET DANCING SPACE ASKED FOR SAILORS VISITING CITY

A request to block off Yates Street between Blanshard and Douglas for a huge street dance during the visit of foreign naval vessels in July, was submitted to city hall today.

The dance is planned by the Armed Services Centre. Tentative date is thought to be Saturday, July 12.

The question will go before council for decision next Thursday.

Professor Asks 5-Year Probe Of Youth Needs

House Committee Gets Recommendation

PROF. W. G. DIXON
... co-ordination needed

Creation of a provincial "commission of youth services" was proposed today to the legislative committee investigating the juvenile delinquency problem in B.C.

Professor W. G. Dixon, head of the University of B.C. School of Social Work, said the commission should be made up of both government officials and private citizens.

Its main function would be to formulate policy and advise the government, he said.

FIVE YEAR JOB

Prof. Dixon suggested the commission be set up for at least five years.

At present there is no government agency which has the responsibility of formulating policy in the field of youth services, he said, "and certainly there is little mechanism for co-ordination."

Prof. Dixon also supported previous submissions before the committee urging a thorough royal commission inquiry into juvenile delinquency.

The last comprehensive survey of child welfare in B.C. was in 1927, and the most recent study on delinquency services was made in 1937, he said.

HIGHER GRANTS

Other recommendations in the brief:

1. Increased social assistance rates and mothers' allowances;
2. Higher grants-in-aid to local areas for recreation services;
3. A thorough study of the administration and financing of the juvenile court system "because of its lag behind other social developments in B.C."

Prof. Dixon also submitted statistics showing that juvenile delinquency is increasing in B.C. at a faster rate than in Canada as a whole.

Entries Close For Festival On Saturday

Deadline for entries in the Greater Victoria Music Festival is this Saturday. All entries must be mailed or delivered to the Music Festival office, Western Music Company, 758 Fort Street, before midnight Saturday.

There are 255 classes in the festival covering a wide range of instrumental and vocal solo and ensemble work, speech arts and folk and ballet dancing.

In keeping with the spirit of centennial year, it is hoped to make this the biggest festival yet. Further to mark the occasion there are special centennial classes.

These consist of group music, dancing and speech arts events, each to portray within scope of the media, some phase or incident in British Columbia history. The classes are open to all ages and types of performers.

U.S. ADJUDICATORS

Adjudicators for this year's festival include three of the most successful adjudicators from previous festivals. These are Miss Nellie Tholen, Portland, Ore., piano; Wayne Hertz, dean of the school of music at Central College of Education, choral, and William Cole, University of Washington, bands and instrumental.

Newcomers to the panel are Mrs. Helen Goodwin, member of the School of Physical Education, Universitw of British Columbia, folk dancing, and Mrs. Lily Harper, Vancouver actress, director and adjudicator, speech arts.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Ontario en route to Australia and New Zealand, returns May 5.

Crescent, Cayuga, Skeena, Fraser, Margaree on Far East cruise, return April 2.

Fireman Falls Through Floor Onto Colleague

A fireman crashed through a weakened floor and landed on another firefighter when flames caused an estimated $5,500 damage to an old Victoria West home Wednesday noon.

A multi-apartment house at 308 Catherine, caught fire about 12 noon and was noticed in flames about 20 minutes later by employees of Ormond's Bakery, on the next street.

The stone-walled house apparently caught fire from chimney sparks landing on dry shingles which were fanned by a strong wind.

Four children their mother and another woman escaped the blaze when warned by employees of the bakery, who assisted in removing a number of furniture items.

The upper floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett was mostly severely damaged. The roof was almost entirely burned from the building.

The rest of the house was damaged extensively by water.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Lions: 12 noon, Empress Hotel. Speaker will be Wyand F. van Eyssen of the High Commissioner's office, Union of South Africa.

Vitaflex Health Club: 7.30 p.m., Newstead Hall, 734 Fort Street. Tracey Sheridan speaks on "Natural Calisthenics." Open to public.

B.C. Historical Society, Victoria Section: 8.15 p.m., Douglas Building cafeteria. U.B.C. student-at-Law, Brian Smith, speaks on Richard McBride, premier 1903-1915.

Should Be Shocked Out of 'Apathy'

The people of Canada are "completely clueless" about civil defence and should be shocked out of their apathy by a hard-driving educational campaign, Rear Admiral Kenneth F. Adams, commanding officer naval divisions said here today.

He suggested the term "civil defence" was too passive to catch the imagination of the people.

"We should change this term to 'operation survival,'" he said.

SURVIVAL

"It is not a question of defence, It is actually a question of survival, and this should be emphasized by every means possible."

He said he did not mean to criticize the present civil defence organization, which, he said, is in the hands of experts.

"But people do not realize that every man, woman and child must be ready and know exactly what to do, if we are attacked."

ONLY A FEW

He believed that at the present time, only a few people had the slightest idea of what they should do, if an atomic bomb were dropped, anywhere in Canada.

"Don't forget," he said. "If an atomic bomb were dropped on Vancouver, the people of Victoria would be just as deeply involved as those on the Mainland."

Victoria-born, Admiral Adams is here on his final inspection tour of naval divisions before he retires, in April, as commanding officer, naval divisions. He is the first officer of flag rank to hold this post, and spear-headed the drive to make the reserve a "fourth flag" in the Royal Canadian Navy.

He has held the post for the past five years.

Fire Wardens Would Instruct CD Volunteers

First get the volunteers, then we'll provide an instructor, Victoria fire wardens committee told Greater Victoria Civil Defence Control Board today.

The CD board asked the city to provide a trained fire department official to instruct auxiliary firemen for emergency employment.

Fire Chief J. E. Bayliss pointed out there are no CD auxiliary firemen at present and ". . . we don't know if they are going to get any."

"If war broke out today there would be no auxiliaries and no dispersal site for apparatus," he pointed out. He said also federal CD authorities would have to provide fire fighting equipment for training purposes, before a training program could be started.

The chief said he could provide a man for instruction, but he would have to be replaced in the active fire department.

"If the civil defence board will tell us they have a sufficient number of men who want training, we will suggest an instructor be provided," agreed fire wardens chairman Austin Curtis, and Mayor Percy Scurrah.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court Wednesday:

Emile Francis, Victoria Motel, $25 for driving without plates or registration.

Emma Francis, Victoria Motel, $25 for driving without a licence.

Donald A. Hodgins, Vancouver, $35 for careless driving and $25 for driving without a licence.

Clarence Leslie Ellis, 1434 Hillside, and Alois Waibel, 529 Somass, $25 each for speeding over 30.

Francis Theberge, 4057 Quadra, and George R. King, Kangaroo Road, $35 for careless driving; suspension for Theberge.

Sidney Allan Travers, 335 Richmond, was sentenced to 30 days each on three charges when he appeared in city police court Wednesday.

Sentences, to be served concurrently, were for attempting to divert suspicion of a police officer by giving false information, driving while under suspension and speeding over 30.

When stopped by a traffic officer Travers produced an unemployment insurance card in the name of a friend and told the policeman he had left his driver's licence at home.

Trial in Mrs. Leach Death Delayed at Least One Year

Manslaughter charge against Charles H. (Pete) Stoneham in the auto death of Mrs. Jennie Leach of Victoria will not come to trial for at least a year, according to the attorney-general's department at Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. Leach was killed instantly in a collision between the Stoneham car and the car in which she was a passenger on the highway near Phoenix, Feb. 4.

Her husband, William Leach, of the Victoria real estate firm, Leach and Sparks, was driving the car, and was seriously injured.

It was reported the Phoenix court calendar is so crowded the case cannot be put on for 12 months or more.

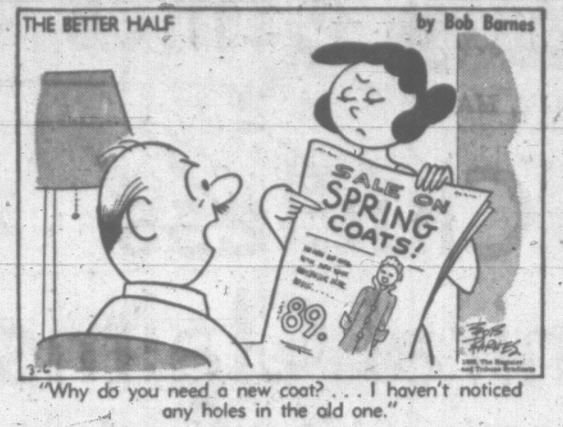
Mr. Leach has returned to Victoria and is convalescing at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. James Gray. He suffered injuries to the left shoulder, ribs on the left side, and gouges below the kneecap where his legs struck the dashboard.

Mrs. Leach was thrown through the windshield.

The accident occurred when Mr. and Mrs. Leach, both well-known members of Victoria Golf Club, were on holiday.

Stoneham is the son of Horace Stoneham, president of the San Francisco (formerly New York) Giants.

IMPROMPTU PERFORMANCE by players in grade four's "bottle band" delighted parents who attended open house at James Bay School Wednesday to mark National Education Week. Young bandsmen (from left) are Linda Parker, 9; Harry Page, 9; Dorothy Best 9. Parents are Mrs. Arthur Page, 139 St. Lawrence, and Mrs. A. W. Best, 221 Michigan (right).



"Why do you need a new coat? . . . I haven't noticed any holes in the old one."

SHOPPING GUIDE

Push Button and Presto—Out Sprays Color Paint!

By PENNY SAVER

It's in a tall can. It's colorful, odorless and, best of all, convenient! What? The latest in a paint dispenser, of course. A little can with a spray attachment to hold new, quick-drying, spray paint. Press a button and a shower of color sprays out to touch up scratched or scraped furniture, and to efface grimy hand marks and other marks. The can costs $1.98.

Anytime is right for snapshot taking in Victoria. But, at this season, with blossoms "busting" out all over, you could add interest to your shooting with a built-in flash camera. The one I saw is fairly new on the market, looks like a dandy piece of goods and sells as low as $9.95.

If you have a yen for taking pictures of flowers or birds close up, a set of lenses can now be had at $3.85.

It's back! That silklike material that came out a few seasons back. It could be washed 'n' washed and because of this got the nickname "tubbable"! It's actually a cotton nylon mixture that looks and feels like rich silk. Dresses, blouses and summer coats could be made up in this pretty material in a wink. It's selling at $1.19 a yard. Want to know where?

Here's a good buy! For 49 cents the wise shopper can have a large bottle of a famous-name shampoo. It's a 79-cent value . . . so why not get some?

Men! Are you continually reaching into the bathroom cupboard only to find that the razor blades are used up? No, sir! No one ate them, borrowed them or threw them away. You just haven't enough of 'em on hand. You'd better buy 100 razor blades for $1 and save!

I'm "penny saving" for you, so phone me at 2-3131 and I'll tell you where to shop!

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Gloves at dinner dance:

I will soon be attending several formal dinner dances. How is the length of gloves determined for full length and ballerina-length gowns? If a stole is worn either formally or informally, is it taken off during dinner or dancing?

Louise Davis

Louise Davis answers:

A skirt length has little to do with the degree of formality for an evening gown and the variations in lengths are current fashion trends and one can be just as formal as the other. It is the design of the gown that determines its classification. The length of gloves depends on how they look after the dress is on. Gloves longer than elbow length generally look incongruous with a short gown. The only thing to do is to look at yourself objectively in the mirror. Long gloves are appropriate with floor length and ankle-length gowns. A stole may be removed at any time one wishes. If it is in the way for dancing, it can be left on a chair and retrieved afterwards. The answer is the same for dinner. If the stole interferes with freedom in eating, it can be slipped back.

TODAY'S RECIPE

APPLE CHIFFON PUDDING

Four apples, peeled and sliced, 2 tablespoons water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup butter, ½ cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, separated, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, nutmeg.

Place apple slices, water and lemon juice in saucepan. Cover and cook until apples fall apart. Force through sieve into the top of doubleboiler. Add butter, ⅓ cup sugar and egg yolks, mix well.

Place over hot water, cook and stir until mixture has thickened. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks, gradually add remaining sugar to make a stiff meringue. Fold into still-warm apple mixture along with lemon rind. Spoon into dessert dishes, sprinkle with nutmeg. Chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Connor, 817 McClure Street, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday when they will be "at home" to friends from 2 to 4 and again from 8 to 10, at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Connor, 919 Richmond Road. A family dinner will also be held at the Pacific Club. There are four sons, Leslie, Bill, Jim and Jack, and one daughter, Mrs. Pauline Blakeston, all living in the city. The O'Connors were married in Nelson, B.C., but have lived in Victoria for all of their married life. Mrs. O'Connor's sister, Mrs. B. Pollard, Seattle, will be in Victoria for the gathering. She was bridesmaid at the wedding 50 years ago.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A Tense Face Is Hard on Beauty—Smile, Exercise

Canadian women are noted for their beauty, but also for the tenseness of their faces and the set expression of their mouths. A friend of mine from another country once told me that he had stood at a busy intersection in a large city in Canada and watched passersby for an hour at a stretch, and not one person was smiling. Not one smile out of hundreds who passed!

Perhaps that is due to the rushed lives we all live. One of the most characteristic reactions to strain is tension in the muscles of the face, and especially in the tongue. If your tongue is relaxed, you probably are, too. When you are rushed or harried, you will discover that your tongue is about to push through the roof of your mouth. Your jaw muscles also become rigid.

Life seems to be getting more tense with each new bomb or missile, but that is no reason to get frozen faced about the cold war. The mere act of being alive carries with it all kinds of danger — even in the most peaceful times.

People are apt to be jittery for various causes and that is why a truly calm person takes on distinction. Whenever we meet one we are comforted and soothed.

Facial exercises will relax you and also will aid you in remaining youthful in appearance or improving if you already have neglected yourself. Many readers write to tell me of the happy change in themselves after taking these for a few weeks.

Facial exercises and the habit of lying at a beauty angle both stimulate the flow of blood to the face, and therefore are helpful to attractive facial contour and complexion.

Try this exercise which is corrective to the lines from nose to mouth. Fill the mouth with air. Keep the lips closed. Blow the air into the right cheek and at the same time contract the muscles of the right cheek. Rest. Next time fill the left cheek and resist with the muscles of the left cheek. Continue.

Most of the women I know who look years younger than they are take facial exercises regularly. If you would like to have mine send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Clubwomen's News

Wise Woman Never Spoils Illusion of Beauty

Every last one of us has a beauty problem of some sort This includes women who are considered beauties. And we can do one of two things about our problem: Ignore it or do something about it.

In this day and age, something can be done about nearly any beauty problem. There is help for problem hair, lumpy figures, poor skin, small eyes, or poor coloring.

But if you choose to ignore your problem and live with it, then really ignore it. Don't think you're getting around it by calling attention to it before others can. Don't feel that you're excusing large hips by saying to others, "Oh, I could never wear that. I'm so hippy." They know that you're hippy and there really isn't an answer to a remark like that.

So, if you're going to pretend your beauty problem does't exist, maintain the illusion all the way by never referring to it. You won't be the first woman who's used this method successfully.

Canadian women have a reputation for being diet and figure conscious. And many of them are. But many more of them are prone to talk diet.

They will, they say as they fork up creamed chicken, begin a diet the first of the coming week. Or, they accept a piece of cake, mumuring that they really shouldn't since they are dieting.

There's only one way to go at diet: adhere to it faithfully. Adhere to it but never refer to it. It is not a sparkling topic of conversation. Learn to say, "No, thank you," when you're offered fattening foods. And let it go at that, without explanation.

An unpleasant expression can rob any woman of beauty, no matter how she may be endowed by nature. The brows drawn together, the gimlet eye, the hard lines of dissatisfaction from nose to mouth do not offer a sight lovely to the beholder.

They make any gal, be she teen-ager or grandmother, look 10 years older on the dot. The forbidding, or withdrawn, expression is the equal of unpleasant expression for driving people away in a hurry.

But a sunny, cheerful expression can, and does, every day, turn a plain girl into the semblance of a beauty. In fact, an expression is a sure thing for making friends and drawing people to your side. The fact is, it's irresistible.

Couple Repeat Marriage Vows

At a wedding in Douglas Street Baptist Church recently, Miss Barbara Ann Browett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Browett, 3106 Washington Avenue, became the bride of William George Smethurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Smethurst, 3005 Shakespeare Street.

Daffodils decorated the church for the ceremony conducted by Rev. C. Barner.

A ballerina-length gown of nylon net and lace was worn by the bride. The taffeta edged Empire bodice was trimmed with tiny ruffles and the double net bouffant skirt had rows of lace to the hem. A tiny long-sleeved jacket topped the gown. Pearls sprinkled the sweetheart coronet that held the bride's shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride's father escorted her up the aisle.

Miss Shirley Smethurst, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. She wore a taffeta ballerina-length dress in pink with matching accessories, and she carried a bouquet of blue iris and hyacinth.

Best man was Donald Cole and ushering guests to their seats were Miss Earla Browett and Miss Bernice Kay.

A three-tier cake centred the bridal table for a reception held in the bride's parents' home. John Robbins proposed the toast.

A blue nylon dress was worn by the new Mrs. Smethurst for a wedding trip up-Island. Her accessories were in white and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Commissioner Speaks on Founder's Life

At the Thinking Day ceremony of First Colquitz Guide Company, district commissioner Mrs. E. King spoke on the life of the founder, Lord Baden Powell. Mrs. King also officiated at enrollment of Norma Norman, Susan Adams and Leona Hill as Guides.

Anne Clarke and Joan McIlmoyle received second class badges and were appointed patrol leaders; Helena Lethbridge was presented with company leader stripes, first aid badge and third year service star and Kathleen Dye, received her second year star.

Guides put together a world flag; acting captain Miss Betty Bone read Thinking Day greetings from Guide companies in Surrey and Dorset, England, and Rev. E. J. Staley took prayers.

A special guest at the ceremony was Mrs. Eve Lethbridge who came from Vancouver for the occasion.

Newlyweds to Live At Tahsis, B.C.

Pupils of Christie's Residential School choir sang during the nuptial mass in the school chapel at Tofino, V.I., which united Maryrose Hayes, a teacher at the school and Jenry Jones of Tahsis, B.C. The bride, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hayes of the Clayquot Band, Opitsat, B.C., was given in marriage by her father who is councillor of the band. She chose for her wedding a spring grey suit with spring accessories.

Sister Alexander played the organ for the service.

California Honeymoon for Couple Married in Church of Our Lord

A pink and white theme predominated in Church of Our Lord for the recent wedding of Muriel Alison, daughter of Mrs. W. Woodward and the late Mr. Woodward of 1346 Slater Street, and Earle Reginald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Stewart of Mt. Lehman, B.C. Rt. Rev. D. A. G. Rankillor, DD, conducted the ceremony.

Traditional wedding music was played by J. Ingram Smith and William Sims sang "O Perfect Love."

On the arm of her brother W. David Woodward, the bride entered the church wearing a floor-length gown of white lace and net. Fitted basque bodice featured a tiny stand-up collar trimmed with sequins and pearls. Her bouffant skirt of net featured a panel of lace extending from waistline to the hem. Seed pearls and sequins sprinkled a little lace cap holding the bride's fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and freesia.

Matron of honor was Mrs. R. A. Fryer who wore a frosted apple pink gown of taffeta. The bodice had a fichu collar and skirt was full in the back. She carried a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and freesia.

Little Rosemary Fryer wore a leaf-green taffeta dress identically styled to the senior attendant's gown. Her colonial bouquet was of roses and freesia.

Bruce R. Stewart, brother of the groom, was best man. C. G. Reynolds and R. D. Underwood ushered.

A three-tiered cake centred the bridal table at the reception in the bride's home on Slater Street. It was topped with a tiny vase of sweetheart roses, and flanked by silver candelabra and white candles.

H. L. Hopkins proposed the toast to the bride's happiness.

For a honeymoon in California the new Mrs. Stewart donned a pale blue wool two-piece dress. She wore a matching hat and black patent accessories. A muskrat jacket topped the ensemble. She wore a corsage of sweetheart roses centred with a gardenia.

The couple will live at Mt. Lehman, B.C.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, Mar. 6th—So pretty to look at . . . so good to the taste . . . so nutritious too! I'm thinking about a Fruit Trifle made with satin-smooth ROYAL INSTANT VANILLA PUDDING. Try it today . . .

Fruit Trifle

Measure 1½ cups chilled milk into a deep, one-quart mixing bowl. Empty 1 package Royal Instant Vanilla Pudding on top of the milk. Beat with a rotary egg beater (or electric mixer at slow, medium speed) until smooth—about 1 minute. Split and cut in half 4 to 8 lady fingers. Line sides of sherbet glasses with the lady finger sections. Place 2 tbsps. canned fruit cocktail in each glass. Spoon pudding into glasses—chill and serve. Top with whipped cream to serve. That should make a hit with your family—It's one of many variations for Royal Instant—7 flavors.

MORNIN' DARLINGS! BUSY DAY AHEAD? Then down with your orange juice, while I'm serving your RED RIVER CEREAL . . . Cooked it in a few minutes—just taste the delicious blend of cracked wheat, rye and flax. That's why so many people, for so many years, have found their day starts best with a piping-hot bowl of Red River. Doctors recommend a high protein intake for energetic youngsters and sons and husbands who have active work to do . . . Red River is just loaded with health-giving protein. Sedentary workers, and older members of the family, find Red River guards regularity. Enjoyed it? Have some more!

I HAVE A SECRET WEAPON that I use to impress my family! It's the wonderful, rich chocolate taste of BAKER'S CHOCOLATE CHIPS! True, rich chocolate flavor that makes all the difference to my chocolate chip cookies, frostings, candies and all the other things I make with Baker's Chocolate Chips. One of the family's favorites —and a real quickie—is CHOCOLATE NUT CLUSTERS: Heat 1 package Baker's Chocolate Chips over boiling water until partly melted. Remove from heat and stir until blended. Add 1 1/3 cups nutmeats and mix well. Drop from teaspoon on waxed paper. Cool until firm. Makes 2 dozen.

DAYS GETTING LONGER! There's a cheery thought. And I've just had another—going to make a lemon pie that's the best yet . . . and I've got BLUE BONNET MARGARINE to help me. I find everything tastes better with Blue Bonnet. We use it as a table-spread—for sandwiches—for topping fresh vegetables and baked potatoes . . . for pastry, yes, for everything! Blue Bonnet is now, and always has been an all-vegetable margarine. It's tops in flavor, nutrition and energy-building qualities—with essential minerals and vitamins added. Always buy all-vegetable Blue Bonnet!

DON'T GO ON SUFFERING with rheumatic, arthritic or neuritic pains . . . because there's real help available to you in time-proven TEMPLETON'S TRC's. I've been reading numerous letters from men and women who, after suffering for many years, found longed-for relief through taking Templeton's TRC's. These heart-warming stories tell of long-sought relief from pain—and so I wish that every sufferer could understand more about Templeton's TRC's. If you know of anyone who's troubled with rheumatic, arthritic or neuritic pain, I hope you will suggest that they try Templeton's TRC's . . . they have brought comforting relief to untold thousands.

9 IN MEMORIAM

BARRETT—In loving memory of our mother, Emma Barrett, who passed away March 6, 1957.

A token of love and remembrance of a mother we'll never forget:
Her memory to us is a treasure, her going a lifetime of regret.
We do not need a special day to bring Mom to our minds.
The days we do not think of her are very hard to find.
If all the world was ours to give,
we'd give it all and more
To say "Hello Mom" the same old way and see the face we miss so much come smiling through the door.
But you were called from all of your suffering into a haven of rest.
God's garden must be lovely, for
He only takes "the best."

—Always remembered and sadly missed by Nancy, George, Raymond, Nellie and grandchildren.

BARRETT — In loving memory of Emma P. M. Barrett, who passed away March 6, 1957.

Not dead to us who loved her,
Not lost but gone before;
She lives with us in memory,
And will forever more.

—Ever remembered by her son Gordon, daughter-in-law Ruth and grandchildren Bonnie and Sharon.

HENKEL—In loving memory of George W. Henkel (Gus), who passed away March 6, 1956.

Sweet the memories, silently kept,
Of one I loved and will never forget.
No length of time, can take away,
My thoughts of you from day to day.

—Ever remembered by his loving wife Louise.

"Easy," replied th expert. "I wanted make six no-trump a I needed a total of s tricks in the major sui for my contract. If could collect three hea tricks I would only ne three in spades. Henc I tried the heart fines before going after t spades. When it work my spade play was signed to win at lea three spade tric against any combinati Of course, if the hea finesse had lost I wou have gone after fo spade tricks."

The expert had co menced proceedings spades by cashing t king in his own hand. Then he played the deuce spades and when West Played the seven the expert w the trick with dummy's nine.

The reader will note that the expert's play was s to win three spade tricks against any combination cards. Should the suit break three-two he could lose more than one trick on any play. With the act four-one break West was held to one spade trick. East held four spades he would have been helpless a West would have shown out on the second lead whe upon the expert would have gone up with dummy's and led back to his guarded jack.

PAUL MUNI STARS IN PLAYHOUSE 90 DRAMA ON C-7 AT 9.30

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

PROGRESS?—Sometimes we wonder if television is advancing as rapidly as it should.

Looking back a trifle more than three years since we've held down our present position we can't help but express faint disappointment. To our mind the 20th Century's lusty new baby isn't turning out as well as expected first when he was born to the masses a decade ago.

Technically, the sets have advanced. They now are equipped to bring in better pictures over a wider range, especially in fringe areas such as Greater Victoria. But otherwise they look the same. They are still relatively ugly and cumbersome admitting that the latest "thin as a dime" styling is a step in the right direction. But color still seems to be beyond the masses price-wise and the color that is received, here at least, leaves much to be desired.

But if technical advancement hasn't lived up to expectations then what of the calibre of the entertainment offered? It would seem, sometimes, as though TV's arteries aren't as resilient as they should be in one so young.

TV TEE-HEES

FOR INSTANCE, to our mind, TV hasn't produced a musical of the calibre of Mary Martin's "Peter Pan" in the three intervening years, no, not even Miss Martin's recent "Annie Get Your Gun." And it was two years ago that Kraft Theatre opened the horizons of the medium to almost limitless vistas with its magnificent documentary on the Titantic tragedy, "A Night to Remember." But such scope was never attempted, to our knowledge, live again.

In the "early" days there were magnificent attempts to try something new. Although there were many bloopers and failures there were some stimulating results, too, such as the Noel Coward plays, Judy Garland's shaky bow, the Gleason cavalcade of misadventure and many others.

Then came a thing called ratings and the men with the money, once so daring, grew wary. The pioneering spirit bowed to mathematics as programs won their spurs by the number of homes entered per dollar of advertising cost rather than by distinction of quality. "Let's take a chance" became "Play it safe." The live show, for the most part, became the filmed show where only the "perfect" need be placed on display.

But in this settling for sameness TV lost much of its lilt and former joie de vivre. The medium became shallow, broad and large, a rags-and-patches quilt of mass mediocrity, with everyone playing it safe and no one seemingly wanting to attempt anything new.

On the other hand it may be that TV is merely taking a breather to consolidate its position before leaping forward and outward to try again. Or, at least, let's hope so.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1958

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Much conversation with associates, friends, business persons, or even competition, will result in cementing better relations throughout. P.M. avoid getting into argument with closest partner or things go very badly for you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—By being more amenable today you are in a position to make your existence far more pleasant and happy. Wear a smile when things look dark, give when you are not too affluent, and many blessings will be yours. P.M. avoid that temptation.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Repair to barber or beauty shop early. Then have luncheon with some good friend, or conduct business affairs in charming surroundings, where good food is plentiful. Tonight, economize, be content with simple pleasures.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Your abode requires more life, so start adding the touches that brighten it up, buy new recordings, art pieces, invite charming guests in. P.M. take care to avoid altercation with someone who would ruin things altogether.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Let the day be productive by collecting what is owed you, showing detailed reports to right parties, proving your efficiency, gaining new friends by giving deserved praise, etc. P.M. don't let scrappy fellow worker spoil your evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—If you have neglected to put your home in such order that others will be favorably impressed, as well as your own enjoyment and pride being involved likewise, this is the right time to get at it. Pronto!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Here is an ideal day to think of yourself mainly, your interests, and close friends. Be expansive with all, talk over corporate interests and goals, and get deserved admiration. P.M. avoid quarreling at abode.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Spending much time today going over your exact financial and social position without giving others an inkling of state of affairs is productive of right solutions to all your problems. P.M. bring flowers or candy to sweetheart.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—A dear comrade today unstintingly gives you aid you need plus needed affection. Go about your affairs secretly and all will be well. Tonight, take care not to boast about the price of things bought. It is in bad taste.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—There is a possibility of completing all the work of precision in connection with your special profession and thereby make a fine impression on one at the top. P.M. avoid giving in to your driving emotional force.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—A new attitude and more efficient methods imminently possible to you today in whatever fascinates you. Dig into research work with thoroughness for best results, but maintain high ethical level. Tonight, leave worries behind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Get into the so-called silence today and listen to your intuitive faculties for they have much of importance to relay to your conscious mind. Then attend to business, money affairs. P.M. misunderstandings possible. Be loyal to friends.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY . . .

The lovely child born Friday is the type who will be so attractive to others that he or she will draw everyone to him or her like a magnet. However, give lessons in self-reliance early that your progeny's character may be built up properly. Teach also the love of work for its own sake and guaranteed security. Splendid horoscope for precision work, the arts, medicine, etc.

18 Feared Dead In Dam Collapse

MONTREAL (CP) — The bodies of 11 men—some reports said as many as 18—lay pinned today under the Riviere des Prairies, entombed in the wreckage of a steel coffer dam buckled under pressure attributed to ice.

Black, thaw-swollen, water surged into the coffer dam Wednesday afternoon as men were working beneath the river surface. Three escaped with minor injuries.

President Paul Dufresne of Dufresne Construction Company, throwing a bridge across the river skirting Montreal Island's northshore, said 11 men failed to punch their cards after the accident. He said the death toll would be higher than 11 "only if unauthorized personnel were in the dam at the time."

The report of 18 dead came from Laval des Rapids police who said they obtained their information from a diver.

Survivors said the mishap happened in seconds. A supporting steel beam apparently had given way and the ice-littered water had gushed in, along with falling scaffolding from the top of the coffer dam.

Actual efforts by frogmen to recover the bodies won't start until later today, the company said. Ice and debris had to be cleared first from the buckled, wrenched top of the coffer dam which measured about 25 feet wide and 100 feet long.

Water was about 26 feet at that level, said Mr. Dufresne, and the men were believed on the 32-foot level, too far below to make use of escape ladders even if the accident had not been a split-second affair.

"The ice came down and hit it and the whole thing collapsed," Mr. Dufresne said.

Newfoundland Brier Visitor Loves Victoria

Newfoundland's director of public prosecutions, Harry Carter, from St. John's, is probably the spectator from farthest away here witnessing the historic Macdonald's Brier.

"I used to curl, but no longer," said the man who heads up the criminal end of the attorney-general's department.

He called Victoria "beautiful, indeed beautiful." It's his first visit here.

Mr. Carter said of recent severe Newfoundland storms, "we had a fairly mild winter until a week ago. Nobody there now would believe I am walking around here without coat or galoshes."

NO TEEN TROUBLE

There are no zoot-suiters in the easternmost province, he stated and no noisy gangs of youths.

There's apparently no explanation, other than hard work taking the place of such foolish activities.

In fact, the prosecution director said he is "pleased" with Newfoundland's lack of general crime.

In Victoria, he is renewing acquaintances he met in Newfoundland, including several local active and retired bank managers who were at one time stationed there, and former service personnel.

While refusing to pronounce on politics—"I'm a civil servant—" it was dug out during conversation that his grandfather, Sir Frederick Beatty Carter, was one of the prime movers for confederation with Canada during the past century.

"The weather, it's lovely, lovely," said Mr. Carter, shifting adroitly from discussion of Premier Joseph "Joey" Smallwood.

Reeve, Engineer To Survey Flood At Cadboro Bay

Saanich Reeve Arthur Ash and municipal engineer Neville Life were to survey flooding in a low-lying area on the east side of Cadboro Bay today.

Reeve Ash ordered the survey following reports of complaints by residents that a municipal storm sewer outfall and a Gyro club park program were causing flooding in the 2800 block Cadboro Bay Road.

G. G. Williams, 2880 Sinclair, charged at a public meeting Tuesday that the service club and the municipality had failed to provide adequate drainage for the low-lying area between the beach and Cadboro Bay Road.

Reeve Ash today denied that the Gyro park was causing any of the flooding. He said the municipal outfall, built last year at a cost of $10,000, was part of a long range program to relieve longstanding swampy conditions in the area.

"Nobody, except Mr. Williams, has ever complained to council while I've been reeve," said Mr. Ash. He added that several municipal officials had explained the program to Mr. Williams in the past.

Price of Gas For B.C. Fair

Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan denied Wednesday that B.C. consumers are paying more for Peace River natural gas than consumers in the U.S.

"My evidence indicates consumers of natural gas in Vancouver (B.C.), Portland and Seattle are paying approximately the same price," Mr. Kiernan told the legislature.

"And the benefit of the doubt is somewhat in favor of the people of Vancouver."

George Gregory (Lib.-Victoria) said Westcoast Transmission Co. is selling gas from its pipeline to B.C. distributors for 32 cents per thousand cubic feet, compared with 22 cents to U.S. distributors.

Mr. Kiernan said this price differential is explained by two different types of contracts. The B.C. distributors just pay for the gas they take, he said, while the U.S. distributors pay for a guaranteed amount whether they use it or not.

School Drama Groups Busy As Annual Festival Nears

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

Many are the hours and much the research that has gone into preparation by teachers and students of 18 schools, for the Greater Victoria Schools Drama Festival. The festival takes place at various school centres from March 10 to 15.

Authenticity has become a dominant factor in the schools' productions of plays representative of a variety of periods of history and of national cultures.

That this should be so adds weight and point to the value of the Schools Drama Festival. The whole project is thus lifted out of a merely recreational category into a recreation-plus level.

It becomes a delightfully palatable dose of history, of social study or literature.

Both teachers and youngsters spend many hours combing the public library for background for such plays as "Hereward, the Wake" (John Stubbs Elementary School), "The Importance of Being Earnest" (Glenlyon School), "End of the Beginning" (Mount View Senior High), or "Message From Khufu" (Oak Bay Senior High).

The library itself is co-operating with a display in its Yates Street showcase. Two central items will be a map of Shakespeare's London prepared by various teachers and students of Central Junior High School, and a fascinating model of Shakespeare's Globe Theatre (1614).

This model was made by students at Victoria High School under the direction of W. L. Hardie. According to a plaque on the model the student chiefly responsible for this skillful piece of craftsmanship is Tom Anstey.

Altogether 24 plays have been entered in the festival and a glance over the preliminary program indicates an excellent selection, fantasies and comedies being predominant.

Each program will consist of three plays with evening sessions being held from Monday through to Friday at 8 p.m. and afternoon sessions Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Saturday evening three good contrasting plays will be chosen by adjudicator Sydney Risk of Vancouver, and will be given an honor performance at Victoria High School.

TO RELIEVE 'OVERLOAD'

$60,000 Skating Rink Studied by Jaycees

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce today is studying possibility of constructing a third sheet of ice worth more than $60,000 between the Memorial Arena and the Victoria Curling Club to relieve the "overload" at these two sports centres.

In a special report to the meeting Wednesday, director Peter C. Forward, recommended construction of an additional ice surface 60 by 120 feet.

Voting in favor of the centennial year project was 34 to 18.

The Jaycees have already about $20,000 which could go towards the project, and Mr. Forward said one city organization had offered $10,000 in cash towards the project.

Balance, he said, could be raised by clubs and organizations and by public subscription.

There was a definite need for this other ice surface as at present skating and curling activities were limited to only two ice sheets for the entire population, Mr. Forward said.

Dr. Roy Johnson, president of the 800-member Victoria Figure Skating Club, said the plan would receive club support but "on an individual member basis," as the club would have no share in ownership.

The Jaycees have recently been discussing about 25 other projects, including additions to Kiwanis Village, a swimming pool, a Jaycee office building and downtown off-street parking facilities.

Credit Union Safe Robbed After Trio Kidnap Manager

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER — A North Vancouver credit union was robbed of $3,000 cash Wednesday night after the manager was taken prisoner in his Vancouver hotel room by three armed men and held for more than an hour.

Robert Douglas Williams said three men grabbed him when he returned to his apartment at the Lindsay Hotel in the west end. He said the trio forced him to reveal the combination to the safe at the North Vancouver Credit Union.

Williams was then bound and gagged by two of the men, while a third drove Williams' car to the credit union office and tried to open the safe. Unsucressful, he telephoned the apartment and was given further instructions.

The man cleaned out the safe, then drove bark to Williams' apartment and picked up the other two men.

TRUCK KILLS WOMAN

ABBOTSFORD—A 55-year-old widow, reported crossing the road to get her mail, was killed Wednesday morning when she was struck by a heavy trailer truck 10 miles west of here on the Trans-Canada Highway.

Dead is Mrs. Maude Campbell of Barrowtown, who was hit by a Hope Freight Lines truck travelling to Chilliwack.

The driver, Charles Smith, 52, of Vancouver plowed the truck into a bridge abutment in an attempt to avoid the woman, shearing off the cement section. Smith was not injured.

JURY BLAMES DRIVER

CLOVERDALE—Driver of a sports car involved in a two-car collision that took two lives Monday on the King George Highway was "apparently negligent in the operation of the vehicle", a coroner's jury found Wednesday.

The verdict was returned at an inquest into the deaths of Thomas N. Horeschuck, 26, of Burnaby, driver of the sports car, and Mrs. Hannah Hammill, 49, of Vancouver, a passenger in the other car.

The driver of the second car was David Hammill, of White Rock, brother-in-law of the dead woman. He is in fair condition at Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster.

PACIFIC WILL BOLSTER SUB DEFENCE—PEARKES

VANCOUVER (CP) — Defence Minister Pearkes said Wednesday that Pacific Coast defences against enemy submarines will be bolstered by the end of this year.

He told a press conference "we plan to have a squadron of seven destroyer escorts of the St. Laurent type on the West Coast."

General Pearkes admitted "there is no protection" against missiles that might be fired off-coast by Russian submarines but that "our aim is to keep them so far from the coast that targets will be limited."

FIRST EXPLORERS — PEREZ IN 'SANTIAGO' SEEN BY HAIDAS OFF QUEEN CHARLOTTES (1774)

In the 18th century when the first explorations were being made of the northwest coast of this continent there were four nations actively interested in this region—Russia, Spain, Great Britain and the United States. The first to send explorers was Russia.

In 1741, with two ships he had built on the Siberian coast, Vitus Bering, a Dane serving with the Russian Navy, set off to cross the Pacific. Both ships sighted the mainland coast and mountains of Alaska but did not explore the coast.

From Spain's colony in Mexico, came the next explorers of our coast. Spanish colonists and missionaries had been moving northward from Mexico up the California coast establishing a string of settlements—San Diego, Monterey and finally San Francisco in 1776. In 1774 the Spanish authorities in Mexico sent a ship, the Santiago, under the command of Juan Perez (Pay Race) with instructions to explore the coast as far north as the 65th parallel of latitude and to note in particular where the Russians were settled. In the winter of 1774 Perez sailed as far north as the Queen Charlotte Islands which he sighted. He did not land, although (as in this picture) he met parties of Haida Indians in their great dugout canoes.

The next year (1775) Don Bruno Heceta (He Say-Ta) and Lieutenant Quadra took the Santiago and another ship, the Sonora, north again. They landed on the coast of Washington and formally took possession of the whole north west coast in the name of the King of Spain. In a fight with the Indians some of the Spaniards on the Sonora were killed but Quadra continued north as far as Alaska. None of the Spanish explorers so far had made a continuous exploration of the British Columbian coast. They had only sighted it at certain points.

FOR SCRAPBOOK CONTEST

Times Centennial Feature Tells Historic Moments

The pictorial panel on this page launches a special Times feature for the B.C. Centennial year.

For the next 38 weeks a panel depicting an event from the province's past will appear each Thursday.

The art work has been done by a Vancouver artist, Robert Banks, in co-operation with the B.C. Centennial Committee. The text is by Dr. F. H. Johnson and Prof. W. H. Auld of the UBC College of Education.

As a special attraction for children The Times is holding a scrapbook and coloring contest of the drawings.

The idea is to clip out the picture and text each week, paste it in a scrapbook and then color it the way you think it should be done.

Next November when the series is finished scrapbooks will be judged and a total of $100 in prizes will be paid in silver centennial dollars.

Here are the rules for the contest.

Judging will be done under two categories: Under 10 years of age, and 10 to 14 years. You are eligible if your 15th birthday does not occur before Dec. 1, 1958.

Prize list for each category will be the same.

First prize, $25; second, $10; third, $6; fourth, $4; two honorable mention prizes of $2 each and one of $1.

The Times will appoint a panel of judges whose decision will be final.

This is what to do:

1. Clip out each of the 38 drawings as they appear every Thursday in this newspaper. Color them and mount or paste them in any type scrapbook of your choice.

2. Pencils, crayons, water colors or any other coloring medium may be used.

3. Work should be the contestant's own, unassisted effort.

4. Do not submit any entry until the series is complete. Last date of entry will be announced later.

5. Judging will be on the basis of skill in handling coloring medium according to category of the entrant; taste, suitability and imagination. Originality and neatness will be main factors in judging the scrapbook presentation.

6. Each entry must be accompanied by name, address, telephone number and age of the contestant and birth date.

7. All boys and girls up to and including the age of 14 may enter, except Times employees and their relatives.

Orbit Doubtful, Satellite Hunted

FLASH

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) —Explorer II, intended as a second U.S. satellite, definitely did not go into orbit, its makers announced today.

CAPE CARNAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — "Moonwatch" teams stood by today for a sky search for the newly launched and mysteriously missing American satellite Explorer II.

At the same time the conviction grew that the six-inch metal cylinder, 80 inches long and weighing about 32 pounds, never achieved an orbit.

There were persistent reports that signals from the Jupiter-C launching rocket convinced some army missile experts, within the first hour after Wednesday's firing at 10.28 p.m. PST, that the final stage of the four-stage vehicle had failed to fire.

At Pasadena, Calif., the Jet Propulsion Laboratory which built the high-speed upper stages, issued this statement:

"The preliminary evidence is that the last stage did not produce any thrust. This means that it did not get up to velocity. And there is a great probability that it is not in orbit."

Experts said that failure of the final stage to fire on cue would have meant that the satellite, even though it was at orbital altitude of 200 or more miles, would achieve a velocity of only about three miles a second as against the five miles a second needed to maintain an orbit—10,800 miles an hour instead of 18,000.

This in turn could mean that the satellite would tumble into the South Atlantic, or into Africa or the Indian Ocean beyond.

Ontario Shares Curling Lead With Alberta

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Saskatchewan, an alternately hot-and-cold rink skipped by young Gordon Grimes of Eston, today became the giant-killers in the Canadian curling championships.

The Grimes' rink turned on Matt Baldwin's Alberta rink to hand the defending champions their first loss in this 29th renewal of Brier Tankard competition.

The score, in doubt until Grimes' last rock, was 10-8.

The result, combined with Ontario's 15-10 victory over Nova Scotia in another game on this morning's round, suddenly put new life into the winter classic after Alberta, skipped by the 31-year-old Baldwin, appeared headed for a runaway victory in the 11-round playoffs.

MANITOBA CLOSE

Moving into this afternoon's round, Ontario and Alberta each showed 5-1 records, with Manitoba's teen-agers close behind. Skipped by Winnipeg's 18-year-old Terry Braunstein, Manitoba moved into contention with a 4-2 record as a result of their 10-8 victory over Quebec.

In other games this morning, New Brunswick posted its first victory in seven tries by trimming Northern Ontario's Ron Redding 10-6. Prince Edward Island rallied to defeat Newfoundland 12-10 on an extra end.

British Columbia, with Tony Gutoski flying a hometown standard in the event, had a bye this morning.

But the big story today was Saskatchewan's great comeback against Baldwin. Alberta appeared on their way to another victory after four ends, taking a 5-1 lead.

Saskatchewan, with all four members curling extremely well and taking full advantage of many Alberta mistakes, then started hitting back. The 25-year-old Grimes came away with a three-ender on the fifth and, after giving Baldwin a single on the next end, tied the game in the seventh with a count of two.

TURNING POINT

They traded singles on the next two ends and then the game's turning point came on the 10th end. Grimes, who completely outclassed his highly-regarded rival, came through with a great double takeout to kill two Alberta shot rocks. Baldwin missed both of his shots and Grimes "stole" two points on the all-important 10th end.

Baldwin picked up one on the 11th, missing his try for two when he was light with his last rock.

Saskatchewan missed only one of their eight shots on the last end, giving Baldwin no chance to score, although the Edmonton skip did partially bury his last rock for shot stone. Grimes got a piece of that. However, with his last rock and Baldwin went down to his first defeat.

Canadians Smother Sweden

Tempers Flare, Officiating Scored

OSLO, Norway (CP) — Unbeaten Canada took a giant step toward the world hockey championship today by handing defending champion Sweden a 10-2 defeat before 7,000 fans—biggest crowd of the tournament.

Canada has won four straight and this was Sweden's first defeat in four games.

The brawling, hard-hitting match gave the favored Canadians an undisputed lead in the round-robin tournament. They now have eight points, one more than the Russians, who had held an edge in the standings briefly by virtue of a 10-1 victory over Poland earlier today.

Canada and Sweden were the only undefeated, untied teams before today's match.

The Russians, regarded as Canada's chief rivals, are undefeated in four games but they were held to a 4-4 tie by Czechoslovakia Tuesday.

BIG GOAL SPREAD

Besides its point lead, Canada has a whopping margin in goal spread, having scored 60 goals to only three against in four games. In case of a tie in points at the end of the eight-team, 10-day tournament, the championship will be decided by goal spread.

Finland defeated Norway 2-1 earlier today.

TERRIBLE OFFICIATING

Altogether, 13 two-minute penalties were handed out in the final period.

Afterwards, Canadian manager Wren Blair said "the officiating was terrible. I'm going to complain to the president of the International Federation. The referees are not giving the Canadians the protection they are entitled to."

YOUTH NABBED

Residence Of Princess Gate-Crashed

LONDON (AP) — A young man fought his way past a police guard and burst into the home of Princess Margaret today.

Policemen pounded through the house on the intruder's heels and caught him on the roof.

The princess was at home at the time in Clarence House, where she lives with the Queen Mother, who now is on tour in Australia.

Officials at Buckingham Palace said the princess didn't get a glimpse of the chase.

The man, about 30, had walked up to the policeman on the door mumbling warnings about a religious body. Suddenly he attacked the officer.

Other police came dashing out and the man brushed past them into the house.

Newport Wins

LONDON (Reuters) — Newport County beat Torquay United 3-2 at Newport today in a Third Division South soccer game. It was the only English Soccer League match scheduled.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our gracious heavenly Father, Whose mercy knows no bounds or season, we pray today for men and women who are confined in the prisons of our land. Have mercy upon them in the harsh loneliness of their isolation from the encouragement and the inspiration of home and community. Bless the chaplains who seek to bring into their drab lives the consciousness of Thy redeeming love, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Bribery Case To Go Before Assize Court

C. D. SCHULTZ

ROBERT SOMMERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two lumber companies and a forestry engineering executive were committed today to stand trial on bribery-conspiracy charges the Crown says involves large payments to former forests minister Robert Sommers.

Magistrate Oscar Orr in the 16th day of the police court preliminary hearing formally committed C. D. Schultz, Pacific Coast Services Ltd., and Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd.

They will stand trial — probably at the spring Assizes next month — along with Sommers and the C. D. Schultz Company Limited who were committed Wednesday.

At the request of defence counsel, J. R. Nicholson, the magistrate withheld until Friday the formal committal of two more of the accused, the brothers John and H. W. Gray, who were executives of the Pacific and Evergreen companies.

The magistrate agreed to hear defence argument next Wednesday in the case of B.C. Forests Products Limited, fourth company involved in the case in which the Crown charges that some $15,000 flowed to Sommers for his ministerial sanction of certain valuable timber licences.

The adjournment of this case was requested by the defence because of the absence of the company's chief counsel Walter Owen.

As in the case of Sommers, bail for Schultz and H. W. Gray who have been at liberty on $5,000, was set at $10,000. Bail for John Gray who Magistrate Orr said appeared to have a "small part in a big undertaking" was left at $5,000.

Sommers, 47-year-old MLA for Rossland-Trail who resigned his portfolio in 1956 as a police investigation of the case began, spent a short time at police headquarters late Wednesday while his additional bail was raised and then returned to Victoria Wednesday night.

'Machinations on Bank Account'

Nicholson made a strong plea on behalf of John Gray saying there was no evidence of any intent on his part or evidence that he knew or even suspected that money and bonds were allegedly going to Sommers.

Prosecutor Stewart McMorran contested this saying that without John Gray and "his machinations on his bank account, this thing couldn't have been done the way it was."

The prosecutor said that John Gray was "an active participant in the whole affair—a small cog perhaps but a vital one."

The prosecutor traced various sums which flowed from John Gray's account to Evergreen and out again and said that the lumber company was used "only as a storehouse for illicit money to go to the minister."

B.C. Forests Products counsel D. McK. Brown remarked in asking for adjournment that under the law in any case no fine could be imposed on a company after two years of the alleged offence, though a conviction could take place.

Magistrate Orr remarked there was still doubt in his mind as to whether a limited company could commit the offence charged in the case.

The Crown charges that between October, 1953, and September, 1956, B.C. Forest Products paid more than $100,000 to the Pacific and Schultz firms and that these companies split some of the funds with Sommers.

Personality For Canada Near—Pearson

MONTREAL (CP) — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson said today Canada is heading toward a distinctive national personality "superior to that of the country to the south of us."

Addressing a luncheon meeting here, he said Canada must "go forward as a bi-cultural, bi-national and bi-lingual people."

"If you want to prove our superiority to an American," he said, "just answer his questions in French."

He spoke before an audience of about 700 party supporters including 14 Liberal candidates in Montreal ridings. He stressed a need for basing Canada's future on national unity—"on absolute equality of the two founding races, French and English."

U.S., Russia Closer—Envoy

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — Mikhail Menshikov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, said today the positions of both sides with regard to the convening of a summit conference "are closer than before."

Speaking at a luncheon at the National Press Club, he said: "We are sure that if the desire exists, it will be possible to reach agreement on the area of questions to be discussed at the conference.

"We are equally convinced that with goodwill it will be possible now to find joint decisions, if not on all, then at least on some of the international problems requiring immediate decisions."

Island Woman Dies After Highway Crash

A 62-year-old Vancouver Island woman died early this morning 15 hours after she was critically injured in a head-on highway collision that sent her husband and two Victoria men to hospital with serious injuries.

Mrs. William Wallace of Fanny Bay, died shortly after midnight in King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan, despite an emergency operating removing a sliver of glass from her brain.

Mrs. Wallace suffered head injuries, a crushed chest and fractures of both legs and an arm in the car-truck collision four miles south of Duncan at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Still in "fairly serious" condition are her 60-year-old husband and John Caird, 1905 Richardson. Mr. Wallace suffered a fractured skull. Mr. Caird, about 35, was said to be suffering partial paralysis from either a broken neck or back.

Listed in "less serious" condition is Milton Essihos, 1120 Burdett, who suffered head injuries.

All three survivors were reported "resting comfortably" today.

The accident occurred on the Island Highway when a car occupied by the two Victoria men was attempting to cut back into the traffic lane after failing to pass another vehicle, it was reported.

The elderly couple were riding in a small panel truck.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Wallace will be made by Hirst Funeral Directors here. No inquest has been scheduled so far.

New Tension in Korea As U.S. Jet Shot Down

PANMUNJOM, Korea (CP) —The North Koreans finally released today 26 passengers and crew members, including two American pilots, kidnapped by the Communists in flight, but simultaneously the shooting down of an American jet fighter produced new Korean tension.

The release of all but eight aboard the South Korean airliner which landed in the Communist north Feb. 16 was held up for hours because of bickering over the release receipts the Communists wanted signed. The other eight elected to stay in North Korea, and some of them were accused by the South Koreans of having hijacked the plane to take them to the Communist side.

One of the South Korean passengers, Maj. Chung Moo Yung, said the plane was seized by Communist agents, one armed with a .45-calibre pistol and another with a rifle. The major said he was wounded in the head during the struggle.

As the freed group crossed the demarcation line, however, came word of the shooting down of a United States Air Force F-86 Sabre jet by what the U.S. called "Communist ground fire" near the demilitarized zone.

The pilot was seen parachuting "just over the Communist side of the line," the air force said.

The brief announcement did not say whether the pilot hit the ground safely. Nor did it make clear whether "just over the Communist side of the line" meant in the Communist half of the 2½-mile-wide demilitarized truce zone, or in the North Korean side of the zone.

The Sabre was one of two on a low-level simulated ground support training mission. The other pilot returned safely.

The air force withheld the names of both pilots and began an investigation together with the United Nations command.

The air force said further information would have to come from the UN command, indicating that delicate armistice questions were involved.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

Our Social Credit government has the biggest and best of everything, according to Leo Nimsick, the lively CCF member for Cranbrook.

Mr. Nimsick told the house he was so used to superlatives from the government he would not be surprised if it claimed to have the biggest teacher shortage.

Everyone laughed, of course, but Mr. Nimsick continued merrily along his theme. He said the teacher shortage in British Columbia would continue indefinitely unless the government adopted a long-term policy on teacher training.

Both Britain and New Zealand had subsidized the training of teachers and Canada took advantage of this by luring their trained teachers over here.

"The least we can do is to adopt a similar system ourselves," he declared.

Leslie Peterson—probably the youngest education minister the province has ever seen—had a ready reply for Mr. Nimsick.

"It is true," he said, "that everyone likes to come to B.C. and that includes teachers from Britain, New Zealand, the United States and other parts of Canada.

"But I would point out that we do not lure teachers away from their homelands. We only interview teachers who have already expressed a desire to come to this province."

Mr. Peterson said English teachers wishing to come here usually addressed their inquiries to British Columbia House in London or direct to the government.

And then, fixing Mr. Nimsick with a challenging eye, he added that the CCF government in Saskatchewan had adopted an "even more vigorous recruitment of teachers from England.

"The only drawback to this program is that after a while in Saskatchewan the teachers are usually glad to come out to British Columbia."

Whether the young minister was referring to Saskatchewan's politics or its climate was not revealed. You could take it either way.

Randolph Harding, another provocative CCFer, said the famous Russian Sputniks pointed to a new concept of education.

"They have shown us that because we have been living in a very progressive civilization does not mean we shall always be in the lead. Unless we have a highly-trained and equipped army of people we cannot hope to keep our place in a technological world."

Mr. Harding urged the government to provide more substantial grants to encourage students in the "higher" fields of education.

Throughout this debate on estimates for the ministry of education, Premier Bennett displayed an almost extraordinary agility.

At one moment we saw him in the Premier's time-honored chair. At another he had vaulted into the seat vacated by Robert Sommers—the most controversial figure in the House—next to Mrs. Buda Brown, the kindly Socred member for Point Grey.

Then, almost before you could turn a page in your notebook, he suddenly manifested on the other side in the chair normally filled by Alex Matthew, the benevolent member for Vancouver Centre, who was doing duty as committee chairman.

In a House of tired people, the Premier insists on looking blithe and carefree. Whether he really feels that way or is striving to keep up morale is a matter for conjecture.

Back in his rightful place, the premier rose at least a dozen times to close off debate, but before he could separate himself from his chair by more than three inches another speaker would add the "one word more, brethren."

"There is still room for speculation," began Gordon Dowding, the CCF member for Burnaby.

"It's too late for speculation," interrupted a government member . . .

Gordon Wismer, former attorney general and a pioneer of the Borstal system in B.C., returned to the House as a guest and sat on the government side.

He was welcomed by Premier Bennett and Arthur Turner (CCF-Vancouver East) as an attorney-general of eight years' standing—probably the longest term ever served by any attorney-general in the province.

The magistrate's action came after conclusion of the Crown's case with witnesses to testify about alleged falsification of Schultz record books and removal of some of them for a time from the company's offices.

A former private secretary to C. D. Schultz, Thora Peterson, testified that on his instructions she took certain records home for a few days in February, 1955, to "remove them from circulation." She said they concerned minutes of private meetings about forest management licences and that later another employee removed from them letters pertaining to the licences.

The Crown's case is that Sommers while minister—he resigned in 1956 when the government ordered a police investigation—ook some $15,000 in bribes in return for ministerial sanction of certain forest management licences permitting the cutting of timber oh Crown land.

The Crown also charges that all the accused were involved in the conspiracy and that there was an arrangement for a "three-way split" of certain funds among the Pacific and Schultz firms and Sommers. It has produced witnesses to testify the minister got cash, bonds and even rugs for his Victoria home.

Magistrate Orr denied a defence request that a substantial bond be posted to ensure the appearance in higher court of key Crown witness Charles Eversfield who now lives in Los Angeles. The magistrate said it was the prerogative of the Crown to ensure appearance of its own chief witness.

Eversfield was bookkeeper for the Pacific company between 1951 and 1955. When he left he took some 300 documents from Pacific files in photostatic and original form and those now form the basis of the Crown's case.

Eversfield, during six days on the witness stand denied defence suggestions that he attempted a $10,000 bribe of Pacific officials to keep quiet about the documents.

New Russ Summit Note Sent to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin sent President Eisenhower a new message today. It is reported to deal with negotiations for a summit conference and Eisenhower's bid to leading Russian citizens to visit the United States.

The message was delivered to State Secretary Dulles by Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov at 11 a.m. Dulles asked Menshikov to return to the state department later in the day to receive a U.S. note to Moscow on Russia's proposal for a pre-summit foreign ministers' meeting.

The U.S. note is expected to welcome Russia's agreement last week to hold a meeting of foreign ministers but to reject as totally unacceptable Soviet terms for such a meeting.

The United States objects particularly to an advance commitment to hold a summit conference. It also finds unacceptable Russia's insistence that the foreign ministers should be limited to talking about mechanical arrangements.

Menshikov told reporters he brought in a reply to Eisenhower's February 15 letter to Bulganin. He said the Bulganin reply "deals with the questions" in Eisenhower's February 15 letter. He declined to give any other details.

Victoria Day Parade Entry Forms Readied

Entry forms for the "greatest parade in Victoria's history" are now available at City Hall.

Greater Victoria Celebrations Association official, Mrs. Ethel Bishop, said today she has already mailed out 100 forms and expects requests for many more.

A big problem facing the association, she said, was billeting many of the youthful bandsmen who will come here for the May 19, Victoria Day parade.

With deadline for parade entries still months away (May 12), the GVCA office in City Hall is being swamped with entries from points throughout Vancouver Island, B.C. mainland and Pacific North Western states.

Local participation of bands, marching units, drill teams and floats, including a block-long entry by district firemen and greater-than-ever participation by the armed forces, is expected to break all records.

Arrangements have been made to ensure celebrations at Nanaimo will not detract from local parade entries. This year the Nanaimo parade will be held on May 17. Many local units will travel north and many units taking part in the Nanaimo event are expected to come here for the 19th.

Victoria Elks will again be in charge of the parade. Here are some of the attractions already booked:

The New Westminster May Queen entourage and float, the Seattle Police drill team, a group of 50 from Portland's Royal Rosarians, the 150-member Bellingham schools' band, the Mount Baker band from Deming, Wash., Cleveland High School Band from Seattle. Band (tentative), Anacortes High School Band, Nooksack Valley, Wash., schools' band, Vancouver Junior Band (tentative), Duncan Majorettes, Sidney Girls' Drill Team, a float from Kelowna.

All local drill teams and all Greater Victoria school bands, units, RCMP and numerous commercial organizations, are also signed up.

Persons able to provide billets and those wishing entry forms, should contact Mrs. Bishop at 2-3912.

All-Candidate Nanaimo Meet

DUNCAN—The Junior Chamber of Commerce here has arranged for a joint meeting of all four federal candidates in the Nanaimo riding to be held in Cowichan High School auditorium March 24.

Each candidate will be given time to present his party's election platform, followed by a question and answer period.

City Observatory Needs Advance Word on Satellite

The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here is seeking advance information on launchings of satellites so the observatory can co-operate in assembling data for the Dominion Observatory in Ottawa.

"We have to know beforehand when satellites are going to be launched in order to try and keep track of them," said DAO director Dr. R. M. Petrie today.

He said it was likely that Ottawa had some knowledge beforehand of launchings, but this would have to be made known here before the Little Saanich Mountain observatory could compile photographs.

"There has been no sign of the recently launched U.S. satellite Explorer II, as it was launched too far south for us to see favorably in this latitude," said Dr. Petrie, even if it made orbit.

When Sputnik was launched in October it was photographed by the observatory staff here.

Ontario Motorists Happy As War Slashes Gas Prices

TORONTO (CP) — Motorists are gleefully jamming service stations in three Ontario cities to take advantage of gas prices up to 10 cents a gallon below regular price.

The cities are Toronto, Hamilton and Windsor. Five downtown Toronto stations are selling gas at 36 to 36.9 cents a gallon, Windsor stations are selling at 37.9 and Hamilton at 36.9 with one dealer going as low as 34.9. Only standard gas so far has been affected.

Prices are usually 44.9 cents a gallon in Hamilton, 43.9 in Toronto and 44 in Windsor.

All five Toronto stations reported booming sales. One operator said no one has been hurt yet but "if this continues it won't do any of us any good."

One Hamilton dealer said he has quadrupled business with his price of 34.9 cents a gallon.

Twenty British-American Oil Company dealers in Windsor were asking the company for subsidies similar to those given by Sun Oil, Shell Oil and Cities Service.

Auto Workers Win Fight With Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union has won its fight with Chrysler for a 40-hour work week for high-seniority Detroit-area workers and layoffs with unemployment benefits for the rest.

With Chrysler employment in the U.S. currently down from 108,000 at this time last year to somewhere around 80,000, the union argued that a full work week for some and unemployment compensation for the others is a better deal than a short work week for all.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Toronto, New York Both Show Advances

Adding to earlier gains in the late afternoon the Toronto stock market was higher today in light trading.

Main feature in the industrial list was a seven-point jump by Premier Trust to lead financial institutions higher. Confederate Life was off a point at 127. Trans-Mountain Pipe Line paced pipelines to higher ground, ahead 2½ at 45½. Page Hersey added 1⅜ at 117⅞ among steels. Other gains were fractional.

Steels, oils and coppers were briskly traded as the New York market rose in active trading late in the afternoon. Key stocks advanced from fractions to around two points as prices reached their peaks for the day in late dealings.

AT TORONTO Geco Mines, ahead 60 cents at $8.60, led coppers higher. Senior base metals had small gains in Hudson Bay and International Nickel. Giant Yellowknife climbed 20 cents at $5.85 among golds with other gains ranging to 15 cents. Senior uraniums firmed but Stanleigh added 16 cents at $1.95 among juniors.

Western oils were higher in a wide range. Calgary and Edmonton, Pacific Pete and Home Oil were fractional winners. Juniors were paced by Security Freehold, up 15 cents at $4.65 but National Pete was off 15 cents at $2.02.

AT NEW YORK International Nickel and Aluminium Ltd., with a ⅞ boost, were favored Canadian stock. Hudson Bay Mining ran up a gain of 1¾. Canadian Pacific advanced ¼ as the rails climbed. Distillers-Seagrams was up ⅜, Dome Mines ⅛, Granby Mining ⅛ and Walker-Gooderham ¼. Another mining issue, McIntyre Porcupine, was unchanged.

Moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange also saw prices rise. Shawinigan made the biggest advance, ⅝, among Canadian shares. Preston East Dome and Fargo Oil improved slightly. Fractionally lower were Canadian Marconi, Molybdenite and Scurry-Rainbow Oil.

AT MONTREAL trading was active and prices were generally higher today on the stock exchange.

Almost all sections were stronger and the only noticeable weakness was in the newsprints. Fraser was off ¾ to 23¾ and Great Lakes dropped ½ to 31.

Utilities, pipelines, banks, steels and base metals were all firmer.

AT LONDON prices were firm on the stock market today, the first day of the stock exchange's new financial year.

Leading industrials were strong and dollar issues tended higher.

Gilt-edged securities were quiet but trading was at slightly improved prices.

South African gold shares were quiet and no trend developed.

Well-Known N.Y. Hotels Involved In Gigantic Swap

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of New York's best-known hotels have changed hands in a gigantic swap.

The Sheraton - Astor was turned over to Zeckendorf Hotels Corp. in exchange for the Ambassador, which went to the Sheraton Corp. of America.

Zeckendorf Hotels Corp. then sold the Sheraton-Astor to a syndicate headed by Joseph I. Lubin. The hotel then was leased back from the Lubin group under a long-term contract by Webb & Knapp Inc., the parent firm of Zeckendorf hotels.

William Zeckendorf Jr. of Webb & Knapp, promptly renamed the Sheraton-Astor the Astor, its original name when it was built in 1903 by William Waldorf Astor. It is located on Broadway at Times Square.

GRAIN MARKETING

WINNIPEG (CP) — Boxcars loaded March 5 (1957 bracketed) at western points 387 (579) coarse grains 145 (193).

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Most prices were irregularly easier in dull trade on the Winnipeg grain exchange. Declines reflected the easier tones on United States markets. There were no reports of export business in Canadian coarse grains.

Flax had moderately active trade. Offerings were liberal and met only by limited export house and processor demand. Prices were easier.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: the United Kingdom 100,000 bushels and small lots to Belgium and Denmark.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all down ⅛ cent except No. 5 Northern which was down 1⅛ cents.

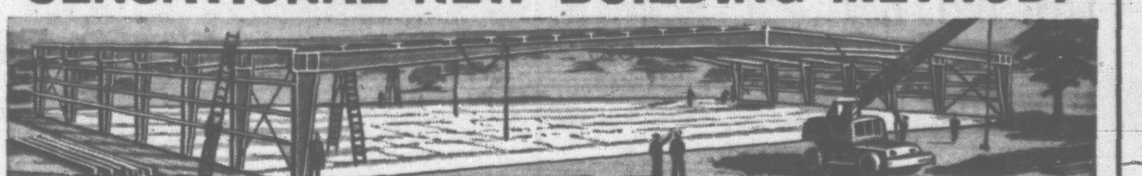
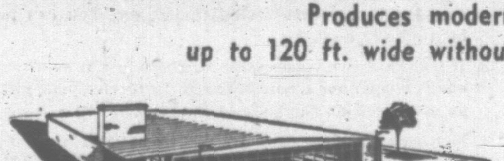
SENSATIONAL NEW BUILDING METHOD!



Produces modern, low-profile buildings up to 120 ft. wide without interior posts or roof trusses



It's the lowest cost quality way to build a . . .
SUPERMARKET • AUTOMOBILE SHOWROOM
RETAIL STORE • COMMUNITY BUILDING
INDUSTRIAL PLANT • WAREHOUSE
GYMNASIUM
Heart of this new building method is a steel structural system for one-storey construction just developed by Butler, world's largest manufacturer of pre-engineered buildings. Structural system is so strong it can bridge floor areas up to 120 ft. wide without a single interior post or roof truss. The building interior is wide open — wall to wall. Makes layout planning easier, permits maximum use of space, gives more eye-appeal to retail store interiors. Roof of building looks almost flat — as modern as today's newest architecture. Costs no more than traditional construction, is weeks to months faster.

Canadians 'Clueless' On CD Admiral Claims

Should Be Shocked Out of 'Apathy'

The people of Canada are "completely clueless" about civil defence and should be shocked out of their apathy by a hard-driving educational campaign, Rear Admiral Kenneth F. Adams, commanding officer naval divisions said here today.

He suggested the term "civil defence" was too passive to catch the imagination of the people.

"We should change this term to 'operation survival,'" he said.

SURVIVAL

"It is not a question of defence, it is actually a question of survival, and this should be emphasized by every means possible."

He said he did not mean to criticize the present civil defence organization, which, he said, is in the hands of experts.

"But people do not realize that every man, woman and child must be ready and know exactly what to do, if we are attacked."

ONLY A FEW

He believed that at the present time, only a few people had the slightest idea of what they should do, if an atomic bomb were dropped, anywhere in Canada.

"Don't forget," he said, "If an atomic bomb were dropped on Vancouver, the people of Victoria would be just as deeply involved as those on the Mainland."

Victoria-born, Admiral Adams is here on his final inspection tour of naval divisions before he retires, in April, as commanding officer, naval divisions. He is the first officer of flag rank to hold this post, and spear-headed the drive to make the reserve a "fourth flag" in the Royal Canadian Navy.

He has held the post for the past five years.

Fire Wardens Would Instruct CD Volunteers

First get the volunteers, then we'll provide an instructor, Victoria fire wardens committee told Greater Victoria Civil Defence Control Board today.

The CD board asked the city to provide a trained fire department official to instruct auxiliary firemen for emergency employment.

Fire Chief J. E. Bayliss pointed out there are no CD auxiliary firemen at present and ". . . we don't know if they are going to get any."

"If war broke out today there would be no auxiliaries and no dispersal site for apparatus," he pointed out. He said also federal CD authorities would have to provide fire fighting equipment for training purposes, before a training program could be started.

The chief said he could provide a man for instruction, but he would have to be replaced in the active fire department.

"If the civil defence board will tell us they have a sufficient number of men who want training, we will suggest an instructor be provided," agreed fire wardens chairman Austin Curtis, and Mayor Percy Scurrah.

STREET DANCING SPACE ASKED FOR SAILORS VISITING CITY

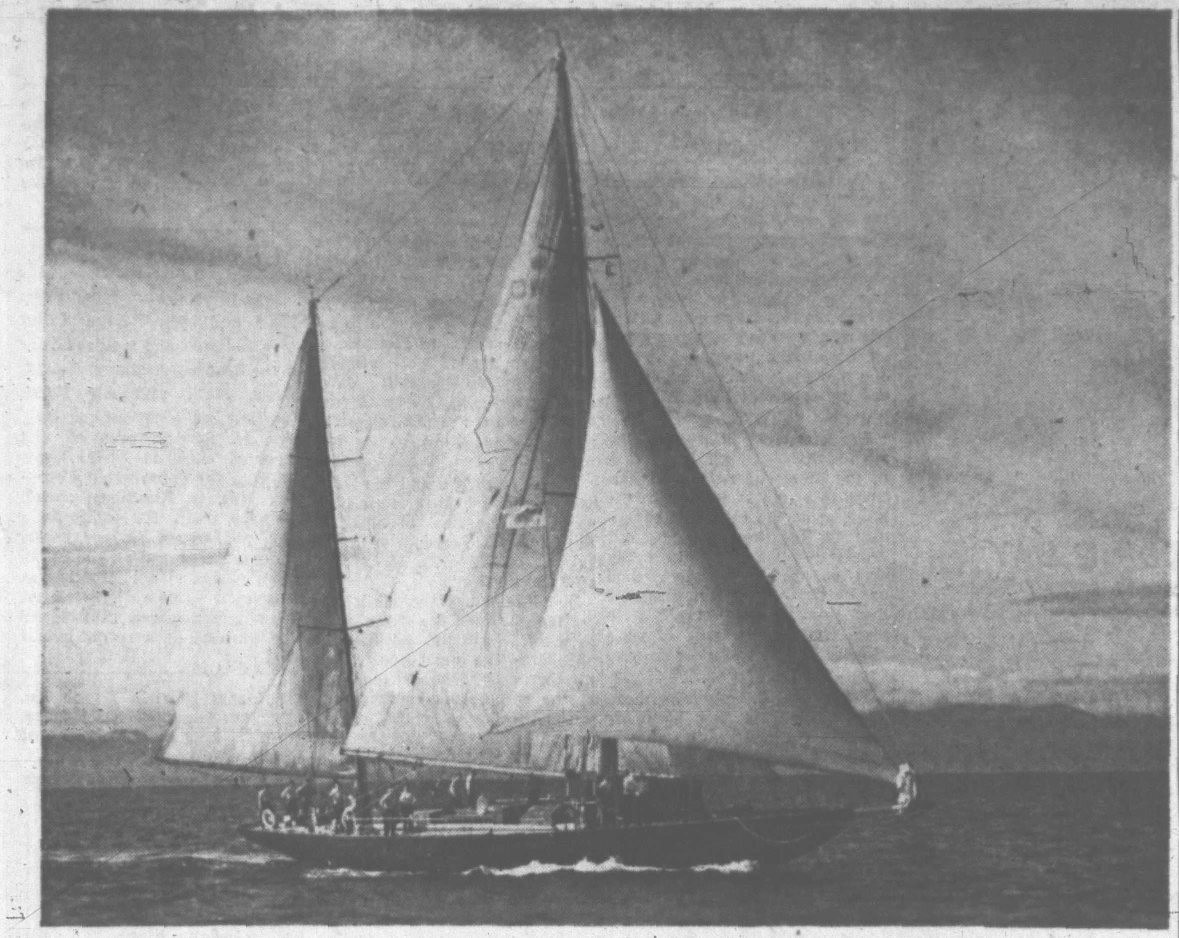
A request to block off Yates Street between Blanshard and Douglas for a huge street dance during the visit of foreign naval vessels in July, was submitted to city hall today.

The dance is planned by the Armed Services Centre. Tentative date is thought to be Saturday, July 12.

The question will go before council for decision next Thursday.



SHE'LL BE 'CLASSROOM' FOR NAVY CADETS

First in a series of four sailing cruises for cadets of HMCS Venture, the RCN's officer training establishment at Esquimalt, in the yacht Oriole starts March 21. The Oriole returns March 23 after visiting Port Townsend and Seattle with 18 cadets aboard. Second cruise will be March 28 to 30 and two similar cruises will be held in April. The cruises are designed to provide practical experience under sail, with emphasis on pilotage training. Oriole is commanded by Lieut. Cmdr. C. A. Prosser.

MONTE ROBERTS

One of the worst of the many perils attendant upon filling a space such as this is the peril of being misunderstood.

I am forever being misunderstood, causing people to take umbrage and threatening to strike me upon the head with a blunt instrument.

And once again I have been misunderstood. But good.

On Monday, I made some light-hearted comments about the curling rink which is representing Northern Ontario in the Dominion Brier Curling championship at Memorial Arena.

I pointed out that this rink is from Kenora, and I said Kenora isn't in northern Ontario.

I said Kenora is in eastern Manitoba and is actually a suburb of Winnipeg.

At the time, I thought this remark was mildly amusing, and perfectly innocent.

In the minds of many people, it was neither.

The comments have ranged from "what are you talking about?" to "Kenora is 30 miles inside the Ontario border," to "Please explain what you mean?"

And I have it on reliable authority that at least one curling fan from Kenora is looking for me with a broom, with which to sweep me under the rug.

Well, I cannot explain what I meant.

And I knew that Kenora is in Ontario.

As for the irate gentleman with the broom, I only hope I can run faster than he can sweep.

I apologize to Kenora, to curlers, to Winnipeg, and to anyone else within hearing distance.

Speaking of curlers—and who isn't—I like the little joke going around about the change from age to youth in Brier competition.

The joke says in the old days, to qualify for the Brier, a man had to be 85 years old and have a four quart daily capacity.

Teamsters May Send Pickets to Victoria

A Vancouver teamsters' local may send men to Victoria next week to picket two city construction projects in retaliation for Mainland lockouts.

E. M. Lawson, business agent for Local 213 of the Teamsters' Union, which is involved in a combined strike and lockout battle with the B.C. Heavy Construction Association, said Wednesday it plans to set up "lock-out pickets" here.

Projects affected would be the $229,976 Government House construction and the $1,169,738 armament depot at HMC Dockyard.

No teamsters are employed at either project, representatives of the contractors said today.

One company representative said he believed the picketing would be illegal here. Immediate action through the building exchange would be taken if pickets were set up.

All told 18 men are employed at the armament depot construction and 85 men at the Government House project.

Robert Milliken, president of the Vancouver Island Building Trades Council, said a meeting has been arranged with the teamsters local to discuss the planned move.

"That's all I know about it at the moment," he said. Victoria teamsters are not involved.

The contracting companies here are John Laing and Son (Canada) Ltd., at Government House, and Commonwealth Construction Co. Ltd. at the armament depot. Both are members of the heavy construstion association.

On the Mainland the dispute has halted construction on Vancouver's new civic auditorium, the B.C. Electric thermal plant at Port Mann, another BCE power plant project at Bridge River and various smaller projects.

Fifteen members of the heavy construction association locked out the teamsters after the union went on strike at Bridge River. Construction workers at the projects refused to cross picket lines set up by teamsters.

Electrician Strike Draws Dual Charges

Strike of 175 electrical workers here against B.C. Electric and Hume & Rumble Ltd. continued quietly today while officials of the two sides accused each other of failing to negotiate.

Jack Driscoll, business agent for Local 230, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Wednesday charged at a Victoria Labor Council meeting that BCE was using "vicious and false propaganda" by inferring that the union had refused to negotiate the wage dispute after a strike vote was taken in January.

He said the only meeting between the two sides following the vote was held Feb. 13 at the union's request.

The company representatives told the union to "take or leave" a conciliation board recommendation of wage increases up to 19 per cent for skilled workers.

"They did say the door is closed," he said. "That's not negotiation in my book."

A company spokesman today said the company sent the union a letter following the meeting stating it was "anxious" to settle differences over working conditions although it would not go beyond the wage increase recommended by the board.

The company letter suggested further talks "but it wasn't even acknowledged by the union," the spokesman said.

The Victoria local, along with some 1,200 IBEW members on the lower mainland, struck Monday to back demands for wage increases up to 40 per cent for skilled workers.

A 1958 Rolls Royce car received about $1,000 damage in a Langley Street crash at 10.30 a.m. today.

Police said David Cooper, 1988 Ferndale, was driving his Rolls from a parked position on Langley when the car was in collision with a large truck at the curb south of Bastion.

The truck was forced into the rear of a parked car, then onto the sidewalk, where it knocked over a steel signpost.

Value of the Rolls is about $14,000.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—From time to time different organizations ask members to save used postage stamps. We have never been able to learn what ultimate use is made of these stamps. Can you enlighten us? M.R.

A.—Stamps collected by organizations usually find their way to stamp dealers who make up mixed packages, or sell them to collectors in bulk by the pound. Stamps are shipped abroad in 100-pound sacks to be made up into cheap packages for sale in other countries.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Professor Asks 5-Year Probe Of Youth Needs

House Committee Gets Recommendation

PROF. W. G. DIXON
. . . co-ordination needed

Creation of a provincial "commission of youth services" was proposed today to the legislative committee investigating the juvenile delinquency problem in B.C.

Professor W. G. Dixon, head of the University of B.C. School of Social Work, said the commission should be made up of both government officials and private citizens.

Its main function would be to formulate policy and advise the government, he said.

FIVE YEAR JOB

Prof. Dixon suggested the commission be set up for at least five years.

At present there is no government agency which has the responsibility of formulating policy in the field of youth services, he said, "and certainly there is little mechanism for co-ordination."

Prof. Dixon also supported previous submissions before the committee urging a thorough royal commission inquiry into juvenile delinquency.

The last comprehensive survey of child welfare in B.C. was in 1927, and the most recent study on delinquency services was made in 1937, he said.

HIGHER GRANTS

Other recommendations in the brief:

1. Increased social assistance rates and mothers' allowances;
2. Higher grants-in-aid to local areas for recreation services;
3. A thorough study of the administration and financing of the juvenile court system "because of its lag behind other social developments in B.C."

Prof. Dixon also submitted statistics showing that juvenile delinquency is increasing in B.C. at a faster rate than in Canada as a whole.

Fireman Falls Through Floor Onto Colleague

A fireman crashed through a weakened floor and landed on another firefighter when flames caused an estimated $5,500 damage to an old Victoria West home Wednesday noon.

A multi-apartment house at 308 Catherine, caught fire about 12 noon and was noticed in flames about 20 minutes later by employees of Ormond's Bakery, on the next street.

The stone-walled house apparently caught fire from chimney sparks landing on dry shingles which were fanned by a strong wind.

Four children their mother and another woman escaped the blaze when warned by employees of the bakery, who assisted in removing a number of furniture items.

The upper floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett was mostly severely damaged. The roof was almost entirely burned from the building.

The rest of the house was damaged extensively by water.

Entries Close For Festival On Saturday

Deadline for entries in the Greater Victoria Music Festival is this Saturday. All entries must be mailed or delivered to the Music Festival office, Western Music Company, 758 Fort Street, before midnight Saturday.

There are 255 classes in the festival covering a wide range of instrumental and vocal solo and ensemble work, speech arts and folk and ballet dancing.

In keeping with the spirit of centennial year, it is hoped to make this the biggest festival yet. Further to mark the occasion there are special centennial classes.

These consist of group music, dancing and speech arts events, each to portray within scope of the media, some phase or incident in British Columbia history. The classes are open to all ages and types of performers.

U.S. ADJUDICATORS

Adjudicators for this year's festival include three of the most successful adjudicators from previous festivals. These are Miss Nellie Tholen, Portland, Ore., piano; Wayne Hertz, dean of the school of music at Central College of Education, choral, and William Cole, University of Washington, bands and instrumental.

Newcomers to the panel are Mrs. Helen Goodwin, member of the School of Physical Education, University of British Columbia, folk dancing, and Mrs. Lily Harper, Vancouver actress, director and adjudicator, speech arts.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court Wednesday:

Emile Francis, Victoria Motel, $25 for driving without plates or registration.

Emma Francis, Victoria Motel, $25 for driving without a licence.

Donald A. Hodgins, Vancouver, $35 for careless driving and $25 for driving without a licence.

Clarence Leslie Ellis, 1434 Hillside, and Alois Waibel, 529 Somass, $25 each for speeding over 30.

Francis Theberge, 4057 Quadra, and George R. King, Kangaroo Road, $35 for careless driving; suspension for Theberge.

Sidney Allan Travers, 335 Richmond, was sentenced to 30 days each on three charges when he appeared in city police court Wednesday.

Sentences, to be served concurrently were for attempting to divert suspicion of a police officer by giving false information, driving while under suspension and speeding over 30.

When stopped by a traffic officer Travers produced an unemployment insurance card in the name of a friend and told the policeman he had left his driver's licence at home.

Trial in Mrs. Leach Death Delayed at Least One Year

Manslaughter charge against Charles H. (Pete) Stoneham in the auto death of Mrs. Jennie Leach of Victoria will not come to trial for at least a year, according to the attorney-general's department at Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. Leach was killed instantly in a collision between the Stoneham car and the car in which she was a passenger on the highway near Phoenix, Feb. 4.

Her husband, William Leach, of the Victoria real estate firm, Leach and Sparks, was driving the car, and was seriously injured.

It was reported the Phoenix court calendar is so crowded the case cannot be put on for 12 months or more.

Mr. Leach has returned to Victoria and is convalescing at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. James Gray. He suffered injuries to the left shoulder, ribs on the left side, and gouges below the kneecap where his legs struck the dashboard.

Mrs. Leach was thrown through the windshield.

The accident occurred when Mr. and Mrs. Leach, both well-known members of Victoria Golf Club, were on holiday.

Stoneham is the son of Horace Stoneham, president of the San Francisco (formerly New York) Giants.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Push Button and Presto—Out Sprays Color Paint!

By PENNY SAVER

It's in a tall can. It's colorful, odorless and, best of all, convenient! What? The latest in a paint dispenser, of course. A little can with a spray attachment to hold new, quick-drying, spray paint. Press a button and a shower of color sprays out to touch up scratched or scraped furniture, and to efface grimy hand marks and other marks. The can costs $1.98.

Anytime is right for snapshot taking in Victoria. But, at this season, with blossoms "busting" out all over, you could add interest to your shooting with a built-in flash camera. The one I saw is fairly new on the market, looks like a dandy piece of goods and sells as low as $9.95.

If you have a yen for taking pictures of flowers or birds close up, a set of lenses can now be had at $3.85.

It's back! That silklike material that came out a few seasons back. It could be washed 'n' washed and because of this got the nickname "tubbable"! It's actually a cotton nylon mixture that looks and feels like rich silk. Dresses, blouses and summer coats could be made up in this pretty material in a wink. It's selling at $1.19 a yard. Want to know where?

Here's a good buy! For 49 cents the wise shopper can have a large bottle of a famous-name shampoo. It's a 79-cent value . . . so why not get some?

Men! Are you continually reaching into the bathroom cupboard only to find that the razor blades are used up? No, sir! No one ate them, borrowed them or threw them away. You just haven't enough of 'em on hand. You'd better buy 100 razor blades for $1 and save!

I'm "penny saving" for you, so phone me at 2-3131 and I'll tell you where to shop!

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Gloves at dinner dance:

I will soon be attending several formal dinner dances. How is the length of gloves determined for full length and ballerina-length gowns? If a stole is worn either formally or informally, is it taken off during dinner or dancing?

Louise Davis

Louise Davis answers:

A skirt length has little to do with the degree of formality for an evening gown and the variations in lengths are current fashion trends and one can be just as formal as the other. It is the design of the gown that determines its classification. The length of gloves depends on how they look after the dress is on. Gloves longer than elbow length generally look incongruous with a short gown. The only thing to do is to look at yourself objectively in the mirror. Long gloves are appropriate with floor length and ankle-length gowns. A stole may be removed at any time one wishes. If it is in the way for dancing, it can be left on a chair and retrieved afterwards. The answer is the same for dinner. If the stole interferes with freedom in eating, it can be slipped back.

TODAY'S RECIPE

APPLE CHIFFON PUDDING

Four apples, peeled and sliced, 2 tablespoons water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup butter, ½ cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, separated, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, nutmeg.

Place apple slices, water and lemon juice in saucepan. Cover and cook until apples fall apart. Force through sieve into the top of doubleboiler. Add butter, ⅓ cup sugar and egg yolks mix well.

Place over hot water, cook and stir until mixture has thickened. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks, gradually add remaining sugar to make a stiff meringue. Fold into still-warm apple mixture along with lemon rind. Spoon into dessert dishes, sprinkle with nutmeg. Chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Connor, 817 McClure Street, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday when they will be "at home" to friends from 2 to 4 and again from 8 to 10, at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Connor, 919 Richmond Road. A family dinner will also be held at the Pacific Club. There are four sons, Leslie, Bill, Jim and Jack, and one daughter, Mrs. Pauline Blakeston, all living in the city. The O'Connors were married in Nelson, B.C., but have lived in Victoria for all of their married life. Mrs. O'Connor's sister, Mrs. B. Pollard, Seattle, will be in Victoria for the gathering. She was bridesmaid at the wedding 50 years ago.

Wise Woman Never Spoils Illusion of Beauty

Every last one of us has a beauty problem of some sort This includes women who are considered beauties. And we can do one of two things about our problem: Ignore it or do something about it.

In this day and age, something can be done about nearly any beauty problem. There is help for problem hair, lumpy figures, poor skin, small eyes, or poor coloring.

But if you choose to ignore your problem and live with it, then really ignore it. Don't think you're getting around it by calling attention to it before others can. Don't feel that you're excusing large hips by saying to others, "Oh, I could never wear that. I'm so hippy." They know that you're hippy and there really isn't an answer to a remark like that.

So, if you're going to pretend your beauty problem does't exist, maintain the illusion all the way by never referring to it. You won't be the first woman who's used this method successfully.

Canadian women have a reputation for being diet and figure conscious. And many of them are. But many more of them are prone to talk diet.

They will, they say as they fork up creamed chicken, begin a diet the first of the coming week. Or, they accept a piece of cake, mumuring that they really shouldn't since they are dieting.

There's only one way to go at diet: adhere to it faithfully. Adhere to it but never refer to it. It is not a sparkling topic of conversation. Learn to say, "No, thank you," when you're offered fattening foods. And let it go at that, without explanation.

An unpleasant expression can rob any woman of beauty, no matter how she may be endowed by nature. The brows drawn together, the gimlet eye, the hard lines of dissatisfaction from nose to mouth do not offer a sight lovely to the beholder.

They make any gal, be she teen-ager or grandmother, look 10 years older on the dot. The forbidding, or withdrawn, expression is the equal of unpleasant expression for driving people away in a hurry.

But a sunny, cheerful expression can, and does, every day, turn a plain girl into the semblance of a beauty. In fact, an expression is a sure thing for making friends and drawing people to your side. The fact is, it's irresistible.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A Tense Face Is Hard on Beauty—Smile, Exercise

Canadian women are noted for their beauty, but also for the tenseness of their faces and the set expression of their mouths. A friend of mine from another country once told me that he had stood at a busy intersection in a large city in Canada and watched passersby for an hour at a stretch and not one person was smiling. Not one smile out of hundreds who passed!

Perhaps that is due to the rushed lives we all live. One of the most characteristic reactions to strain is tension in the muscles of the face, and especially in the tongue. If your tongue is relaxed, you probably are, too. When you are rushed or harried, you will discover that your tongue is about to push through the roof of your mouth. Your jaw muscles also become rigid.

Life seems to be getting more tense with each new bomb or missile, but that is no reason to get frozen faced about the cold war. The mere act of being alive carries with it all kinds of danger — even in the most peaceful times.

People are apt to be jittery for various causes and that is why a truly calm person takes on distinction. Whenever we meet one we are comforted and soothed.

Facial exercises will relax you and also will aid you in remaining youthful in appearance or improving if you already have neglected yourself. Many readers write to tell me of the happy change in themselves after taking these for a few weeks.

Facial exercises and the habit of lying at a beauty angle both stimulate the flow of blood to the face, and therefore are helpful to attractive facial contour and complexion.

Try this exercise which is corrective to the lines from nose to mouth. Fill the mouth with air. Keep the lips closed. Blow the air into the right cheek and at the same time contract the muscles of the right cheek. Rest. Next time fill the left cheek and resist with the muscles of the left cheek. Continue.

Most of the women I know who look years younger than they are take facial exercises regularly. If you would like to have mine send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Bribery Case To Go Before Assize Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two lumber companies and a forestry engineering executive were committed today to stand trial on bribery-conspiracy charges the Crown says involves large payments to former forests minister Robert Sommers.

Magistrate Oscar Orr in the 16th day of the police court preliminary hearing formally committed C. D. Schultz, Pacific Coast Services Ltd., and Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd.

They will stand trial — probably at the spring Assizes next month — along with Sommers and the C. D. Schultz Company Limited who were committed Wednesday.

At the request of defence counsel, J. R. Nicholson, the magistrate withheld until Friday the formal committal of two more of the accused, the brothers John and H. W. Gray, who were executives of the Pacific and Evergreen companies.

The magistrate agreed to hear defence argument next Wednesday in the case of B.C. Forests Products Limited, fourth company involved in the case in which the Crown charges that some $15,000 flowed to Sommers for his ministerial sanction of certain valuable timber licences.

The adjournment of this case was requested by the defence because of the absence of the company's chief counsel Walter Owen.

As in the case of Sommers, bail for Schultz and H. W. Gray who have been at liberty on $5,000, was set at $10,000. Bail for John Gray who Magistrate Orr said appeared to have a "small part in a big undertaking" was left at $5,000.

Sommers, 47-year-old MLA for Rossland-Trail who resigned his portfolio in 1956 as a police investigation of the case began, spent a short time at police headquarters late Wednesday while his additional bail was raised and then returned to Victoria Wednesday night.

'Machinations on Bank Account'

Nicholson made a strong plea on behalf of John Gray saying there was no evidence of any intent on his part or evidence that he knew or even suspected that money and bonds were allegedly going to Sommers.

Prosecutor Stewart McMorran contested this saying that without John Gray and "his machinations on his bank account, this thing couldn't have been done the way it was."

The prosecutor said that John Gray was "an active participant in the whole affair—a small cog perhaps but a vital one."

The prosecutor traced various sums which flowed from John Gray's account to Evergreen and out again and said that the lumber company was used "only as a storehouse for illicit money to go to the minister."

B.C. Forests Products counsel D. McK. Brown remarked in asking for adjournment that under the law in any case no fine could be imposed on a company after two years of the alleged offence, though a conviction could take place.

Magistrate Orr remarked there was still doubt in his mind as to whether a limited company could commit the offence charged in the case.

The Crown charges that between October, 1953, and September, 1956, B.C. Forest Products paid more than $100,000 to the Pacific and Schultz firms and that these companies split some of the funds with Sommers.

Personality For Canada Near—Pearson

MONTREAL (CP) — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson said today Canada is heading toward a distinctive national personality "superior to that of the country to the south of us."

Addressing a luncheon meeting here, he said Canada must "go forward as a bi-cultural, bi-national and bi-lingual people."

"If you want to prove our superiority to an American," he said, "just answer his questions in French."

He spoke before an audience of about 700 party supporters including 14 Liberal candidates in Montreal ridings. He stressed a need for basing Canada's future on national unity—"on absolute equality of the two founding races, French and English."

U.S. Satellite Not in Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—Explorer II, intended as a second U.S. satellite, definitely did not go into orbit, its makers announced today.

Scientists said that the fourth-stage rocket—a 40-inch tube—failed to ignite and did not drive the satellite up to orbital speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

They said the tube-like 32-pound satellite was not protected against high heating and probably burned up in the friction of the atmosphere some 1,900 miles from Cape Canaveral, where it was fired Wednesday.

CAPE CARNAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — "Moonwatch" teams stood by today for a sky search for the newly launched and mysteriously missing American satellite Explorer II.

At the same time the conviction grew that the six-inch metal cylinder, 80 inches long and weighing about 32 pounds, never achieved an orbit.

There were persistent reports that signals from the Jupiter-C launching rocket convinced some army missile experts, within the first hour after Wednesday's firing at 10.28 p.m. PST, that the final stage of the four-stage vehicle had failed to fire.

At Pasadena, Calif., the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built the high-speed upper stages, issued this statement:

"The preliminary evidence is that the last stage did not produce any thrust. This means that it did not get up to velocity. And there is a great probability that it is not in orbit."

Experts said that failure of the final stage to fire on cue would have meant that the satellite, even though it was at orbital altitude of 200 or more miles, would achieve a velocity of only about three miles a second as against the five miles a second needed to maintain an orbit—10,800 miles an hour instead of 18,000.

This in turn could mean that the satellite would tumble into the South Atlantic, or into Africa or the Indian Ocean beyond.

U.S., Russia Closer—Envoy

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — Mikhail Menshikov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, said today the positions of both sides with regard to the convening of a summit conference "are closer than before."

Speaking at a luncheon at the National Press Club, he said: "We are sure that if the desire exists, it will be possible to reach agreement on the area of questions to be discussed at the conference.

"We are equally convinced that with goodwill it will be possible now to find joint decisions, if not on all, then at least on some of the international problems requiring immediate decisions."

Island Woman Dies After Highway Crash

A 62-year-old Vancouver Island woman died early this morning 15 hours after she was critically injured in a head-on highway collision that sent her husband and two Victoria men to hospital with serious injuries.

Mrs. William Wallace of Fanny Bay, died shortly after midnight in King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan, despite an emergency operating removing a sliver of glass from her brain.

Mrs. Wallace suffered head injuries, a crushed chest and fractures of both legs and an arm in the car-truck collision four miles south of Duncan at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Still in "fairly serious" condition are her 60-year-old husband and John Caird, 1905 Richardson. Mr. Wallace suffered a fractured skull. Mr. Caird, about 35, was said to be suffering partial paralysis from either a broken neck or back.

Listed in "less serious" condition is Milton Essihos, 1120 Burdett, who suffered head injuries.

All three survivors were reported "resting comfortably" today.

The accident occurred on the Island Highway when a car occupied by the two Victoria men was attempting to cut back into the traffic lane after failing to pass another vehicle, it was reported.

The elderly couple were riding in a small panel truck.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Wallace will be made by Hirst Funeral Directors here. No inquest has been scheduled so far.

Ontario Shares Lead in Brier

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Saskatchewan, an alternately hot-and-cold rink skipped by young Gordon Grimes of Eston, today became the giant-killers in the Canadian curling championships.

The Grimes' rink turned on Matt Baldwin's Alberta rink to hand the defending champions their first loss in this 29th renewal of Brier Tankard competition.

The score, in doubt until Grimes' last rock, was 10-8.

The result, combined with Ontario's 15-10 victory over Nova Scotia in another game on this morning's round, suddenly put new life into the winter classic after Alberta, skipped by the 31-year-old Baldwin, appeared headed for a runaway victory in the 11-round playoffs.

MANITOBA CLOSE

Moving into this afternoon's round, Ontario and Alberta each showed 5-1 records, with Manitoba's teen-agers close behind. Skipped by Winnipeg's 18-year-old Terry Braunstein, Manitoba moved into contention with a 4-2 record as a result of their 10-8 victory over Quebec.

In other games this morning, New Brunswick posted its first victory in seven tries by trimming Northern Ontario's Ron Redding 10-6. Prince Edward Island rallied to defeat Newfoundland 12-10 on an extra end.

British Columbia, with Tony Gutoski flying a hometown standard in the event, had a bye this morning.

But the big story today was Saskatchewan's great comeback against Baldwin. Alberta appeared on their way to another victory after four ends, taking a 5-1 lead.

Saskatchewan, with all four members curling extremely well and taking full advantage of many Alberta mistakes, then started hitting back. The 25-year-old Grimes came away with a three-ender on the fifth and, after giving Baldwin a single on the next end, tied the game in the seventh with a count of two.

They traded singles on the next two ends and then the game's turning point came on the 10th end. Grimes, who completely outclassed his highly-regarded rival, came through with a great double takeout to kill two Alberta shot rocks. Baldwin missed both of his shots and Grimes "stole" two points on the all-important 10th end.

Baldwin picked up one on the 11th, missing his try for two when he was light with his last rock.

Saskatchewan missed only one of their eight shots on the last end, giving Baldwin no chance to score, although the Edmonton skip did partially bury his last rock for shot stone. Grimes got a piece of that, However, with his last rock and Baldwin went down to his first defeat.

Canadians Smother Sweden

Tempers Flare, Officiating Scored

OSLO, Norway (CP) — Unbeaten Canada took a giant step toward the world hockey championship today by handing defending champion Sweden a 10-2 defeat before 7,000 fans—biggest crowd of the tournament.

Canada has won four straight and this was Sweden's first defeat in four games.

The brawling, hard-hitting match gave the favored Canadians an undisputed lead in the round-robin tournament. They now have eight points, one more than the Russians, who had held an edge in the standings briefly by virtue of a 10-1 victory over Poland earlier today.

Canada and Sweden were the only undefeated, untied teams before today's match.

The Russians, regarded as Canada's chief rivals, are undefeated in four games but they were held to a 4-4 tie by Czechoslovakia Tuesday.

BIG GOAL SPREAD

Besides its point lead, Canada has a whopping margin in goal spread, having scored 60 goals to only three against in four games. In case of a tie in points at the end of the eight-team, 10-day tournament, the championship will be decided by goal spread.

Finland defeated Norway 2-1 earlier today.

Brawls, fights and pandemonium broke out in the 11th minute of the final period. Tempers flared after the referees missed an apparent foul by big Lasse Bjorn, Swedish team captain, against Canada's Jack McKenzie.

Altogether, 13 two-minute penalties were handed out in the final period.

Afterwards, Canadian manager Wren Blair said "the officiating was terrible. I'm going to complain to the president of the International Federation. The referees are not giving the Canadians the protection they are entitled to."

New Tension in Korea As U.S. Jet Shot Down

PANMUNJOM, Korea (CP) —The North Koreans finally released today 26 passengers and crew members, including two American pilots, kidnapped by the Communists in flight, but simultaneously the shooting down of an American jet fighter produced new Korean tension.

The release of all but eight aboard the South Korean airliner which landed in the Communist north Feb. 16 was held up for hours because of bickering over the release receipts the Communists wanted signed. The other eight elected to stay in North Korea, and some of them were accused by the South Koreans of having hijacked the plane to take them to the Communist side.

One of the South Korean passengers, Maj. Chung Moo Yung, said the plane was seized by Communist agents, one armed with a .45-calibre pistol and another with a rifle. The major said he was wounded in the head during the struggle.

As the freed group crossed the demarcation line, however, came word of the shooting down of a United States Air Force F-86 Sabre jet by what the U.S. called "Communist ground fire" near the demilitarized zone.

The pilot was seen parachuting "just over the Communist side of the line," the air force said.

The brief announcement did not say whether the pilot hit the ground safely. Nor did it make clear whether "just over the Communist side of the line" meant in the Communist half of the 2½-mile-wide demilitarized truce zone, or in the North Korean side of the zone.

The Sabre was one of two on a low-level simulated ground support training mission. The other pilot returned safely.

The air force withheld the names of both pilots and began an investigation together with the United Nations command.

The air force said further information would have to come from the UN command, indicating that delicate armistice questions were involved.

NORMAN CRIBBENS

IN THE LEGISLATURE

Our Social Credit government has the biggest and best of everything, according to Leo Nimsick, the lively CCF member for Cranbrook.

Mr. Nimsick told the house he was so used to superlatives from the government he would not be surprised if it claimed to have the biggest teacher shortage.

Everyone laughed, of course, but Mr. Nimsick continued merrily along his theme. He said the teacher shortage in British Columbia would continue indefinitely unless the government adopted a long-term policy on teacher training.

Both Britain and New Zealand had subsidized the training of teachers and Canada took advantage of this by luring their trained teachers over here.

"The least we can do is to adopt a similar system ourselves," he declared.

Leslie Peterson — probably the youngest education minister the province has ever seen—had a ready reply for Mr. Nimsick.

"It is true," he said, "that everyone likes to come to B.C. and that includes teachers from Britain, New Zealand, the United States and other parts of Canada.

"But I would point out that we do not lure teachers away from their homelands. We only interview teachers who have already expressed a desire to come to this province."

Mr. Peterson said English teachers wishing to come here usually addressed their inquiries to British Columbia House in London or direct to the government.

And then, fixing Mr. Nimsick with a challenging eye, he added that the CCF government in Saskatchewan had adopted an "even more vigorous recruitment of teachers from England.

"The only drawback to this program is that after a while in Saskatchewan the teachers are usually glad to come out to British Columbia."

Whether the young minister was referring to Saskatchewan's politics or its climate was not revealed. You could take it either way.

Randolph Harding, another provocative CCFer, said the famous Russian Sputniks pointed to a new concept of education.

"They have shown us that because we have been living in a very progressive civilization does not mean we shall always be in the lead. Unless we have a highly-trained and equipped army of people we cannot hope to keep our place in a technological world."

Mr. Harding urged the government to provide more substantial grants to encourage students in the "higher" fields of education.

Throughout this debate on estimates for the ministry of education, Premier Bennett displayed an almost extraordinary agility.

At one moment we saw him in the Premier's time-honored chair. At another he had vaulted into the seat vacated by Robert Sommers—the most controversial figure in the House—next to Mrs. Buda Brown, the kindly Socred member for Point Grey.

Then, almost before you could turn a page in your notebook, he suddenly manifested on the other side in the chair normally filled by Alex Matthew, the benevolent member for Vancouver Centre, who was doing duty as committee chairman.

In a House of tired people, the Premier insists on looking blithe and carefree. Whether he really feels that way or is striving to keep up morale is a matter for conjecture.

Back in his rightful place, the premier rose at least a dozen times to close off debate, but before he could separate himself from his chair by more than three inches another speaker would add the "one word more, brethren."

"There is still room for speculation," began Gordon Dowding, the CCF member for Burnaby.

"It's too late for speculation," interrupted a government member . . .

Gordon Wismer, former attorney general and a pioneer of the Borstal system in B.C., returned to the House as a guest and sat on the government side.

He was welcomed by Premier Bennett and Arthur Turner (CCF-Vancouver East) as an attorney-general of eight years' standing—probably the longest term ever served by any attorney-general in the province.

. . . SOMMERS

The magistrate's action came after conclusion of the Crown's case with witnesses to testify about alleged falsification of Schultz record books and removal of some of them for a time from the company's offices.

A former private secretary to C. D. Schultz, Thora Peterson, testified that on his instructions she took certain records home for a few days in February, 1955, to "remove them from circulation." She said they concerned minutes of private meetings about forest management licences and that later another employee removed from them letters pertaining to the licences.

The Crown's case is that Sommers while minister—he resigned in 1956 when the government ordered a police investigation—ook some $15,000 in bribes in return for ministerial sanction of certain forest management licences permitting the cutting of timber on Crown land.

The Crown also charges that all the accused were involved in the conspiracy and that there was an arrangement for a "three-way split" of certain funds among the Pacific and Schultz firms and Sommers. It has produced witnesses to testify the minister got cash, bonds and even rugs for his Victoria home.

Magistrate Orr denied a defence request that a substantial bond be posted to ensure the appearance in higher court of key Crown witness Charles Eversfield who now lives in Los Angeles. The magistrate said it was the prerogative of the Crown to ensure appearance of its own chief witness.

Eversfield was bookkeeper for the Pacific company between 1951 and 1955. When he left he took some 300 documents from Pacific files in photostatic and original form and these now form the basis of the Crown's case.

Eversfield, during six days on the witness stand denied defence suggestions that he attempted a $10,000 bribe of Pacific officials to keep quiet about the documents.

New Russ Summit Note Sent to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin sent President Eisenhower a new message today. It is reported to deal with negotiations for a summit conference and Eisenhower's bid to leading Russian citizens to visit the United States.

The message was delivered to State Secretary Dulles by Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov at 11 a.m. Dulles asked Menshikov to return to the state department later in the day to receive a U.S. note to Moscow on Russia's proposal for a pre-summit foreign ministers' meeting.

The U.S. note is expected to welcome Russia's agreement last week to hold a meeting of foreign ministers but to reject as totally unacceptable Soviet terms for such a meeting.

The United States objects particularly to an advance commitment to hold a summit conference. It also finds unacceptable Russia's insistence that the foreign ministers should be limited to talking about mechanical arrangements.

Menshikov told reporters he brought in a reply to Eisenhower's February 15 letter to Bulganin. He said the Bulganin reply "deals with the questions" in Eisenhower's February 15 letter. He declined to give any other details.

Victoria Day Parade Entry Forms Readied

Entry forms for the "greatest parade in Victoria's history" are now available at City Hall.

Greater Victoria Celebrations Association official, Mrs. Ethel Bishop, said today she has already mailed out 100 forms and expects requests for many more.

A big problem facing the association, she said, was billeting many of the youthful bandsmen who will come here for the May 19, Victoria Day parade.

With deadline for parade entries still months away (May 12), the GVCA office in City Hall is being swamped with entries from points throughout Vancouver Island, B.C. mainland and Pacific North Western states.

Local participation of bands, marching units, drill teams and floats, including a block-long entry by district firemen and greater-than-ever participation by the armed forces, is expected to break all records.

Arrangements have been made to ensure celebrations at Nanaimo will not detract from local parade entries. This year the Nanaimo parade will be held on May 17. Many local units will travel north and many units taking part in the Nanaimo event are expected to come here for the 19th.

Victoria Elks will again be in charge of the parade. Here are some of the attractions already booked:

The New Westminster May Queen entourage and float, the Seattle Police drill team, a group of 50 from Portland's Royal Rosarians, the 150-member Bellingham schools' band, the Mount Baker band from Deming, Wash., Cleveland High School Band from Seattle, Band (tentative), Anacortes High School Band, Nooksack Valley, Wash., schools' band, Vancouver Junior Band (tentative), Duncan Majorettes, Sidney Girls' Drill Team, a float from Kelowna.

All local drill teams and all Greater Victoria school bands, units, RCMP and numerous commercial organizations, are also signed up.

Persons able to provide billets and those wishing entry forms, should contact Mrs. Bishop at 2-3912.

All-Candidate Nanaimo Meet

DUNCAN—The Junior Chamber of Commerce here has arranged for a joint meeting of all four federal candidates in the Nanaimo riding to be held in Cowichan High School auditorium March 24.

Each candidate will be given time to present his party's election platform, followed by a question and answer period.

City Observatory Needs Advance Word on Satellite

The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here is seeking advance information on launchings of satellites so the observatory can co-operate in assembling data for the Dominion Observatory in Ottawa.

"We have to know beforehand when satellites are going to be launched in order to try and keep track of them," said DAO director Dr. R. M. Petrie today.

He said it was likely that Ottawa had some knowledge beforehand of launchings, but this would have to be made known here before the Little Saanich Mountain observatory could compile photographs.

"There has been no sign of the recently launched U.S. satellite Explorer II, as it was launched too far south for us to see favorably in this latitude," said Dr. Petrie, even if it made orbit.

When Sputnik was launched in October it was photographed by the observatory staff here.

CCFer Charges Old-Line Parties Won't Help Employment Situation

Election of a Liberal or Conservative government will not eliminate the unemployment problem, Victoria CCF candidate Victor Williams said Wednesday.

Addressing the Victoria Labor Council, he called for a bloc vote by labor for the CCF to advance its own interests in Parliament.

"We have had only two kinds of government in Canada, the Liberals and Conservatives, or a combination of both sometimes called Social Credit," he said.

"Yet despite all their promises, despite all the money and richness of Canada, every year brings its ghost of unemployment."

Mr. Williams said only the CCF provided a solution by its determination to change the social system that creates unemployment.

He said all workers in Canada could put the CCF in power by "two strokes of the pen" on a ballot. It could be kicked out by the same means if it did not carry out its policies of improving conditions.

He said competing capitalist companies "gang up" at election time to support capitalist parties, while the labor movement is "disintegrated" by scattered votes.

Mr. Williams also claimed that "the CCF conscience has shamed, blackmailed if you will," the other parties into doing something for working men, whether organized in unions or not.

"For the last 25 years the CCF has put a big boot on the Liberals' rear to force them to legislate progressive measures," he said.

Mental Hospitals Protests Backed By Labor Council

Victoria Labor Council Wednesday voted to prepare a resolution supporting protests against "unsatisfactory conditions" in B.C. psychiatric institutions.

DEAN SCARFE SPEAKER HERE

Greater Victoria Teachers' Association Friday will hear an address by Dean Neville V. Scarfe on "Public Opinion and the Teaching Profession."

The UBC educationist will speak to the sixth annual banquet of the local association, following a 6.45 p.m. banquet at Holyrood House, 2315 McBride.

"Bell Ringers" of Oak Bay schools will take part in the program.

Earlier in the evening, as an Education Week feature, a demonstration arithmetic lesson will be telecast locally at 5.30 p.m. Taking part will be Willows School students and teacher William Chater.

MLAs Question Immigration Ads

Advertisements in British newspapers give the impression Canada is crying out for labor, C.C.F. leader Robert Strachan told the legislature Wednesday.

Mr. Strachan quoted from an advertisement in the Cumberland News of Jan. 25 last, which read:

Canada urgently requires farm workers, skilled and semi-skilled tradesmen, nurses, school teachers, shorthand typists.

The advertisement invited would-be immigrants to meet a Canadian immigration specialist to talk over prospects of settling in Canada.

"We wonder why such advertisements should appear in British newspapers while we are debating unemployment in Canada," Mr. Strachan said.

"And we wonder if there is some liaison between this government and the Canadian Immigration Department."

The CCF leader supported a motion from George Gregory (Liberal-Victoria) that all correspondence since 1952 between the provincial government and the federal minister of citizenship and immigration dealing with British Columbia's policy of absorbing immigrants be tabled in the house.

The motion was carried unanimously by all sides.

PIONEER HOSPITAL

The first mental hospital in North America was founded at Quebec in 1714, by Bishop St. Vallier.

NEW JOB—C. T. Travers of Ottawa has been named head of the accident investigation division of the civil aviation branch of the federal transport department. This is a newly-formed division of the branch. (CP)

T-BRICKS FOR KOREA

Victoria Paid Third Of Cost of TB Ward

More than one-third of a modern out-patients pavilion for tubercular children of Seoul, Korea, "belongs" to Victoria.

"Canada House," the new addition to a children's tuberculosis hospital, was dedicated Friday.

Through The Times "T-Bricks for Korea" fund, Victorians contributed $9,300 in the four weeks before Christmas toward construction of the $26,000 building.

A further $1,200 came from officers and men of the Army Command in London, Ont., making the Canadian contribution the largest among several foreign benefactors.

Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova of Ottawa, executive director of the Unitarian Services Committee, represented Canadian contributors at the ceremony.

Seoul Mayor Huh Chung presented a citation to Dr. Hitschmanova at an earlier ceremony "for exceptionally outstanding services to relieve the suffering of the people of Korea."

The Unitarian Services Committee was co-sponsor with The Times for the "T-Bricks" campaign here.

Canada House will be used extensively for home visits as well as out-patients.

FIRST EXPLORERS — PEREZ IN 'SANTIAGO' SEEN BY HAIDAS OFF QUEEN CHARLOTTES (1774)

In the 18th century when the first explorations were being made of the northwest coast of this continent there were four nations actively interested in this region—Russia, Spain, Great Britain and the United States. The first to send explorers was Russia.

In 1741, with two ships he had built on the Siberian coast, Vitus Bering, a Dane serving with the Russian Navy, set off to cross the Pacific. Both ships sighted the mainland coast and mountains of Alaska but did not explore the coast.

From Spain's colony in Mexico, came the next explorers of our coast. Spanish colonists and missionaries had been moving northward from Mexico up the California coast establishing a string of settlements—San Diego, Monterey and finally San Francisco in 1776. In 1774 the Spanish authorities in Mexico sent a ship, the Santiago, under the command of Juan Perez (Pay Race) with instructions to explore the coast as far north as the 65th parallel of latitude and to note in particular where the Russians were settled. In the winter of 1774 Perez sailed as far north as the Queen Charlotte Islands which he sighted. He did not land, although (as in this picture) he met parties of Haida Indians in their great dugout canoes.

The next year (1775) Don Bruno Heceta (He Say-Ta) and Lieutenant Quadra took the Santiago and another ship, the Sonora, north again. They landed on the coast of Washington and formally took possession of the whole north west coast in the name of the King of Spain. In a fight with the Indians some of the Spaniards on the Sonora were killed but Quadra continued north as far as Alaska. None of the Spanish explorers so far had made a continuous exploration of the British Columbian coast. They had only sighted it at certain points.

Ice Research By Canada Still Lagging

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is not pulling its weight in Arctic research, officials said Wednesday.

They were commenting on results of an international conference on Arctic Sea ice at Easton, Md., last week. Nations represented at the conference included Canada, the United States, Britain, Russia, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Germany and Japan.

One authority here said Canada has more icebound coastline than any other nation but is doing less on ice research than any other country represented at the conference.

Another official said this situation will tend to worsen instead of improve in light of transfer of the navy's Arctic patrol vessel Labrador to the transport department.

The Labrador carried out considerable oceanographic and hydrographic research in the last three years.

Officials disclosed Wednesday, however, that the Labrador will be confined this year to convoying supply ships into the Arctic.

Times Centennial Feature Tells Historic Moments

The pictorial panel on this page launches a special Times feature for the B.C. Centennial year.

For the next 38 weeks a panel depicting an event from the province's past will appear each Thursday.

The art work has been done by a Vancouver artist, Robert Banks, in co-operation with the B.C. Centennial Committee. The text is by Dr. F. H. Johnson and Prof. W. H. Auld of the UBC College of Education.

As a special attraction for children The Times is holding a scrapbook and coloring contest of the drawings.

The idea is to clip out the picture and text each week, paste it in a scrapbook and then color it the way you think it should be done.

Next November when the series is finished scrapbooks will be judged and a total of $100 in prizes will be paid in silver centennial dollars.

Here are the rules for the contest.

Judging will be done under two categories: Under 10 years of age, and 10 to 14 years. You are eligible if your 15th birthday does not occur before Dec. 1, 1958.

Prize list for each category will be the same.

First prize, $25; second, $10; third, $6; fourth, $4; two honorable mention prizes of $2 each and one of $1.

The Times will appoint a panel of judges whose decision will be final.

This is what to do:

1. Clip out each of the 38 drawings as they appear every Thursday in this newspaper. Color them and mount or paste them in any type scrapbook of your choice.
2. Pencils, crayons, water colors or any other coloring medium may be used.
3. Work should be the contestant's own, unassisted effort.
4. Do not submit any entry until the series is complete. Last date of entry will be announced later.
5. Judging will be on the basis of skill in handling coloring medium according to category of the entrant; taste, suitability and imagination. Originality and neatness will be main factors in judging the scrapbook presentation.
6. Each entry must be accompanied by name, address, telephone number and age of the contestant and birth date.
7. All boys and girls up to and including the age of 14 may enter, except Times employees and their relatives.

Residence Of Princess Gate-Crashed

LONDON (AP) — A young man fought his way past a police guard and burst into the home of Princess Margaret today.

Policemen pounded through the house on the intruder's heels and caught him on the roof.

The princess was at home at the time in Clarence House, where she lives with the Queen Mother, who now is on tour in Australia.

Officials at Buckingham Palace said the princess didn't get a glimpse of the chase.

The man, about 30, had walked up to the policeman on the door mumbling warnings about a religious body. Suddenly he attacked the officer.

Other police came dashing out and the man brushed past them into the house.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Sandy Bates, aged 10, of Atlanta, Ga., for his question:

What Was a Moa?

The story of the moa birds is a tale of tragedy. A thousand years ago, when Leif Ericson visited the New World, the moas thrived on the islands of New Zealand. Then the big birds met disaster with which they could not cope. The last of them perished several hundred years ago. There are no moa birds in the world today, nor will there ever be moa birds again.

This is the tragedy when any creature becomes extinct. We know that its kind can never exist again. For every creature is the result of a long, long history. It developed its form and its habits by adapting to the changes around it. It is the product of ages of changes, accidents and events which the old earth can never repeat.

This is why we fight hard to preserve an animal threatened with extinction. We have saved the bison from disappearing forever from our land and we are trying hard to save the quaint whooping crane. We did not save the glossy passenger pigeon and we shall never see his likes again.

The big moa bird had at least 60 million years of history behind him. He had learned to cope with the climate and bring up his children in safety. He had a good life on the islands of New Zealand.

The moa looked like a monstrous ostrich. There were several kinds, the largest of which stood nine feet tall and weighed a quarter of a ton. Naturally, no bird this size and weight ever took to the air. The moa was a flightless bird.

The ancestors of the moa had been smaller, small enough to spread their wings and fly. But they gave up life in the air and grew larger and heavier through the ages.

About 1,000 years ago, New Zealand was settled by human beings. They were the Maoris, come all the way across the sea from the Polynesian Islands. The Maoris made themselves at home. They soon discovered that the big moa birds made fine food.

Natives Showed No Mercy

The big birds could not escape them. They were heavy and rather slow in their movements. At first they had no fear of man. Later, when they tried to escape, it was too late. It was no problem for men and even boys to run them down and club them to death.

The slaughter went on without mercy. The Maoris did not stop even when they noticed the big birds becoming scarce. They hunted and killed until the last of the moa birds was gone. The settlers from Polynesia were thereafter without moa meat. But, far, far more sad was the fact that a creature was gone from the world in which it had lived for countless ages.

A New Zealand cousin of the moa is the little kiwi bird. This chicken-sized fellow is also flightless. Its feathers are soft and long like silken hair. A kiwi lives in the famous San Diego Zoo, though this is a very rare thing. The little fellow is exceedingly shy of human beings and does not usually thrive in captivity. Do you wonder?

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Al Rhetta Hart, age nine, of Boise, Idaho, for his question:

Why is it cooler at the top of mountains?

Surely the mountain tops are nearer the sun than is the seashore. Since this is so, we would expect them to get more heat. After all, the closer we stand to a fire, the more heat we feel from it. But this rule does not apply to the earth and the sun's heat.

This is because sunlight does not give up its heat to the air. On the way down to us it passes through several hundred miles of atmosphere. But little, if any, of its heat is lost. This heat is saved for the solid earth and the sea.

The air gets its heat from the warmed land and oceans. The bottom layer of air is heated only when it touches warm land and sea. This warm air may rise but, as it does so, it expands and cools. Hence, the higher we go, the cooler the air becomes.

Warm air from below cannot rise to the top of the tall mountains. Up there it is always cool. Even at the equator there are mountain tops cool enough to wear snow the year round.

Crane Attendant Crushed to Death

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) —A crane attendant was crushed to death Tuesday night while working in a General Electric plant here.

Herbert Dietz was killed when a 1,000-pound block supporting a rotor commutator on which he was working tumbled from its support and fell on him.
